

UNION'S POST OFFICE MOVED

UNION, Ore. (Special)—Stearle Delap, who has been here in the bakery business about a year ago, drove back from his home in Wyoming last week, and what he returned to his present home he was accompanied by Mrs. Mae Haight, their marriage taking place on the way. Both groom and bride are well known here, Mrs. Haight having lived here several years, and the best wishes of their many friends accompany the newlyweds to their new home in Casper, Wyoming.

J. B. Shanks, who recently sold out his restaurant and soda fountain business here, has bought a bakery in Pendleton and is leaving this week to take charge of his work in the Round-Up town. Mr. Shanks formerly ran a bakery here and is an experienced man in this business. The family, with the exception of his daughter, May, will accompany him to their new home. May will continue her work as clerk in the post office till after stock show week, at least and maybe longer.

Post Office Moved

The Blue Mountain Lumber Company this last week bought the fixtures in the local post office from the bank and the office was transferred to their new building just west of Union Cash Store. The new location, although less handsomely situated for the accommodation of the public, affords Postmaster Tony D. Smith a much more commodious room. Extra boxes will be installed and other changes made to facilitate the work of the office, which had outgrown its former location.

Although it seemed that Union was done with ebullishments for the present at least, when the one last year was a failure financially, when Miss Jane Thomas, representing the Ellison-White company was here recently she succeeded in securing enough signatures for a two number course, consisting of the Eaton Brothers and a lecture on athletics and physical culture, dates for the two numbers will be announced later. The Presbyterian parsonage is being prepared and gotten in order for rent. Mr. Vaughn, the blacksmith who came here from Elgin, will move his family and furniture into the parsonage as soon as possible.

Mr. Harriman, who was here last summer and became the owner of the Eastern Oregon Meat Market, but who spent the winter in Los Angeles, arrived in Union last week and is looking after matters connected with the market. He will probably leave the business in charge of the present proprietor, Mr. Claffelter, for a time at least. Mrs. Harriman will join her husband here as soon as she closes school in Los Angeles.

Stock Show Boosters Busy
According to reports of the boosters who motored to Wallawa County towns, Pendleton, Baker, and different parts of the valley outside cities will be here for the stock show in full force. Pendleton has promised about seventy-five car loads. Baker is expected to send an even larger number. Enterprise has signified her intention of closing shop and coming in on mass. With Lorena Tricky, Harry Walters, and others here for trick riding, Ben Jorrey's celebrated bucking horses in the arena adds his other attractions such as bullfights, mules and clowns, a much larger than usual exhibit of heavy horses, buckaroo prizes amounting to over $200, and other attractions the management is looking forward to an exceptionally good show.

Mrs. Cara Hooper, who has been in Portland for several months has returned to Union and will be here for the summer.

Birds Released

Sunday morning when the mail arrived there were about a hundred carrier pigeons in crates for the local office. They were all carefully tagged and were to be liberated to see if they would find their way back to Seattle, from where they had been shipped. When the birds were turned loose they circled around and over the town a few times and then rose high in the air and apparently started on their return trip to the Sound.

Rev. Quinn of the local Methodist Church and Rev. Wallace of the Island City church exchanged pulpits for the Sunday morning service. Rev. Wallace was accompanied on his trip here by his father and mother, who are on a visit from their home in Baltimore, Maryland. They are both elderly people, Mr. Wallace being 85 years old.

Everett Taylor, former clerk in the Levy Store, has gone to Casper, Wyoming to work in the oil fields. He left for the latter place last Tuesday.

Miss Frances Layton, who has been here during the school term as a student in the Union High School, left last Wednesday for her home in Layton, Utah.

BOOKS IN STRANGE TONGUES ISSUE FROM OXFORD PRESS

OXFORD, England. (AP)—The Oxford University Press, whose printing activities date back to the later years of the fifteenth century, is adding newly cut fonts of Greek and Hebrew type of pleasing design to its vast type collections. The establishment possesses type for printing in well over 150 different languages including, hieroglyphics, Eteo-Cretan, Gurmukhi, and Chinese.

As is usual in the affairs of men, the Oxford Press is more noted for its errors than its successes. They are the "Vinegar Bible," with vinegar or vinegar in Luke XX; the "Murderers Bible," with murderers for murderers in Jude; the "Ears to Ear Bible," with a misprint in Matthew XIII; and the "Wirehater Bible," with a mistake in Luke XIV.

Your Mind

is at rest . . . under trying conditions

This NEW way solves woman's oldest hygienic problem in a way centuries of women hoped for

THROUGH the ages, women have suffered a hygienic handicap.

Now it has been largely overcome. There is a new way in personal hygiene.

A way that supplants that uncertainty of the old-time sanitary pad with scientific safety.

Today, women live every day of every year . . . not a moment's charm lost. Dance, motor, wear filmy frocks and gowns in full confidence.

The name is Kotex . . . a method scientifically right.

It absorbs 5 times the moisture of the ordinary cotton pad. And that means great protection.

It is as easily disposed of as a piece of tissue—that ends an old-time embarrassment.

It is deodorized. And that prevents danger of offense.

You get it at any department store or drug store, just by saying "Kotex." And that banishes the embarrassment of asking for a "sanitary pad."

It will mean much to you in health, its daintiness and protection. It proves old ways a needless folly.

KOTEX
DEODORIZED

- 1 Protection: 5 times as absorbent as cotton pads. Absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture—and scientifically deodorized.
- 2 No laundry. Discard as easily as a piece of tissue.
- 3 Easy to buy, anywhere. You ask for them by name. Many stores keep them ready-wrapped—help yourself, pay the clerk, that is all.

Will Buy Real Estate Sale Contracts And Mortgages

If you have real estate contracts or mortgages and wish to dispose of them and be free of the inconvenience of receiving small monthly payments that are difficult to re-invest, we have clients with private funds available for their purchase.

Since many companies cannot purchase such sale contracts and we have had numerous inquiries on the buying and selling of contracts and mortgages, we are establishing this service.

The small, inconvenient monthly payments received on contracts make them an unpopular investment for the individual holder. If you have a contract or mortgage for sale, we will put you in touch with a buyer. Come in or phone Main 250.

Passengers Climb to Tops of Rio's Trains

RIO DE JANEIRO. (AP)—New Yorkers accustomed to the famous Manhattan subway crowds would find their experiences of little value in trying to secure a seat in some of the suburban trains serving Rio de Janeiro. The Federal district in 1924 had a population of 1,446,000, but this number consisted of 1,000,000 living in the city of Rio de Janeiro, and 446,000 in suburbs, most of the located on the principal railway which connects with the city of Sao Paulo. Although the road furnishes ten minute train service for the suburbs during the rush hours, the size of the crowds has caused a serious transportation problem.

The traffic superintendent issued a regulation a few weeks ago prohibiting the riding on top of passenger cars, but newspaper comment says enforcement is impossible until better service is furnished. The crowds on some trains crawl in through the car windows in the free-for-all stampede for standing room.

Growth of the Rio suburbs is principally due to high rents, forcing clerks and laborers out of the city.

This movement has been stimulated by the suburban railroad rates, said to be the cheapest in the world. The ticket both ways to one of the villas, located at the end of the suburban zone, a round trip of 20 miles, costs five cents.
