27 YEARS AGO

Daily Morning Observer, June 4, 1898—County Clerk, J. R. Oliver, is over for Union.

Judge O. B. Goodall spent the day in Union yesterday.

Samuel Carr, president of the Oregon Short Line, will pass thru this city this morning en route to Beaton.

The Woman's Relief corps is organizing corps in almost every place from which volunteers have gone. Union county has a fine lot of boys in the service and it is in order to start an emergency corps here.

Arrangements are being made for the closing exercises at Sacred Heart Academy, which will take place at the school hall Wednesday evening June 5.

A telegram was received today by Earl Stevens, rendering him the position with a band and orchestra at a famous summer resort on the lake a few miles out of Chicago.

Owing to the opera house being engaged for a political meeting, Mrs. Beatrice McDonald's social party will be held in the new armory hall, in the church block. The floor has been put in excellent shape for dancing. Professor Thomas H. St. Isley and Mrs. McDonald will compose the orchestra.

TAXPAYERS ARE WARNED.

SALEM, Ore.,—After June 4 delinquent state income tax payments under the 1923 act will carry all of the original penalties and interest, according to the legislature.

Farmer's Wife Finds Astonishing Relief

"For ten long years I had suffered with my stomach. I tried everything without relief, but after one dose of May's Wonderful Remedy, I knew I had obtained what I had been looking for and I took the full course of treatment. It is going on four years now and I have never had any pain or bloating since." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and cures practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all druggists.—Adv.

announcement made here at a meeting of the state tax commission.

Following repeal of the income tax law November 4, last year, it was found that the delinquencies aggregated more than $500,000. The legislature, at its last session, enacted laws for the collection of delinquent taxes, but suspended penalties until June 4 of this year. These penalties now are to be enforced.

OREGON TO BE IMPROVED.

SALEM, Ore.—Senator McNary telegrapher to Carrie Abrams, chairman of the Battleship Oregon commission, stating that the secretary of the navy had directed Bremerton naval officials to repaint the interior of the Battleship, restore its furnishings and make other improvements.

The secretary of the navy also had ordered that the silver service found at Bremerton recently be turned over to the state of Oregon.

The battleship Oregon will arrive in Portland harbor on the first day of the annual race show, for permanent anchorage. It will be maintained there under an appropriation authorized by the last legislature.

Richard Talmadge in "LET'S GO!"

Richard Talmadge in "LET'S GO!" which will be the main attraction at the Sherry Theatre for two days commencing today is a combination of romance and thrills which makes for the highest type of screen entertainment.

The story revolves about the hero-do-well son of a wealthy business man who is literally forced into his opportunity for making good. After having detoured around all the policemen he could think of in his speedy roaster, the young man is confronted by one who had followed him to his father's office. To escape he actually jumps from the third story window of an office building directly into an automobile below and makes good his escape. From that point on starts the most amazing series of death-defying stunts ever shown in a motion picture.

Richard Talmadge, the star, performs every stunt himself without the aid of dummies, doubles or trick photography of any kind. Every thrill in "LET'S GO!" is a honest-to-goodness thrill. Among others there is a fight between the star and two characters which continues uninterrupted over a distance of about two miles.

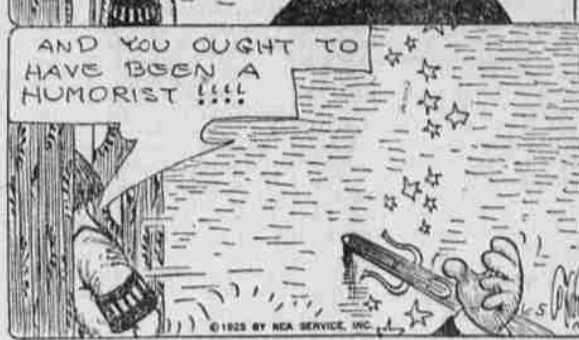

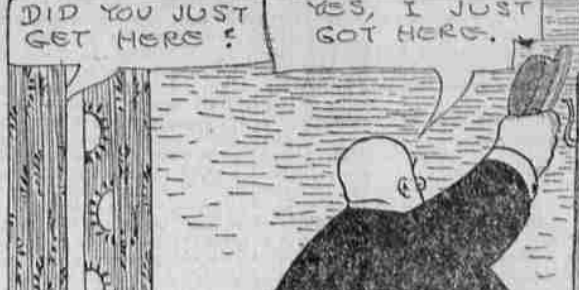

Comedy showing "The Dome Doctor."

"Coming Through," Mining Story, Stars Thomas Meighan.

Something different for Melghan, that's what Paramount claims for "Coming Through," Tom's new production which comes to the Star today.

The story is an adaptation of the novel, "Red Rock," by Jack Bother-

Denny Adds Another To His Triumph List In "Oh, Doctor."

Reginald Denny has added another triumph to the list of his screen achievements by his work as star in "Oh, Doctor!" Universal-Jewel, which was given its first showing today in the Arcade theatre.

But the public who has acclaimed not only his humorous personifications, but his rapid-action recklessness, is due for a shock when he is introduced as an invalid whose principal activities consist in taking his own temperature with a clinical thermometer and drawing the stoppers from various bottles containing nostrums guaranteed to cure, no matter what the ailment.

"Oh, Doctor!" is the screen version of the famous story of the same name written by Harry Leon Wilson and Denny has the part of Rufus Billings, Jr.

Denny's characterization of this young hypochondriac is one of the best things he has ever done. It is a part that might easily have been overdone, and that would have ruined the picture; one is forced to the conviction that the big star must have devoted considerable time to studying the peculiarities of the hypochondriac.

The best opportunity for Denny to emphasize his subtlety of character portrayal comes when, having fallen in love with his beautiful nurse, portrayed by Mary Astor, he battles with himself to overcome his obsession regarding his own health and to act like a normal human being.

He succeeds and then, spurred to great endeavor by his desire to become like the heroes of the novels, she reads, he enters into a series of adventures that almost cause heartfailures to his aunt, his nurse and the three Sphygiacs who have loomed him in money.

In this latter part of the story it is the Denny of "Sporting Youth" and other vigorous action pictures that is on the screen.

"Oh, Doctor!" was directed by Harry Pollard and he achieved something worth while, as he has in the other Denny's which he has directed. The supporting cast is a fine one and includes such widely known screen players as Ollis Harlan, William Monge, Tom Ricketts, Lucille Ward, Mike Donlin, Char-
