RAINS NOURISH 'DEVIL WEED'

WALLOWA Ore. (Special)—The weather over this section of the country has been very cool with frequent rains during the past week. A frost of considerable severity struck here the first of the week, and varying degrees of damage is reported from various sections of the county, to garden vegetables. The frost was not severe enough to do any damage to grain and fruit crops. Farm work has been at a standstill during the past several days, due to the ground being too wet to allow working, while the most of the spring seeding has been finished, much summerfallow remaining to be plowed yet, and some fields in the Leap section are too wet to plow at this time. The "Devil Weed" which infests many parts of the farming sections of this country, is making a rapid growth during the cool wet weather, and farmers are extremely anxious to get onto the ground to get the weeds killed while small.

G. H. Beam made a business trip to Crockett, Ore., and High the latter part of the week.

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian Church here Thursday afternoon for Horace Littlefield, of Minant, who passed away Monday evening, with burial in the local cemetery. Mr. Littlefield has been a resident of the Minant section for many years, and was well known over this end of the valley.

The remains of Miss Vadna Clark, who died recently at Butte, Montana, arrived here Wednesday evening, burial taking place Thursday at 10:30 a. m.

Poisoning Rodents. H. C. Beas and T. M. Gustin, of Lower Valley, were at Mr. Beas' ranch on the hills the later part of the week, putting out snout poison. The squirrels are still very plentiful in many parts of the

STREETS SINK; NO ONE CARES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP).—A vast area of San Francisco is slowly but surely slipping into the sea, but this particular earth movement is occurring so little alarm that the general opinion seems to be "let her slip."

All of the migratory territory is on made land, and it was figured at the time that the vast fill was made that it would continue to settle.

The great Union Ferry building, one of the biggest and showiest railroad terminals in the United States, has settled 14 inches since its construction in 1920, engineers estimate. The settlement has been so gradual and even, however, that no crack is apparent anywhere in the vast structure. Also the rate of subsidence is growing gradually less, as a depression of but 1.57 inches has been noted in the past six years.

The building rests on a foundation of 5,000 piles, which are set in a series of pits made up of concrete to the amount of 16,000 cubic feet.

country, some damage is being done to grain fields, however, farmers do not anticipate much trouble in handling them during the balance of the season, as where other green feed is plentiful the rodents do not work on the grain as much as in dry seasons. Some very good results from poisoning is reported by several farmers, who have been busy poisoning during the past few weeks.

ASH BROS.

It is at the westernmost boundary of the big fill.

When the fill was made a wall more than a mile long and running through a sub-strata of mud 150 feet thick was constructed to keep the lower end of the city from slipping into the bay. This wall was made by driving a channel 50 feet wide and 20 feet deep, and then filling up this channel with great granite blocks.

The land behind the wall subsided, and it was necessary a year ago to raise the foot of Market Street, where the ferry is located, and several connecting streets by several inches.

ATHLETIC GIRLS! Well, here's presenting Miss Polly Poll, New Haven, Conn. When the interscholastic track meet for girls was held at the Merrill School, Manassas, New York, she entered for the shot put, and the cameraman caught her picture as she put the heavy ball over the line.

A Champion in Six Months

A world's champion in six months! This is the future mapped out for Frances Adams, 18-year-old Los Angeles girl. Miss Adams came into prominence almost overnight when she upset the "pop" by winning a 50-yard event from a field including the best swimmers in Southern California. Her time was 29.5 seconds, one second slower than the present world's record. Three months ago she could barely swim a stroke.
