Breaking Records With Ty Cobb in his 21st season of major league baseball...

If he continues to set new marks, it will probably be necessary for him to employ a personal statistician...

Cobb this year is hitting the ball harder and more consistently than for the last five years.

As a matter of fact he recently told me that he would like to hit .400 in his 21st season in the big show...

Recently I worked a series of four games in St. Louis in which Cobb pulled some remarkable feats of swat.

PEAKS OF SWAT Cobb jumped into the St. Louis series in an effort to break the club's losing streak.

After Cobb had made his fifth home run, I remarked to him that his stance and swing reminded me of the old days when he was the terror of all American league pitchers.

For several years, Cobb, realizing that he was losing some of his speed, sought to get more "power back" to his swing.

At the close of the inning he stopped at the catcher's box and made this comment to me: "It pleases me to hear you say that I look like the Ty of old, because after several years of experimenting I have gone back to the style that got me most of my base hits."

COBB EXPLAINS

At the close of the inning he stopped at the catcher's box and made this comment to me: "It pleases me to hear you say that I look like the Ty of old, because after several years of experimenting I have gone back to the style that got me most of my base hits."

For a time I rather ridiculed the slugging style made famous by Babe Ruth. However, the great popularity of the system caused me to fall for it.

"It is a well known fact that all sluggers grab the bat at the very end with the hands close together. This enables them to get a long free swing at the ball."

"While I had fairly good success taking a cut at every ball, the style always seemed awkward to me and this spring I decided to go back to the old grip."

There you have from Ty himself the real reason for the remarkable hitting performance he has already turned in this year.

KELSO WOLVES PLAY PIRATES

The Kelso Timber Wolves who are up near the top in the Timber League standings will attempt to take the measure of all three leaders in the Blue Mountain circuit this week.

The Kelso schedule calls for a game with Baker at Timber today, one here with the Pirates tomorrow and another at Pendleton Thursday.

Three Twines. The Wolves are bringing along three pitchers, namely: Pritchard, Manning and Baker and all three are rated first rate chuckers.

Not much has been said in the local camp this week. The bad weather had made it impossible for the local squad to work out more than three or four times in the last fortnight, but with a good loosening up this evening the boys will all be in good shape to play tomorrow.

The game will start at 3:15. No extra charge will be made for the grandstand accommodations.

U. S. Polo Team Beats Britishers, 5 to 4

LONDON (AP)—The United States polo team Monday defeated the Hurlingham club team, 5 to 4.

The Americans showed the results of their steady practice during the past fortnight and played better than they have ever played in England. This was especially true in the last half of the game which was exceedingly fast.

The American line-up was: Maj. A. H. Wilson, Maj. Louis A. Beard, Capt. P. P. Hodges and Lieut. Eugene McKinley.

Maj. John A. Smith, the American spare man, played back for Hurlingham, the others of the four being the Duke of Penard, Sir E. Horlick and Col. B. K. Wice. Wilson and Hodges of the American team each scored twice. Beard made the other goal.

Being dignified doesn't leave much time for working. There is a possibility that one or two of the men at the end of the list may be displaced.

Dutch Lawmakers Now Find Olympic Games Lead to Loose Living

THE HAGUE, Holland (AP)—Holland has rejected a proposal to grant financial support to the 1928 Olympic games, scheduled to be held at Amsterdam.

In opposing the measure the Rev. Dr. Kersten, an extreme Calvinist deputy, voicing the sentiments of a majority of the second chamber of the States General, quoted as follows from St. Paul's epistle to Timothy: "For bodily exercise profiteth little, but godliness is profitable unto all things."

The rejection of this bill, which carried a guarantee fund of 1,000,000 florins, was all the more remarkable since it was promoted by the clerical government itself. There had, however, been serious divergences in clerical opinion over the propriety of holding an Olympiad at all.

One of these members declared that Hippocrates, Euripides and other famous Greeks had disapproved of the Olympic games. They were, he said, an incitement to wasteful and ungodly pleasure instead of to frugal living as was believed in these pre-Christian times.

"Who remembers how the nation of the Greek Olympic champions?" this speaker asked. "Not one; the names of the great Greek thinkers alone have survived to the present day."

Another opponent of the grant argued that the games led to nothing but vain glory and were destructive to genuine feelings of delicacy.

Curiously enough, the few Communists in the chamber also voted against the grant on the ground that it was a capitalistic undertaking wherefrom the working classes received no benefit.

In vain did the liberal and radical sections of the chamber point out the disastrous effects which the games officially would have on the outside world. They branded their opponents as medieval obscurantists, and urged that Holland's prestige was at stake.

"Los Angeles has 10,000 upon us," one speaker exclaimed. "and if we miss this chance to make Holland honorably known abroad, we shall not have another this century."

Amusement was caused by the admission of one woman member that she had been so confused by all the arguments that she had by mistake voted for. Instead of annulling the bill, as she had intended.

The matter will not be allowed to rest where it is, and influential members of the Amsterdam City council, backed by various public

Survey of Industries In Nevada Shows Big Gain

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The value of the output of manufacturing industries in Nevada increased 63.4 per cent from 1923 to 1924, the value of 1923 being $268,243,000. The census bureau's figures made public Monday, showed the average number of wage earners employed to be 4645, an increase of 24.4 per cent over 1923. Wage payments during 1924 totaled $7,785,000, an increase of 82.5 per cent. Smelting and refining of copper was shown to be the state's chief industry.

GOLF TEAM IS CHOSEN TODAY

The best La Grande has to offer in the golf line will be sent against the teams in the inter-high tournament at Walla Walla next Sunday.

The La Grande team of 15 men was selected last Sunday by an elimination tournament. Thus the entire La Grande representation has been chosen strictly on their merits as golfers.

Fourteen men have been definitely selected, one has his rooms set to play and two are tied for 15th man. The 14 men picked so far are Larson, Elmer Stoddard, C. H. Reynolds, Crewe, C. Bohmkamp, Reuter, Watkins, Freese, Colburn, Dixon, Carr, Nelson, Thibault and E. Stoddard.

Of this group Walter Reuter staged the biggest surprise by shooting a 43 and a 45 for a total of 88 which is getting within two and three points of the best 18 hole scores made.

Harvey Day and A. J. Stange tied Sunday and will have to play his other round. Ray Murphy has been out of town and will play his qualifying rounds tomorrow.

O. A. C. SCHOOL STARTS SOON

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, (Special)—Many new and attractive features are planned for the twelfth annual boys' and girls' summer school to be held at the college June 15 to 27 inclusive.

Classes for local leaders will be conducted, music will be furnished and led by Paul Petri, director of the school of music, and such authorities as Walter M. Pierce, governor of Oregon, Miss Gertrude Warren of the United States department of agriculture, and W. J. Kerr, president of the college, will speak at the assemblies. Many members are expected to attend from Union county. Five hundred club members and 200 local leaders from every county in the state will be there.

The expenses are the necessary railroad fare and $15 for room and board. Quarters will be in the college dormitories, the girls in Waldo hall and the boys in Causthorpe hall, with meals served in Waldo. Club members will furnish their own bedding. All club members in Oregon of good standing are eligible to enroll.

"Busy at all times" is the motto of the club department. Class work will start at 8:30 and last until noon. One and one-half hours will be allowed for lunch. All club members will report at 1:30 for assembly. After assembly the "clubbers" are free to spend the afternoon at recreation of some sort provided by those in charge. Sport shows, movies and parties are examples of the evening entertainments.

The boys will be taught blacksmithing, stock judging, crop production, horticulture, farm mechanics, bookkeeping, poetry, and bacteriology in such a way that they will benefit most from it. The girls' program has been increased, baking, canning, cooking, home decoration, table service, and other home economic subjects will be taught.

Fascists Express Great Faith In Definitions of Their Creed HOME, (AP)—The extent to which ardent Fascists have accepted their political creed as an all-encompassing repository of almost religious devotion, was illustrated by a recent competition, conducted by a Roman newspaper, for a short apt definition of Fascism.

The winning definition was "Fascism is the spirit of the free communities of Italy under the aegis of Imperial Rome." The minor prizes were carried off by contributors who saw in Fascism all of the material and spiritual splendors usually associated with Utopia or with the heavenly reward held out by religion to the good and the pure.

No frills of any kind, but—man, what tobacco! A "fancy" package never fooled any man who knows values. It's what's inside that counts. Inside this Granger package is mighty good tobacco—fine, ripe old Burley with that full-bodied richness that belongs to good pipe tobacco. And Granger is pipe tobacco, made for pipes and cut for pipes. The "rough cut" gives you a slower-burning, hence cooler smoke! LIQUETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.
