French Aviators Plan Trans-Atlantic Flight
PARIS, (AP)—"One chance of success are five in 100, and that is sufficient," said Paul Tarasou, war-maintained aviator, when questioned about the proposed Paris-New York non-stop flight, which he and another war ace, Francis Coll, will attempt this summer.

"The big jump can be made. Given a smooth working motor and a sound navigating plane with a lifting capacity sufficient to take off with enough fuel to stay in the air 30 hours, the Paris-New York flight is no more difficult than several flights performed in recent years," Coll opined. He referred to the American transcontinental non-stop flight, nearly 2,000 miles made by American aviators in 1923 as just as hazardous as the proposed ocean flight. Expert mechanics are now busy tuning up the motor, while plane builders are putting the finishing touches to the machine. The latter part of July has been fixed as the probable time.

Hints for the Housewife
To give a beautiful luster to cut or plain glass, rub over with a peeled potato. Then wash and dry in the usual way.

A small mah-securtain rod, attached with brackets to the under-edge of the sewing table, is excellent for holding spools of thread. They are always in place.

Shop At Home
--first

Years ago people went into the market place "to shop." They went, not knowing what they would find, its price or its worth. Weary hours were spent in inspection, in bargaining and buying.

Today manufacturers are bringing the market place to your home. Every time a newspaper comes, a host of people are ringing your door-bell. Merchants and manufacturers are waiting on the doorstep to spread their goods at your feet for you to look at—to inspect at leisure and in comfort.

Don't let the opportunity that advertisements offer you slip by. No matter what you want, clothing, groceries, a fountain pen or a farm, you will find the "better" ones in the advertising columns.

The advertisements tell you where you can get what you want. They are a guarantee of worth that protects your purchase.

Buying with a definite knowledge is so much better than shopping at random. Study the advertisements
