JUDGE DENIES ANY "BAITING" OF TOURISTS

be done about tourist baiting in La Grande. It is not sufficient to warn travelers to avoid the town. They must go through but they are not stopping any longer than necessary because of this reputation."

In closing, Judge Brady remarked that when John L. Brady, the editor, was on trial he was of the opinion that he should be allowed to go free because he had made the mistake of taking the wrong road and thought that he was right in trying to make up time. But the judge couldn't see it that way.

LA GRANDE LEAD CUT BY BAKER

the management of the La Grande club released Williams, shortstop, and Dutch Holtz, first baseman, today, and more releases may follow within a few days. Harris French, manager of the Pirates, has several men in prospect to fill the vacancies and expects to have the club up to winning strength for the return game with Baker here, next Sunday.

Peculiar Situation Exists.

La Grande still retains a one-game lead over Baker and Pendleton with six games won and three lost. Baker and Pendleton are tied for second with five games on the credit side and four on the debit column. Walla Walla is in the cellar with two games won and seven lost. The league thus presents a peculiar situation with three teams above .500 and one below .250. Should La Grande lose to Baker next Sunday and Pendleton win a return game with Walla Walla, all three teams would be tied for first place in the league.

La Grande	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Runs	0	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	— 3
Hits	0	1	2	1	1	0	0	1	0	— 7
Baker
Runs	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	1	*	— 6
Hits	1	0	1	2	2	4	1	2	*	—10

Batteries: La Grande: Helm and Barth; Baker: Brandt and Sowers.

PENDLETON IS VICTOR

PENDLETON (Special). — Pendleton and Baker maintained their tie for second place in the Blue Mountain league when Pendleton defeated Walla Walla, 4 to 2, and Baker walloped La Grande, 6 to 3 in today's games.

Pendleton won on its ability to connect with Parris' offerings at opportune moments. Dunlap, southpaw ace, let the Walla Walla club down with two hits, one in the first and one in the ninth, while Parris allowed but six hits and struck out eight. Dunlap whiffed 14.

Pendleton scored one run in the second, third, fourth and sixth.

In the first of the ninth with Blackman on base, O'Rourke lambasted one of Dunlap's offerings into deep center field for a home run.

For Pendleton Harstad knocked out a four-base clut in the sixth with no one on. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Walla Walla	2	7	5
Pendleton	4	6	4

POLICE ROUND UP GANGSTERS

CHICAGO (AP)—While Chicago gangland staggered under the most terrific blow in its history, guns blazed Sunday morning, sending one man to the hospital with dangerous wounds and intensifying the police drive against the underworld precipitated by the killing of Charles Tremblay, habitue of the Blue Goose inn, was the victim of the unkown assailants. The shooting was witnessed by 50 persons.

Meanwhile the consolidated forces of the police department, state's attorney's offices and sheriff are waging a drive against violence which at 6 o'clock Sunday night was officially reported to have netted arrests of 200 suspects.

Six thousand policemen spurred on by Chief of Police Collins' order that by Monday every gangster must be behind the bars, searched for their quarry throughout the city and in some sections made practically a house-to-house drive. Arms, ammunition and liquor were confiscated.

COMPANY GETS HIGH RATING

Jackson it is not a very beautiful place. It is situated on a level prairie covered with short grass. The soil is rocky and very hard.

Upon arriving in camp the company began driving tent pegs and arranging cots. Tom Gwilliams, Sidney Reed and Cecil Stiles were given K. P. for the day. The men worked steadily until about 1:30 o'clock when dinner was served. The dinner consisting of fried ham, mashed potatoes, peas, jam and coffee, was pronounced a success.

After dinner the assembly was sounded and the company fell in for squad arrangement and test pitching demonstration. At 5 the company was turned loose and most of the men went to Medford. In the special details were Russell Price and Milford Wheeler, orderlies, and Kenkies, Gates and Shanks, guard duty.

Cleanliness the Watchword

Each squad is assigned to a tent and is responsible for it and the street directly in front of it. Cleanliness is the watchword of the camp. Every effort is being made by the officers to make the camp cleaner and more convenient.

If the plans of the Medford Chamber of Commerce are carried out the success of the camp is assured. The program includes free dances and movies, auto trips, music, etc.

FIVE FAR WESTERN TEAMS ENTER FOR POLO TITLE

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Preliminary play to the national polo championship will begin August 15 when five teams from the western Rocky Mountain division meet here in an elimination tournament.

From the teams entered will be selected a quartet to contest with the tournament winner of the Eastern Rocky Mountain division, which will be determined at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., June 27.

Divisional winners will compete in the national inter-circuit tournament to be held at Philadelphia next fall.

The five teams entered in the western mountain sections are: Broadmoor and Colorado Springs, both of this city; the army officers' fours from Fort D. A. Russell, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Fort Meade, South Dakota; and the Wichita, Kan., quartet.

The Broadmoor team at present reigns a favorite, having numbered among its players several gathered from the famous Midwick team of Los Angeles.

What official Washington can't understand is why almost every Chinese who comes to this country for an education returns home a "red radical." American education doesn't work that way on most Americans. Why has it so jazzy an effect on the Chinese?

The correct answer is that it isn't so.

The facts are these:

"Treat 'em rough," is the attitude of the typical foreign resident of China toward the Chinese.

Governmentally America has been more considerate of China than any other country—except recently and doubtless for her own purposes, Russia. But the average individual American in China treats the Chinese much as they're treated by the rest of the foreign sojourners there — harshly, arrogantly, often even abusively, to the point of blows.

The masses of the Chinese, peaceable and patient far past virtue's point, and too densely ignorant and downtrodden to possess a spark of spirit or so much as realize what they're being subjected to, accept all this as part of their day's work and say nothing.

But when an occidentally-trained young Chinaman returns to his native land, with western ideas bred into his mind and much of his racial meekness bred out of it, it angers him to see his countrymen knocked about without representing it. "I wouldn't stand that," he advises. "He's a Bolshevik," exclaims every foreigner within hearing. They honestly think so, too, and that's the way the news is sent back home.

That Russia seeks to win the Chinese to herself by arousing antagonism among them against the rest of the world probably is true. The worst of it is that the rest of the world's behavior toward China has been such as to make this pretty easy to do.

Eager for Love!

She worked in a "Bargain Basement." Just a poor girl. But glamorous. Eager to live. Who wanted happiness. Had never had a good time. Had never had love. And a man came along. A millionaire. Her millionaire. Promises. Playing with love. For a week. And after that. Back to work. Memories. Then, a big surprise. Oh! She marvelled. She danced. She cried. With joy. See her!
