La Grande Theatres

"Sally" Scores Hit for Colleen At the Arcade.

All the charm that marked Ziegfeld's stage production of "Sally" is caught and enhanced in First National's screen version of the same play, with Colleen Moore in the title role.

"Sally" is the attraction at the Arcade theater today and Saturday. It is a colorful and delightful story, beautifully photographed and "staged," and the direction of Alfred E. Green is worthy of the highest praise.

Colleen Moore established herself beyond question with such successes as "Planting Youth" and "So Big," but in "Sally" she rises to even greater heights. Her role of the forlorn little drudge in the orphanage, who through sheer force of her own character rises to the fame of a great dancer, affords the star wide opportunities for the exercise of her talents. Miss Moore has long shown a decided penchant for boyishish comedy and this she indulges in to the fullest. She also takes advantage of the moments of poignant pathos which are provided her and likewise reveals an ability to "get her teeth into" a bit of real drama when the plot tosses it her way.

First National has not attained in the least on either cast or production. The sets are truly lavish, notably those showing the Elm Tree Inn and the lawn sets of a multi-millionaire. The photography also sets one to high praise.

In the cast Miss Moore has Lloyd Hughes as her leading man, while the chief comedy role is in the hands of Leon Errol, who created the same part in Ziegfeld's stage version. Errol is at his funniest on the screen.

Others who lend their able efforts are Marie Steadman, John T. Murray, Dan Mason, Eva Novak, Itay Hallor, Carlo Schipa, E. H. Calvert and others.

"Thundering Herd" Now Showing At The Star.

"The Thundering Herd," which opens a three days' run at the Star theater today, is bound to appeal to all levels of humanity. It will be hailed with the keenest delight by the average movie-goer because it contains some brand new thrills and bristles with exciting action. It will move with the universal favor of the younger generations because it combines just the right proportions of drama and romance. And it is certain to attract the scholar and student because of its historical background.

The picture is based on Lucien Hubbard's adaptation of Zane Grey's famous novel, and is a story of the lawless west of 1870-75 when vast herds of buffalo roamed the plains and the Indian war cry was a thing of terror.

Briefly, it deals with the hardships of a caravan of pioneers who abandon their farms in the middle west and make a drive for the buffalo fields of Wyoming and Montana at that time a wilderness inhabited by hostile Indians. More particularly, the story concerns the

Foreign Trade Convention On

SEATTLE, (AP)—In an address before the National Foreign Trade convention today on "American Banking and World Rehabilitation," Henry M. Robinson of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, declared it unwise, under normal conditions, for American bankers to impose conditions upon foreign borrowers so as to protect American producers and manufacturers.

Emphasizing that he was discussing the subject solely from the standpoint of practical business, he said the free movement of credit outweighs any disadvantages. In the present situation bankers must consider that loans should be made with a view to their effect on the business life of the country.

"Laughing at Danger" Opens Two-Day Run At Sherrys.

In "Laughing at Danger," at Sherrys today and tomorrow, Richard Talmadge has found an almost perfect starring vehicle for his remarkable talents, providing as it does spectacular action, delicate romance and humor blended in almost equal quantities.

When spectators see what Mr. Talmadge is required to do in "Laughing at Danger" they will be surprised that he comes thru alive. But a small matter like that proves no handicap to the young star, who stands off immovable foes, including a gang of international spies bent on stealing a "death ray" machine during the course of the picture.

Even Novak is cast in the chief feminine role opposite the redoubtable stunt-actor, and she proves a lovely foil for his daring exploits. Talmadge has the part of Alan Livingston, a young society captain who becomes bored with life when his sweetheart deserts him. The events which follow prove conclusively that life still holds quite a bit of interest for him.

Lee Moran in his latest comedy "His High Horse" is also being shown.

The ancient Babylonians counted in terms of sixties. As the earliest astronomers were accustomed to this reckoning, the figure 60 was naturally adopted in the earliest methods of timekeeping. The "minute" stood for something very small or minute. When the minute was split up it was the second split, hence our "seconds."

Butcher Rejoices Over Wife's Recovery

"My wife suffered for five years and practically lived on toast and hot water. Doctors said she would have to be operated for gall stones. A lady advised her to try MYER'S Wonderful Remedy and after taking 4 bottles over two weeks ago, she has been entirely well ever since." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One does not believe or money refunded at all druggists.—ADV.
