Frozen Feet Barred Explorer Dashing to Pole With Peary

CHICAGO, (AP)— An indelible spirit of optimism together with a confidence in himself which has its reaction in all members of his party, are characteristics which have brought Donald B. MacMillan through many a "jam," ice and otherwise, and which figured strongly in obtaining for him two modern assets to his present Arctic expedition—airplanes and radio.

These qualities, supplemented with knowledge and experience of a region in which he has explored for 17 years, first impressed MacMillan's chief of radio, Eugene F. McDonald, Jr., who also in this trip is second in command and in charge of the Peary, one of the two ships. When McDonald had been "sold," he went with MacMillan through official Washington in quest of air service cooperation, resulting in Secretary Wilbur assigning three planes and personnel and approving the expedition for its "sound, safe planning."

MacMillan is a professor anthropology at Bowdoin College, his alma mater, on leave of absence. It was at Bowdoin, where he figured 17 cents a day was sufficient to live on while he educated himself, that he first came in contact with Admiral Peary, of whom he is a great student and admirer. MacMillan was with the Peary expedition in 1909 which discovered the North Pole, solely because of their college association. MacMillan's first ship on his own account was purchased with funds raised by his college chums and was named the Peary. MacMillan is unmarried.

When Peary discovered the pole, MacMillan was left behind on the final dash because his feet were frozen and the warmth from Peary's naked chest had failed to aid in thawing them. MacMillan had neglected to line his boots with grass. On two nights Peary opened his garments and slept with MacMillan's feet on his chest. But it was of no avail. Peary then took with a negro, Matt Henson, who was a man described as of physical perfection and of an exceptional ability in relations with the Eskimos. Peary to this day is the only white man to have visited the pole.

MacMillan became a lieutenant commander in the U. S. Naval reserve on last February 7, shortly after becoming 51 years of age. He was born the son of a sea captain in Provincetown, Mass. He later became an orphan and was reared by a strange family. He was graduated from Bowdoin in 1898 with the degree of bachelor of arts. Much of his revenue came from employment in summer hotels, doing every sort of job.

After the memorable trip with Peary in 1908-09, MacMillan made a second trip to northern Labrador in 1910, to which he again returned in 1911, and 1912. Bowdoin College in 1918 honored him with a degree of Master of Arts. In 1913, he headed the Crocker Land expedition, intending to be in the Arctic one year. He returned four years later. It was on this expedition that he proved his generalship as an Arctic explorer, when, short of provisions, he fed his men for nearly three years on the food of the Eskimo and brought his men out in better condition than when they started.

Bowdoin college tendered MacMillan the degree of Doctor of Science in 1918. He headed the Hudson Bay expedition in 1920, the Baffin land expedition in 1921 and 1922 and the North Greenland expedition during 1923 and 1924.

His present expedition, the most elaborately planned of them all, will return to civilization somewhere around October 1, if those plans are not upset. It was made possible financially by the aid of the National Geographic Society and the U. S. Navy, under which title the exploration is being made. MacMillan's only source of income is from his pictures and lectures which heretofore has always been reinvested in another polar trip.

Late Rains in California Upset Outdoor Movie Plans

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Unusually late rains in southern California this spring not only damaged fruit and grain to some extent but also retarded film crops. Movie producers of Hollywood report a loss of more than $500,000 due to the unseasonal rainfall.

After the middle of April film producers, expecting clear days, prepared for outside scenes. The late rains upset all calculation, forced important "takes" to be suspended, and in some cases, compelled the use of expensive indoor sets for pictures which could have been made more economically out of doors.

Will You Have the Money When Your Younster is Ready For College?

Fifty or sixty dollars a month for a son or daughter in college is more of a load than some parents are able to carry—especially if that is an expenditure that has to be continued for four years.

How is the moderate income going to provide the advantages of higher educations without having it become too great a burden?

Many far-sighted parents are providing an education fund in the Building & Loan Association. With a saving of only $14 a month for 104 months, a total of $2000 is matured at the end of that time—$1456 of which has been actually saved and the balance earned at the guaranteed rate of 7 per cent interest.

Such a fund makes the college education problem easy—and the money is accumulated without noticing it.

Proper Use of Hands and Feet Figure in Landing Screen Jobs

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., (AP)—Hands and feet how and when they move, are attracting the casting directors of one film studio here, rather than faces and their expressions.

Almost any person can be taught to register certain standard emotions, such as grief, joy and fear, according to Director Robert G. Vignola, but only a real actor knows what to do with his hands and feet and how to do it naturally.

The result has been that Vignola and his staff now are directing their inquiring glances no higher than the waist lines of film applicants. If the hands and pedal extremities make good, then the faces are considered.

Irish Shipping Interests To Start Navigation School

DUBLIN, (AP)— A conference of shipowners, brokers and others interested, has decided to establish a school of navigation. The private school which hitherto met this need has been closed since last February. In addition to the training of seamen and ships officers in the subjects necessary to qualify them for certificates as masters and mates, the new school is expected to provide instruction for fishermen desiring certificates as skippers and second hands, and for boys desiring to follow a sea career.

NOW YOU MAY TRY THIS VEGETABLE SYRUP FREE

This Is Your Chance to Prove That Toning Up Your Liver Will End That Tired, Run-Down Feeling. Build Yourself Up! Win Back Sound Digestion, Strength and Energy—Feel Your Very Best Again!

In his private practice Dr. H. B. Thacher demonstrated that such symptoms as Indigestion, Gas on a Sour Stomach, Belching, Dizziness, Colds that Hang On, Sick Headaches, Constipation, that Tired Feeling and a general Run-Down condition of the System are often the result of a Sluggish Liver—and that relief in such cases comes quickly when the Liver is properly Cleansed and Toned and the System is working normally again.

Why This Gives Relief

When working as Nature intended your Liver does three things necessary to keep you feeling your best. First, it purifies your BLOOD, every drop of which passes through the Liver every fifteen minutes. Second, your Liver furnishes the enzymes that are essential to perfect DIGESTION. Third, your Liver supplies the secretions Nature uses to lubricate your intestines so that your bowels can move naturally, gently and regularly every day. When your liver becomes sluggish it cannot do these three things; consequently, you suffer from one or more of the symptoms above described.

Share It With Family!

Just to prove to you that you CAN get quick RELIEF, druggists are giving away FREE liberal trial size bottles of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.
