

NEWS of SOCIETY

Honoring her house guests, Mrs. H. H. Thomas and Miss Helen Thomas, of Salt Lake City, Utah, Mrs. Earl Stoddard entertained the members of the Clio Club and a few guests at an attractively appointed bridge luncheon yesterday afternoon at her home on O Avenue.

At 1:15 o'clock an excellent three course luncheon was served with covers laid for twenty-five, after which five tables of bridge were at play. The home was decorated with beautiful pastel shades, sweet peas being used.

Mrs. F. L. Kallala won high scores among the club members and the guest prize went to Mrs. P. B. Appleby.

Forty children, members of the L. D. S. Primary department, spent Tuesday afternoon from 1:30 until four o'clock picnicking at Riverside Park.

Various games and reading in the center was enjoyed during the afternoon, after which refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake and soda pop were served.

BEAUTY SPECIALISTS MUST HAVE LICENSE
SALEM, (Special)—It will be a violation of the law to engage in hair dressing, facial massage or skin treatment after July 31, 1925, without a state license. The office of the State Board of Health is receiving applications and it is absolutely necessary that all operators file at an early date.

Any one who has been actively engaged in cosmetic therapy six months prior to July 31, 1925 will be entitled to a license by exemption. Those applying at once can receive a license without an examination. All those applying after July 31, 1925, will be required to take an examination.

It is estimated that there are over two thousand cosmeticians operating in this state. To properly take care of the licensing thereof means a great deal of work and it will therefore be well to get applications in at as early a date as possible. No cosmetician will be allowed to operate after July 31, 1925 without a license.

Sister Mary Says:

Breakfast—Grape fruit, scrambled eggs with rice, bran muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Cream of potato soup, croquettes, lettuce salad, raisin and cheese sandwiches, cherries and rice a la Conde, milk, tea.

Dinner—Fruit cocktails, broiled stein steak, mashed potatoes, fried summer squash, tomato and peas salad, raspberry water ices, iced cakes, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

Finely chopped raisins combined with cottage or cream cheese make a delicious sweet filling for children's sandwiches. Dates can be used in place of raisins with orange juice to moisten.

Cherries and Rice a la Conde
Three-fourths cup rice, 2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup sugar, lemon peel, 2 eggs (yolks), 2 cups cherries, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Cook rice in milk until almost done. Add sugar, butter and lemon and more milk if necessary and continue cooking until rice is tender. Remove lemon peel and beat in the well-beaten yolks of eggs. Arrange rice in a mound in a deep serving dish. Make a stir-up of the sugar and water. Add cherries, spices and lemon juice, and stew until cherries are tender. Drain cherries from syrup and reduce syrup by rapid boiling until thick. Sprinkle cherries over rice mound, pour over syrup and serve hot.

SPONGE CAKE WITH PIQUANT SAUCE
There is something about the fairy-like lightness of sponge cake which makes it a summertime cake. It is always associated with warm weather entertaining and lends itself to many variations of serving.

Sponge cake with any kind of fruit sauce makes a delightful and palatable dessert, but a piquant berry sauce makes it more intriguing and attractive to the eye, and has an added appeal to the palate. Place a pint of raspberries and a pint of currants in an enameled ware saucepan, add two cupsful of sugar and let stand for an hour or so to draw juice. Enamelled ware is impervious to the action of fruit and vegetable acids, so there will be no danger of the fruit affecting it or becoming affected by it. Then cook until the fruit is soft enough to press through an enameled ware colander or sieve to remove the seeds. While still warm, add additional sugar if desired.

For the cake beat three eggs and one cupful sugar together to a creamy batter, add one-quarter

Swede Fleet to Engage In Maneuvers in Baltic

STOCKHOLM, (AP)—As a preliminary to plans for reorganizing the navy, there will be held in the Baltic this summer the most extensive Swedish naval maneuvers since 1914. The king will be in command.

The Swedish fleet at present consists of 111 vessels, of which 42 belong to the coast defense; 37 to local units and 32 to the reserve. Included in the main fleet, designed entirely for defensive purposes, are 12 battleships, 10 destroyers, one armored cruiser and a number of torpedo boats and submarines.

In view of the impending reorganization, appropriations for this year were limited to the continuation of the building program decided upon last year. The future policy will depend partly on the political developments abroad and partly on the experience to be gained during the maneuvers.

OXFORD UNION URGES OLD MEMBERS TO SAVE LIBRARY

OXFORD, England, (AP)—An appeal is being made to old members of the Oxford Union for $30,000 which is necessary for the saving of the society's buildings. Such appeals are most unusual in Oxford, but this one is justified by an architect's statement that the roof of the Union library though comparatively new, cannot stand the storm of another winter.

This library has been from the first an ill-omened structure. It was upon its upper walls that Rossetti, Burne-Jones, Morris and the young pre-Raphaelites painted the famous fresco scenes from the Morte d'Arthur—a series of wall paintings probably never surpassed in England—only to see them peel off with the damp and the rotting plaster within 10 or 12 years.

The inside of the high roof, which is now rotting away, was decorated and designed by William Morris, and is worthy of note not less for its beauty than for the fact that here he first became aware of his abilities in this form of art.

40,000 Pigeons Compete In English Homing Flights
HITCHIN, Eng. (AP)—Forty thousand homing pigeons were released here recently for participation in the greatest flight of its kind ever organized in England. The birds flew to their homes in various parts of the north and northeast coast in competitions arranged by 15 federations of fanciers. Forty-two special railway vans, holding approximately 1,600 birds hampers, were required to transport the pigeons to Hitchin for participation in the race.

cupful of warm water (not hot) and then add one cupful of flour which has been sifted with one teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat very hard and finally pour in two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, which should be sizzling hot. Add one tablespoonful of flavoring, pour into a well-buttered enameled ware baking dish—preferably square—and bake no time in getting the cake in the oven, which should be at a moderate temperature. Bake about thirty-five minutes, sprinkling the top with powdered sugar when finished.

When serving cut in blocks or strips, pour the sauce over it and top with whipped cream.

AMIDST THE SOFT breezes of a resort far from the rigors of a northern winter, this costume has been brought to the fore. The dress, formed from an India shawl, has a high waistline and a very narrow, plain skirt banded with a design from the shawl.

EASY LESSONS IN AUCTION BRIDGE
Copyright 1924 by Wynne J.

In every locality where auction is played, there is one or more players who refuse to conform to the recognized conventions of bidding. They all have their reasons for not doing so, but none of more originality than the following: A player who had just bid one club without a club in his hand and was criticized for the bid by his partner, replied: "Your criticism is unreasonable. I have only one partner and two opponents so that if I fool you, I am also fooling them so the odds are just two to one in our favor." Needless to say, his argument was faulty in that it is more dangerous to fool your partner than your opponents. Fool your opponents whenever you have the opportunity of doing so without also fooling your partner, but tell your partner the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. In no other way can you obtain the best results. Camouflage bids are occasionally successful but much more often they are boomerangs and the source of big losses. Let the other fellow take such chances and you will take the money in the long run. Which is the easier to handle.

Hearts—2
Clubs—A, J, 4, 2
Diamonds—A, 8
Spades—Q, J, 3, 5, 4, 2

No score. Z dealt and bid one heart. A one spade and Y and B passed. A finally won the bid at three spades. Y opened the ten of hearts and won the trick. He then led the deuce of hearts. B played low. Z played the jack of hearts and A trumped with the deuce of spades. The problem is for A to so play the hand that he will make four odd against any defense. A's plan of procedure in this hand is to keep Z out of the lead, if possible, so that he cannot lead any more heart tricks. By so doing he will give Y a chance to overtrump A.

At trick three, A should lead the eight of diamonds, winning the trick with B's king. B should now lead the seven of clubs and A should cover any club that Z may play. The object is to force Spades are trumps and Z has the lead. How can Y-Z win six of the seven tricks against any defense? Solution in next article.

Y in the lead. Played in this way the hand should make four odd. The cards held by Z were:
Hearts—10, 2
Clubs—Q, 10, 5, 3
Diamonds—Q, 10, 5, 4, 3
Spades—10, 9

Lay out all four hands and play the hand in the way suggested. You will find that A-B can make four odd against any defense, if played in this manner. It is an interesting hand and exemplifies a principle of play that comes up frequently, that is, if you have to lose a trick, knowing which hand you prefer to have in the lead.

Here's an English problem that should prove entertaining:
