Billy Evans Says

RUTH STILL PUNCHES
 Babe Ruth is far from through as a player, all reports to the contrary. In all probability the Babe has passed the peak of his game, but as long as he can wallop the ball he will be one of baseball's greatest cards.

In other departments of play Ruth will begin to slow up before he loses his punch at the bat. Ruth's legs, he has small under-pinnings for so many a horse, will handicap his work much sooner than falling eyesight.

Local Boys Are High In Track Meet
 The spring reverses suffered by the Yankees, the failure of the club to strike its stride, caused Ruth to re-enter the game when he should have still been in the hospital.

TOO HEAVY FOR HIS LEGS
 I am told that when Ruth rejoined the Yanke, two incisions as the result of a major operation, were still unhealed.

Ruth, however, insisted that he was able to play, and as the club was going poorly, his return to the lineup was welcomed, even though he was not in fit condition to deliver.

Had Ruth rested for a month more, and during that time taken road work such as indulged in by fighters to strengthen the leg muscles, his second retirement from the game would not have occurred.

The present physical condition of Ruth should serve as a great object lesson to him. Whether it will be a question.

TOO MUCH FOOD HARMFUL
 Pat is going to be the thing that will eventually get Ruth out of the running.

One of these days his legs are going to quit on him under the weight of a much increased waistline.

Ruth's battle, is not so much out-guessing the opposing pitchers and making home runs, as a battle with excess weight.

If major league ball clubs had a training table after the style used in conditioning college athletes, some attention could be given Babe's menu by the trainer.

However, such a system is not regarded with favor in a grueling campaign extending over six months. Certain allowances as to this must be made in order to keep the players from going stale.

Even at that Ruth likes to eat so well that we would probably appreciate his appetite regardless of the training table rules and regulations.

GRAIN HARVEST IS UNDER WAY

WALLOWA, Or. (Special)—The harvesting of the best crop of wheat since 1915 is now commencing in Wallowa county. The warm weather has brought the crop on with a rush, but has done practically no damage. Estimates on the fall wheat crop run from 22 to 40 bushels to the acre.

The stand in the hills as well as the valley is exceptional with the grain standing between four and five feet with full large heads. There is no sign of shelling and only in some patches is there any sign of burning.

There was practically no storm damage in this vicinity, although the cloud burst of June 29 on Basin Creek was harmful.

The first plow to start harvesting was that of William McKennon where there is a fine stand on about 75 acres. The crop looks as if it would make 40 bushels to the acre. Most of the other hill ranchers will start the first of next week. The spring harvest of wheat will follow the fall grain, and is reported nearly as good. The price is steadily advancing, it now being contracted at $1.25.

John French Says Thacher's Did It

Florida Man Declares Recovery From Bad Case of Stomach Trouble Is Due Entirely to Celebrated Liver and Blood Syrup

"If anybody has reason to feel grateful for Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, I am certainly that man," declared John J. French, a well known resident of Haines Park, Fla. "It has practically made a new man of me."

Ten years ago my health gave way and I got in a badly run-down condition. My stomach was all out of order and most everything I ate would come out and cause my stomach to burn like fire. I would get up in the night and be as nervous and jittery as a cat, and many a time I was fainted till I was right as a drum.

"I was badly constipated, too, and suffered constantly with dull, heavy headaches, and at times would have awful pains through my body, clear to my toes."

"Finally I got some of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, and before I had finished my second bottle I had gotten rid of all these troubles. Since then I have always kept this medicine in my home and it has been a stand-by for the whole family—never fails to do the work."

"I've seen Dr. Thacher's great prescription do wonders for other people, too. Why, about four years ago I ran across an old friend who was all run down and in mighty bad shape. He had been doctoring a long time but hadn't got any better. I got him to take Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup and two months later we I got a letter from his wife saying he was improving fast, and after taking only two bottles was almost well. The last I heard from him he was getting along fine."

Mr. French, like thousands of others, found that his stomach trouble quickly yielded to the strengthening, invigorating effects of Dr. Thacher's Great Liver and Blood Syrup. Anyone can easily obtain this celebrated prescription and if it does not benefit him his money will be refunded.

It is sold in La Grande by the L. & L. Drug Co. and other leading druggists.—Adv.
