Joe Patterson Collapses in Second Round; Ref- eree and Fans Fail to See a Kayo Punch

(By Bud Lynch)

Now that the post mortem are in order it might as well be stated that hard luck in huge rolls descended on the promoters of the fight at the athletic field last night.

No one person or group of individuals seem to be responsible for the way the evening turned out but things were wrong almost from the start. In the first place the main event was changed three times. Finally at the last minute the fighter who had been stipulated to oppose Adams in the big fight of the evening drew a little advance money and skipped out. With but a few hours before the time to start the promoters wired, phoned and frantically communicated with Portland and other places to get a man but none were available on such short notice.

Main Go Disappointing.

Finally Joe Patterson, big, soft and flabby, was run in. Patterson got his training washing dishes and developed his punch scrubbing floors in a restaurant. Just as had been feared the fight turned out to be a washout.

In the first minute of the initial round Patterson accused Adams of hitting low in the clinches. The referee held things up for a moment and started the second round. After another half minute of jabbing and jolting Patterson took a nose dive to the canvas and the referee counted him out.

That is all you can make of it. The referee didn't see Adams hit Patterson, the writer didn't see it and hasn't been able to locate anyone who did see a knockout punch landed.

Special Match Fair.

Mich Dana and Harold Abait on a fairly good four round special event and Harold Becker and Alvin Allen, a good points draw in the semi-windup.

The Becker-Allen go was really the main event of the evening. Cunningham, the referee, called the fight a draw which seemed to meet with the approval of most of the crowd. It was a good decision and a well earned one any way you look at it. Both boys came up to expectations.

Becker, as in his last few fights showed a big improvement. His foot work is somewhat improved and his defense is better. He still has trouble using his left hand for anything except to hold his opponent off.

Allen is a natural boxer. Becker is a natural fighter. There is quite a distinction in the two. Allen did most of the leading out at the close of each scrimmage Becker remained in and landed a couple of short arm jabs that really counted.

Neither Becker nor Allen were in good physical condition last night. Becker has been having a little trouble with his nose and Allen has been somewhat indisposed for the last few days. When they get in shape to go about eight rounds these boys should be matched again.

Mich Dana and Harold Abait fought a draw. It was a three armed fight. Abait used pointing but his left and this he landed at long range by bringing it up from the ground and jumping from the floor.

Dana handled himself well but did not seem much inclined to mix things up.

Kid Lindsay of Union won from Charlie Binder of Huntington on a foul in the first round. Lindsay slipped to his knees and Binder got excited and kept on landing him while he was down. The referee had no alternative but to award the fight to Lindsay but it seemed too bad to take the boys off because neither was hurt in the least. Binder is a green hand in the ring and as last night was his third fight his action can be attributed to excitement of the moment rather than intentional.

Herman Davis won a decision over Mickey Watts in a four round preliminary. Davis showed some clever stuff for a boy and is worth encouraging. He did everything to Watts except kick him in the shins without any trouble whatsoever. Watts is entitled to credit for a lot of gameness but not much as a fighter.

Calahan took a close decision from Driscoll in the curtain raiser. Both youngsters mixed well for boys so young.

BOXER IS KILLED IN RING

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Mickey Mahanon, Chicago light heavyweight boxer, was killed during the fourth round of a boxing match here Tuesday night with Harry Fay of Louisville, when Fay knocked him against the ropes so that he fell and struck his head against the floor. Physicians said death was almost instantaneous. Fay was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

Billy Evans Says

FORM COMPARISON.

Youth and inexperience are going to be the greatest handicaps of the Athletics in their fight for the American league pennant.

Given the stretch, all other things being equal, the team with the most experience, poise, has a decided advantage.

As you compare Philadelphia and Washington there is little to choose between the clubs. Philadelphia has the youth, Washington the experience.

Just so long as Philadelphia continues to get high class pitching, the club is certain to retain its morale. A complete break in hitting is the one thing that would ruin the A's.

But after all, the greatest club in the world looks amateurish when it fails to get good pitching.

STRONG RESERVES.

Washington, good enough to win the pennant last season, is an even better ball club this year.

Winning the pennant and a world championship gave it a certain confidence that comes only with victory. Confidence is a most necessary asset.

In the matter of reserves, the club is far superior to the 1924 aggregation. Last year's team was woefully weak in this respect.

The veteran shortstop, Everett Scott, is ready to step in and deliver should Roger Peckinpaugh be forced out of the lineup.

In Hank Sawyer, the club has a corking batsman, who can rest Muddy Ruel or work regularly if he suffered an injury that kept him out of play.

In addition "Tutts" Reuther and Stanley Coveleski, have a less pitching outcast, are performing sensationally.

Strengthening of its reserves, plus the confidence that comes with victory, makes Washington a far more formidable club than last year.

SETS NEW RECORD.

Ray Schalk, star catcher of the Chicago White Sox, established a new lifetime record for all time when he caught both games Tuesday, registering his 1576th game behind the plate. The former record was held by Jim McGuire who caught 1571 games in 14 years. Schalk is in his thirteenth year in baseball.

EXHIBITION BASEBALL.

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Washington detached Jersey City in an exhibition contest here Tuesday, 3 to 2.

Score—H. H. 2
Jersey City 2 4 3
Washington 3 10 1

TILDEN'S AMATEUR STATUS UP AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Charges published Tuesday in two metropolitan newspapers that William T. Tilden violated the spirit if not the letter of the new amateur play-writer rule by giving interviews in connection with his play in national play court tournament at St. Louis threaten to participate a new tennis storm.

Swedish Wireless Replacing Cables for Messages to U. S.

GOTHENBURG, Sweden, (AP)—Wireless transmission of messages has no developed in Sweden that the government's station at Gothenburg now sends about 25 per cent of all telegrams from Sweden to the United States. The receiving station on the other hand, gets only about 40 percent of the telegrams coming from the United States. In order to meet the new competition the cable companies have reduced their pre-war rates.

The Gothenburg wireless station was built for direct communication with the United States.

SWISS VILLAGE SUBMERGED 300 YEARS AGO REAPPEARS

BAAS-IM-GRUND, Switzerland, (AP)—Reappearance of a village founded more than 300 years ago was noticed recently at Lake Antrona. A landslide caused the water level to recede and gradually the ruins of the old village comprising 41 buildings, were disclosed. The village of Antrona Piana was flooded by a monster spring freshet and has lain submerged for three centuries.

WALES NOTED AS TRAVELLER

LONDON (AP)—What the future travel program of the Prince of Wales will be after his forthcoming visit to South America is a popular topic for speculation. When he bids farewell to the American continent south of the equator, he will have completed his rounds of all the continents of the earth, his trips having taken him to all the great dominions and larger colonies of the British Empire as well as to several countries outside the Kingdom which he will eventually visit.

Carrying out the extensive program of trips that was planned for him after the World War, the prince has spent part of each year since that time away from London. With no more worlds to conquer he will, in the opinion of those who interest themselves in speculating on his future, settle down to seriously prepare himself for the business of being king.

The Prince of Wales has been characterized as the greatest statesman that ever represented the British Empire and his wares, international relations. As such he has been a success in all that the term applies. While South America may have an intimate knowledge of the future king, as have the peoples of most countries of the earth, his coming visit will give them an opportunity to get acquainted with the personality that has caused the people of other countries to receive him enthusiastically. Brititshers, both rosy and commonsens, feel that the prince has accomplished a great work in creating good-will and cordial relations between the empire and the countries he has visited and that his South American visit will be accompanied by the same results.

Aside from the official receptions and social events arranged in his honor there will be a number of things of special interest to the prince while he is in South America. With somewhat of a reputation as a practical farmer, he is sure to give more than passing notice to the great ranches, the types of their pedigreed stock and the methods of raising them.

During his stay in Argentina the prince will have an opportunity to indulge in one of his favorite pastimes, polo. Teams from that country have made notable records in the United States and Europe, including the last Olympic Games and with an abundance of polo ponies the prince undoubtedly will engage in the sport as often as his program will permit.

The homecoming of the prince will excite Brititshers to a greater extent than his return from any previous trip. After his return he will have more time to spend among his own people and consequently there are likely to be more rumors and speculation concerning him than during his former stays in the British capital between trips. These will not influence him, however, as he has shown a strong will and independence of action regarding himself since childhood.

GUN MISHAP KILLS BOY

BROWNSVILLE, Ore.—Word was received here by Mrs. Everett Erle Starnard, daughter of Rev. C. M. Cline of Vancouver, Wash., of a fatal accident in the Illinois valley, southern Oregon, wherein Owen Beagle, 13-year-old nephew of Mr. Cline lost his life in a gun accident. When the news was sent by Mrs. Starnard to Vancouver Mr. Cline was in the Olympic mountains investigating some property belonging to his nephew.

The pastor, when he received word of the tragedy, made the long auto trip from Washington to Grants Pass, where the funeral was held. Carefully enough, one year ago Mr. Cline was called on a visit, to make a similar trip south owing to the sudden death of Owen Beagle's father, Hess Beagle.

THIS WOULD SOUND LIKE a real fish story if there were not pictorial evidence. The picture proves that Lou Telford, besides being a million picture star, is an angler of no mean ability. He captured two Innis the fish one at Catalina Island after a terrific struggle.
