Rare Record of War In Hoover Library

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. (AP)—The Hoover war library, endowed by Secretary of Commerce Herbert C. Hoover, at Stanford university, has received 44,000 books and pamphlets, in nearly all languages. Every one hour in some way on the World War. The largest number, 12,000, are printed in Russian; 10,000 are in French, 9,000 in English. The rest are divided among Hungarian, Italian and other languages. The library was founded in 1919. Many of the items, printed or out of print, are irreplaceable. It offers students facilities duplicated nowhere and paralleled only at the Musee de la Guerre at Paris.

The program of the institution calls for procuring all important official documents of every nation throughout the war and during the reconstruction period. Three-fourths of this material already has reached the library. The manuscript collection includes 65,000 reports and communications bearing on conditions in Europe during and after the war. This file is supplemented by copies of private papers of men who were active in world affairs of the time. The library has collected from each country involved a file of newspapers in sympathy with the government, together with those of two opposite camps, representing the Left and the Right.

Mr. Hoover was graduated from Stanford in 1895. He is a member of the board of trustees.

Animals in Park Terrified By Motor Cars and People. SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Loas suffering deer, elk and bears in Woodland park, Seattle's zoological tract, verged so vividly on nervous prostration this summer that movements were set afoot to provide them new quarters. Fumes and noises from automobiles and the chatter of the crowd have been too much for these animals in the park do not seem to mind civilization.

The deer and elk are confined in half-acre tracts which are bounded on three sides by roads crowded with traffic. The bears are in cages of steel and concrete.

Plans for relief centered on quarters deeper in the park, which contains 200 acres, covered in large part with heavy Douglas fir forest.

Singapore has begun the manufacture of banana flour. The article will be used in the making of certain pastries, chocolate confections and cocoa beverages.

CENTENNIAL TO BE HELD

COUNCIL GROVE, Kan. (AP)—All the glamour of a glorious past will be recalled to Council Grove next week, when, with the hundreds of visitors for whom the town has prepared, the entire community will join in a centennial celebration of its birth, and that of the Santa Fe Trail.

It was on August 19, 1825, that a party of commissioners from Washington paid $800 to the chiefs of the Great and Little Osages, receiving in return a right of way to the rich trading posts of New Mexico. Here, at Council Grove, beneath the blazed oak that marks the birthplace of the old trail, the treaty was signed.

Historians have never explained satisfactorily why those commissioners dispatched into the frontier by President John Quincy Adams, tangled out the Osage and Kaw tribes to barrier for the Mexican trade route. Council Grove then was unpopulated. No white man settled there until 1847. The Osages lived nearby, but not at the Neosho river ford that saw so many early cowboys. Six days later, the identical treaty was signed with the Kaw, on Turkey creek, in Jefferson county.

Never did the Osages nor the Kaw—the Kansas Indians—break their faith. The word of the treaty was kept, and since August, 1825, neither Kaw nor Osage tribe has risen against the white man.

An encampment of the Kaw has come from their new home in Oklahoma for Council Grove centennial. Although it was the Osages who met the commissioners here 75 years ago, the Kaw are returning to join the celebration at their old home, where their encampment was located from 1847 to 1853. A part of the program will be the burial beneath a monument of an "unknown Indian," whose remains were found a few months ago by a party of boys. The American Legion and Boy Scouts will participate in the rites.

The festivities open Saturday night, August 8, with a general reception Monday, August 9, will be "Treaty Day," the actual anniversary, and the historical pageants will progress throughout the week, culminating Friday with "Santa Fe Trail Day."

SKIN GRAFTING NEEDED. KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. —Intensive skin grafting operations will be made at San Francisco this week on the leg of Jack McAuliffe, prominent Klamath sheep man. He left in charge of a nurse, yesterday morning.

Mr. McAuliffe was dangerously injured two months ago when he landed at the wheel of his closed car while en route from Klamath Falls to Lakeview. He remained unconscious throughout the night and was almost dead from carbon monoxide poisoning when he found the following morning. He fell against a heater in the car, which burned his right leg almost to the bone.

PREACHER LOSES PANTS. PENDLETON, Ore.—J. M. Cornelison, who for 25 years or more has been a missionary to the Umatilla Indians on the reservation of the same name here is looking for a pair of trousers that were a part of his formal black suit.

Recently he officiated at a wedding in the afternoon, took off the suit and then went for a swim. The next morning the trousers and a pair of dress shoes had been stolen and neighbors reported that they had seen a hobo leaving the mission parsonage. Some money in other clothes was overlooked.

War Vet Regains Children

Claude N. Logan, veteran of the A. E. F., has at last unraveled several miles of red tape and regained his children, Nathan Logan, 5 (right), and Velma Logan, 2. He married a German girl, Cecile Lorenz, while with the army of occupation in Germany, but military officials wouldn't sanction the wedding and he had to leave his family behind. Then the mother died and he sent money for the children to come to his home at Springfield, O. Immigration officers held them up again, and it was only through the intervention of Senator Fannin of Ohio that Logan finally got them.

Sister Mary Says:

Breakfast—Chilled melon, cereal, thin cream, soft cooked eggs, graham toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Baked celery and rice, lettuce sandwiches, peach custard, milk, tea.

Dinner—Salted steak, baked bananas, creamed potatoes, buttered string beans, jellied cabbage salad, huckleberry pie, bran rolls, milk, coffee.

Served trines or apple sauce should be served to children under six years of age in place of the breakfast melon.

With the exception of the huckleberry pie there are no dishes suggested in the menus not suitable for a child of four.

Baked Celery And Rice

Two cups diced celery, 1/2 cup rice, 2 cups boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, 7/8 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons grated cheese.

Wash rice and put in top of double boiler with boiling water and salt. Cover and cook over boiling water until water is absorbed. Cook celery in boiling water to prevent burning until tender. If the water is not all cooked away do not drain, but let cook uncovered until as dry as possible. Add rice, cheese and butter and mix well. Turn into a well-buttered baking dish and bake 15 minutes in a moderately hot oven. Serve from baking dish.

COLLEGE TO SEEK FUNDS

MEMPHISVILLE, Ore. —Linfield college will commence a drive for $50,000 for buildings for its campus here as soon as a suitable individual or organization can be found to handle the campaign, according to L. W. Riley, president.

President Riley will seek first to obtain funds for an administration building which will cost about $15,000. The Memphisville chamber of commerce has pledged itself for $25,000 toward this structure and also has voted a $25,000 guarantee toward the $50,000 fund.

COVE PEOPLE ADOPT BUDGET

COVE (Special)—At the special meeting of school district No. 15 Monday, August 3, the budget, as prepared by the board of education, was accepted. The budget presented by the board to the people at the annual meeting was not found sufficient to meet the necessary expenses and an increase of $345.00 was added. The full amount of the budget as accepted is $14,845.00. The increase covers the salary for an additional teacher in the high school and some needed improvements and repairs.

The regular monthly meeting of the Cove Cemetery Association was held at the Library Monday evening, August 2. The association is planning to put a well at the upper side of the cemetery that will furnish an adequate supply of water for the use in the cemetery at all seasons of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Julia and brother, Hugo, accompanied by Miss Baldwin, all of Los Angeles, California, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Smith, of Cove. The entire party returned from Los Angeles stopping at various points of interest along the way. They, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Smith, have gone to Minnie Lake for a two weeks outing.

Miss Ida M. Baldwin, of Glen Dale, California, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Beckstrom, she will be here until the latter part of August 2. The latter part is a teacher in the department of commerce in one of Los Angeles high schools.

Absolutely.
