JOKE SCARES LEAP CHILD

WALLOWA, Ore., (Special)—A considerable amount of excitement was occasioned in the Leap community Wednesday evening, because of the disappearance of Guy, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker. Mike Hayes of Wallowa had commenced work for Mr. Walker and when asked by the boy how long he was going to stay, had jokingly said that he would stay until his pointer came after him. Late in the evening L. Couch of Wallowa stopped at the ranch and began talking with the man, the boy excitedly thought the "pointer" had arrived and made for the hills. When he did not show up at midnight the parents became alarmed at his long absence, and began a search for him, but were unable to locate him, after looking everywhere with most anxious eyes until the boy returned home.

Glenn Voss and family moved to their ranch in the hills the first of the week, and began cutting wheat. Mr. Voss has had two binders going the past few days, and will soon finish cutting. Tom Meek has been binding grain for H. C. Beane the past several days.

E. Condit of Wallowa was a business visitor in this section during the week.

H. H. Shintarfer of Evans was in this section Wednesday looking after his crop and repairing fences.

Irey Gastin has been busy binding wheat the past several days. He expects to finish his cutting this week, and start his threshing early next week.

Many of the farmers in the hill sections have been busy the past week finishing putting up their grain hay.

L. V. Lathrop started his combine during the past week. He is cutting some fall barley, and expects to be able to commence harvesting his fall wheat soon.

H. C. Beane was a Wallowa business visitor the first of the week.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. Mitchell was arrested Thursday morning at his home.
