Association to Aid in Placing Work of Western Artists

CHICAGO, (AP)—Placing of the best works of western artists of the highest ability in the homes of art lovers, instead of letting them remain in their original environment of the studio, has been made possible here through the creation of the Chicago Galleries Association and its novel plan for distribution of the artists' work.

The association is a combination of artists and 150 lay members and the plan of distribution provides for the selection of 150 of the best paintings shown in the galleries over a period of three years, or 25 to be selected at each spring and fall exhibition to be presented to each of the 150 lay members.

These paintings will be selected by the laymen, each of whom is required to pay into the association as membership dues $200 a year for a three-year period. This assures the layman, however, of obtaining one of the best pictures shown for $200.

The artists, however, do not all receive the $200 for each picture chosen. Regardless of the picture selected by the layman, assisted by this latter committee, experts decide which picture deserves the first prize of $1,000, and the artist will receive this amount.

A rule of the association says: It is our problem first of all to give each layman the picture that he likes and that he wants from the exhibition for the money he has paid, and secondly to see that the pictures thus selected are the best pictures in the show and that prizes are properly awarded to these pictures.

Artists from Ohio and all states west to the Pacific Coast are to be invited to enroll in the association, the list being confined to artist's high standing.

The Galleries association also will conduct what is called its circulating department, where any or all of the 150 laymen may select smaller pictures from the gallery walls and take one of them home for a period of from 20 to 60 days and then return it and take another home and continue this system as long as he holds membership.

The galleries will probably be opened the coming autumn.

JULY FOURTH TOLL IS GIVEN

NEW YORK, (AP)—The results of a survey of casualties of this year's Fourth of July celebration by the American Museum of Natural History and the National committee for the prevention of blindness, given out today, shows that 111 were killed and 1,826 injured. The analysis is made of reports from 300 cities in 36 states. A majority of the victims were children. Approximately 800 of the casualties occurred July 4, while more than 200 were recorded before and after Independence Day as late as June 24 and others as late as July 22. Only 20 of the casualties occurred in connection with public celebrations.

The reports give evidence of only 62 arrests. Of the 111 deaths, 37 of the victims, mostly children, lost their lives as a result of their clothing being ignited by so-called harmless sparklers. Six very young children are reported to have died of poisoning from eating fire-crackers.

The largest list of casualties was reported from St. Louis, where 78 persons were seriously hurt and 60 suffered minor injuries. A statement accompanying the report says: "The fact that in New York City among a population of more than six million there were only ten casualties and that in Chicago among a population of more than three million there were only sixteen casualties, is convincing evidence of the effectiveness of restrictive legislation, properly enforced."

The statement emphasizes that the study represents only a part of the actual sacrifice of life and limb as no reports were received from 15 states, including several in the South, where few restrictions are placed on the sale and use of fireworks.
