Fall Social Season Ushered in By Dance

The fall social season was ushered in most auspiciously last night by the University of Oregon dance, given in the Elk's temple for the purpose of contributing to the U. of O. Art Museum Building fund.

The hall was decorated in Oregon colors and the same color motif was followed throughout. Upon the stage at the rear of the orchestra a huge U. lighted from behind with electric lights was placed and the members of the Star Novelty Orchestra, who furnished the music, all wore Oregon rooster caps while playing.

Miss Julia and Miss Sally Siegfried started as Harlequin and Columbine did a very charming little dance the feature of the evening.

Punch was served by a group of girls dressed in Oregon colors and the same color theme was followed in the programs and other favors.

Patrons and patronesses were George Glass, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Scroggin, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kitchin and Dr. and Mrs. Ray Murphy.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of Miss Deloris Pearson, chairman; Miss Eleanor Glass, Miss Thelma Kitchin, John Robinson, William Beatty, Miss Alhaden Scroggin and Ernie Watkins.

Bridge Party Held at DeHaas Home

COVE, Ore. (Special)—Mrs. Charles DeHaas was hostess at a small bridge party Saturday. Luncheon was served prior to adjournment.

Those present were Mrs. E. C. Healy, Mrs. T. H. Conklin, Mrs. Mattie Powell, Miss Marian Conklin, Mrs. A. H. Orton, Mrs. Beatrice Coon and Mrs. Frank Miller.

COVE, Ore. (Special)—A social evening was spent at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening when the Rev. Hamilton made his quarterly visit. Luncheon was served by the ladies.

Of 25,000 Christian missionaries working in foreign fields, 18,000 are from the United States, while American annual contributions to the work amount to $40,000,000 out of a total of $45,000,000.

Fur Collar

Here's a new type of fur collar for fall that is used on fur and overcoats. It ties with little straps of fur. The type that rests on the neck is almost as important as the collar itself.

Announcements

Social announcements may be printed in this column free of charge. Any announcements pertaining to any functions such as cooked food sales, etc., will be refused. Announcements to be printed the same day, must be in society editor's hands by 9:00 o'clock. — News editor's note.

COVE, Ore. (Special)—A harvest ball, under the auspices of the commercial club, will be given Friday evening at the Macabee hall.

Hints for the Housewife

GOOSEBERRY CATSUP

Berries have a taste all their own and few fruits lend themselves to culinary combinations with such gratifying results. The piquant flavor of gooseberry sauce always been a tasty addition to meats, but gooseberry catsup is even more enticing.

Place the gooseberries in an enameled ware saucepan, which will preserve their delicate color and flavor, add a little water and boil until soft. Then press the pulp through an enameled ware colander and measure it. To each five cups of pulp add three pounds of sugar, one cup of vinegar and one tablespoon each of ground mace and cinnamon. Boil and stir until thick. Pour into jars or bottles and seal while hot.

MELON AND PEACH COMPOTE

As if to reconcile us for the passing of the strawberry, say old Mother Nature who must have been aware of the harmony effected by the blending of the peach and melon, arranged for these two fruits to mature simultaneously. They can be prepared in endless variety, and a compote provides a way of using both melons and peaches which are slightly underripe.

Prepare a syrup in the proportions of one cup of sugar to one and one-half cups of water, and let cook in an enameled ware saucepan until as thick as maple syrup. Then add two or three pieces of preserved ginger, sliced, one cup each of peaches and melons—any variety—cut in uniform slices. Simmer very slowly until the fruit is clear and the syrup rich. Then allow the mixture to cool. The vitreous surface of enameled ware assures perfect safety from the action of the acid in the peaches. When cold, chill in the ice box. Serve topped with whipped cream and dotted with red-ether raspberries or maraschino cherries.

TURKISH WOMEN ADOPT HABITS OF WESTERN SISTERS

CONSTANTINOPLE (AP)—The Turkish woman no longer is the hot house creature she is pictured to be in western imagination. Gradually but surely, she is discarding her veil and showing her face to the public, she is becoming an ardent sports woman, and also she is taking up the hat and other habitations of her western sister.

Progressiveness among Turkish women is being applauded. The wearing of a hat, instead of the one-time obligatory veil, was started by a Turkish girl, Hadije Selma Ekrem, who has recently been lecturing in the United States on Turkish questions. She discovered on her return to Turkey that men were being permitted to wear hats instead of the fez turban and Kall-pak, and therefore determined to continue wearing her American hat. A year ago refusal by a woman to wear a veil might have resulted in action by the police.

PIONEER WIDOW PASSES

WATERVILLE, Wash. — Mrs. John Peters, 84 years old, died here while sitting in her easy chair. Death was due to dropsy.

Mr. Peters died two years ago. The Peters were among the pioneer homesteaders in the section east of Douglas. Since Mr. Peters' death, Mrs. Peters had lived with her son George. She is also survived by another son, Henry of Douglas.

Funeral services were held from the German Lutheran church at Douglas, the Rev. S. Reimann conducting the ceremonies.

UNION SECURES NEW PEDAGOGS

UNION, Ore. (Special)—Superintendent Roy Conkling reports that the school board has secured three new high school teachers, one for the language and mathematics department to succeed Mrs. John Wortman, one to take charge of the business department which Miss Partridge had last year, and one extra teacher to take charge of the new classes which will be necessary this year. In the grades all the teaching force of last year will be here again. School will open on the 8th of September. The only feature of the opening of the school this year is the heavy increase in the price of text books, both the old ones and the books recently adopted.

Messrs. Ahrens, Withersall, Boyer, Ipeck, and Green left Sunday morning for their homes when it was seen that the rain had postponed all tennis playing for the day, all promising to be on hand next Sunday morning for the remainder of the meet.

Miss Connie Rees arrived here from Tacoma last Thursday, after several weeks visiting with her sister Mrs. D. Dayton.

The Junior Campfire girls and their guardian, Mrs. Ruby Knight, were in charge of a stand at the tennis meet at the city park Sunday, supplying the players and spectators with ice cream and cold drinks.

I. A. and Ed Wright spent part of last week on an outing at the Grande Ronde lakes, returning home the last of the week.

Among the important events which Union has scheduled for the near future are the Peters auction sale Sept. 9, the baby clinic by Dr. Maude Kelley of New York, Sept. 11, and the old-timers conference which will continue here during the latter part of October.

The daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pitts last Tuesday has been named Madeline.

Mrs. Claude Husick and two children are here from Boise visiting here parents Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davis, and with other relatives and friends here. Mr. Husick was formerly in the drug business in Union.

Owing to the fact that the season is so late the Women's Club decided last week that they would not put on their annual flower show this year. Other social and business affairs had crowded this event so late a date in the season that they did not believe they could secure a sufficient amount of flowers for a creditable exhibit.

Fred Brown, who had the misfortune to sever a thumb while chopping wood at his home on the state experimental farm a few days ago, is able to look after his work and believes that the thumb, which was entirely cut off just above the first joint except a string of skin, will grow back and he will not lose the thumb.

ROUND-UP TO BE INSURED

PENDLETON, Ore. — Business firms of Pendleton will be asked again this year to underwrite the Pendleton Round-up against financial loss on account of inclement weather or any other emergency. Action recommending the pledging of a guarantee was taken by the board of managers of the Commercial association.

The plan has been followed several years. G. G. Matlock was appointed head of the committee to have charge of the work this year. It is expected the guarantee will be between $20,000 and $25,000. No part of the guarantee has ever been paid by any of the business men, but is always made so the Round-up association will be protected in case of inclement weather and a financial deficit.

MEDFORD STORE ROBBED

MEDFORD, Ore.—Three revolutionaries were taken from the Medford Hardware & Sporting Goods store and a large front plate glass window broken some time early this morning by thieves who left no clues except fingerprints on sections of the unbroken window.

The glass was broken by a brick hurled with such force that it went through the glass, hit a wall and rebounded several feet into the window display space of the store. The brick made a seven-foot square, affording easy access to the goods lying directly in front. Nothing else was disturbed.

Your Life will hold more contented days

This NEW way in solving woman's oldest hygienic problem warrants never a moment's charm lost

ONE-SIXTH of the average woman's life, say some authorities, is spent in self-consciousness, in fear of charm lost.

It is as easily disposed of as a piece of tissue—that ends an old-time embarrassment.

It is odorized. And that prevents danger of offense.

You get it at any department store or drug store, just by saying "Kotex." And that banishes the embarrassment of asking for a "sanitary pad."

It is in every 10 women in the better walks of life who have adopted it. Which proves its benefits.

It will mean much to you in health, in daintiness and protection. It proves old ways a needless folly.

The name is Kotex... a method scientifically right.

It absorbs 5 times the moisture of the ordinary cotton pad.

KOTEX PROTECTS—DEODORIZES

1 Protection: 5 times as absorbent as cotton pads. Absorbs 18 times its own weight in moisture—and scientifically deodorizes.

2 No laundry. Discard as easily as a piece of tissue.

3 Easy to buy, anywhere. You ask for them by name. Many stores keep them ready wrapped—help yourself, pay the clerk that is all.

No laundry—discard as easily as a piece of tissue.

National Forest Timber For Sale

Sealed bids will be received by the District Forester, Portland, Oregon, up to and including September 10, 1925, for all the merchantable dead timber standing or down, and all the live timber marked or designated for cutting on an area embracing about 6,000 acres within T. 1 R. 11, 34 E.; T. 1 E. R. 22 E. and T. 4 R. 22 E., W. M., Elsiepoint and East Fork Meacham Creek watersheds, Umatilla National Forest, Oregon, estimated to be 22,000,000 feet B. M. of western yellow pine, 250,000 feet B. M. of lodgepole pine timber, more or less, and an unestimated amount of Douglas fir, western larch, white fir, Engelmann spruce, and other species of timber. Cutting of other species than western yellow and lodgepole pine to be optional with the purchaser. No bid of less than $2.75 per M. feet for yellow and lodgepole pine, and $5.00 per M. feet for other species will be considered. $5,000 must be deposited with each bid to be applied on the purchase price, refunded, or retained in part as liquidated damages, according to conditions of sale. The right to reject any and all bids reserved. Before bids are submitted, full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale, and the submission of bids should be obtained from the Forest Supervisor, Pendleton, Oregon, or the District Forester, Portland, Oregon.

For 22 years beautiful Sonora Seanes, Mexican girl, of Los Angeles, was kept caged in this cage by her parents, Maria and Higinio Seanes, who declared their child had been demoralized since birth. Keeping her locked up, they said, was the only way in which they knew how to cope with the situation. They had feared on them. When police found the girl in the cage she was nude. The girl, who it was said showed signs of having had most care, was removed to the psychopathic hospital. The mother is shown at the door of the cage. Sonora is held under guard and no picture could be taken of her.
