"A Good Place To Trade"

Aditorials It May Interest You To Know That—

Every Fall and Winter fresh says, "Give me furs or coats or shirtings, but some fullness I must have in my shirt."

That— Sleeves, though long, are interesting in their various cuff and puff effects. There are flare cuffs; there are fetching little puffs of silk or georgette or deeper ones that vanish under the top of the sleeve. Cuffs are with smart little bows; embroidery bands appear above the puffs.

That— One cannot talk of Fall fabrics without devoting most of the discussion to satins. There are crepe-back satins and satin Cantonas, often added by trimmings of georgette that, together with the dull back of the material, emphasize the brilliancy of the satins.

That— Long sleeves demand a partner in the glove to make the well-groomed woman.

That— Eyelet embroidery is having a vogue. In some smart costumes it is worn in colors over contrasting slips.

That— The hard-riding Russian Cosmoks are breaking into fashion with interesting variations of their uniforms in the new coats.

That— The glistering of fine steel beads is to appear on the Fall styles.

That— An expert says, "I have out of doors." Sure, we are rapidly approaching autumn under which most of us will have to. ERNEST WATKINS, Manager.

AMERICAN GIRL TO AGAIN ATTEMPT CHANNEL SWIM

CAPE GRIS NIEZ, France (AP).—Gertrude Ederly, of New York, swam for two hours at top speed Wednesday in preparation for her second channel attempt, scheduled for the last day of this month or early in September. She is training under "Old Bill" Burgess, who was the second to swim the channel, and she is in better physical condition than at any time since her arrival in Europe.

Burgess thinks she can swim the channel in two tides, leaving Gris Nez at 1 o'clock in the morning and reaching Dover before 7 p. m. Weather conditions are improving and the sea is calmer.

Billy Evans Says

PITCHING POISE.
Pitching is more than the mere throwing of the ball over the plate. The success of a pitcher in the big show is largely determined by the poise he possesses.

Poise is what makes Pitcher "Herb" Pennock one of the most valuable southpaws in the game, despite the fact that many more successful pitchers boast a wider assortment of stuff.

Only the other day Pennock shut out the Chicago White Sox with two hits, one a rank scratch. Low-hit games are scarce these days.

Pennock's performance caused me to praise his record. It reveals the fact that he has pitched more low-hit games than any left-hander in the American league.

Pennock has great courage, most essential to a pitcher. He is smart, studies his batters carefully, then pitches to their weakness. He watches his runners closely. He is a great fighter.

In pinch situations Pennock always seems cooler. He works easily when hardest pressed. There you have some of the things that make for pitching poise. They explain in a measure Pennock's continued success as a big leaguer.

THE "RAZZ" CHORUS.

Not so many years ago baseball was the only sport in which the spectators severely took to task the active players.

In other words, baseball, the national pastime, was the only game in which the athletes were "razzed" by the spectators. Likewise, the one sport where one seldom agreed with the officia in charge.

In all probability "razzing" of the players originated in baseball. For years it has been the game of the masses. The average fan believes he can manage better than the manager, play better than the player and positively umpire better than the umpire.

Being of such an opinion, he invariably gives vent to his feelings when he believes some one has erred, pulled a dumb play.

For years other sports have escaped the "razzing" feature because of their exclusiveness.

HITS OTHER SPORTS.

Until recent years the big college football crowds were largely made up of the alumni of the institutions playing or of other colleges. The happenings of the game were accepted without a murmur or dissent.

Of late there has been a change. The popularity of football has reached the masses. The "razz" chorus is fast becoming a part of the grid game and it is to be regretted.

In the last British open golf tournament McDonald Smith had a very unpleasant experience with the gallery following him. It practically killed his championship possibilities, when it seemed certain he would win.

ST. LOUIS (AP).—The St. Louis Browns again pounded Washington's star hurlers and won from the Senators Wednesday, 11 to 5, in the second game of the series.

Washington retained league leadership, however, as the second place Philadelphia Athletics also lost.

The visitors used five pitchers and the locals four in what turned out to be a slugfest match. Cleveland was retired after the first two innings. Tom Rouser and Marberry were hit for a total of six runs in the third.

The Browns got 13 hits for a total of 25 bases. These included two triples by Sisler and home runs by Lamotte and H. Rice. The Senators hit 14 times for a total of 21 bases. Stanley Harris, Washington manager, was ordered from the field in the fourth inning when he started an argument with Umpire Owens. Nick Altrock, Senator coach, also was waved off the field when he started some of his funny stuff. Score: R. H. E. Washington 11 5 2 St. Louis 5 11 2 Batteries: Coveleskie, Reuther, Marberry, Ballou, Russell and Kuel; Gird, Davis, Danforth, Vandilder and Hargrave.

Cleveland 8, Athletics 1.
CLEVELAND (AP).—Cleveland made it two straight from Philadelphia Wednesday, winning 8 to 1. Uble held the Athletics to five hits and outpitched Harris and Hommel, both of whom were knocked out of the box. Uble started the attack with a triple. The visitors fielded very loosely in the "razz" for many of their rallies.

Unfortunately sportsmanship appears to be dying out fast with a certain type of enthusiast who now frequents most of the major sport events.

Philadelphia's only run was scored on a double by Cochran and two infield hits. Uble struck out six. He received brilliant support. Score: R. H. E. Philadelphia 1 5 1 Cleveland 8 12 7 Batteries: Harris, Hommel, Groves and Cochran; Uble and L. Sewell.

Detroit 10, Boston 2.
DETROIT (AP).—Earl Whitehill turned in a victory for Detroit Wednesday when he held Boston to six scattered hits to give the Bengals a 10 to 2 win over the easterners. Boston made its two runs in the sixth on Whitehill's single, Williams' triple and Louder's sacrifice fly. It was Whitehill's fourth straight triumph. R. H. E. Boston 2 6 3 Detroit 10 13 0 Batteries: Whitehill and Basher.

Chicago 4, New York 0.
CHICAGO (AP).—Chicago shut out New York, led in a pitching duel between Red Faber and Herb Pennock. Hooper's double and Kamm's single in the second inning scored the only run of the game. The visitors started after Faber in the first inning by cracking out three successive singles but the red head lightened up and was never in danger thereafter. Score: R. H. E. New York 0 0 0 Chicago 4 2 0 Batteries: Pennock and Fenough; Faber and Schalk.

National League Games.
NEW YORK (AP).—New York split a doubleheader with Cincinnati Wednesday, winning the first game, 6 to 5, and losing the second 2 to 1, in 13 innings. As the Pirates won at Boston, Pittsburg increased its lead to five and one-half games.

Lindstrom was added to McGraw's list of injured players when he was spiked by Celia in the fourth inning. Score: R. H. E. Cincinnati 5 11 0 New York 2 6 2 Batteries: Rixey, Heimiller, May and Wingo; Kreuger, Barnes, Fitzsimmons and Snyder.

Second game: R. H. E. Cincinnati 2 13 0 New York 1 6 2 (13 innings.) Batteries: Luque and Hargrave; Scott and Hartley.

Philadelphia 12, Chicago 2.
PHILADELPHIA (AP).—Philadelphia climbed back into sixth place Wednesday by taking the second game of the series with Chicago, 12 to 2. Keen tried a comeback after being hammered from the box Tuesday but was again hit hard and had to give way after the sixth. Score: R. H. E. Chicago 2 5 4 Philadelphia 12 29 1 Batteries: Keen, Jones, Brown and Hartnett; Knight and Wilson.

BUCK HEIN, LOCAL TWIRLER, ANNEXES HANDFUL OF WINS

PENDLETON, Ore. (Special).—According to Homer, C. Taylor, ex-coach of the best playing school who has been playing with the Clark club of the Butte Mines League, Buck Hein, local twirler, has won five straight games for the Andros and is responsible for his team's sensational climb.
