

Local News In Brief

COMING EVENTS

Neighborhood Club Union county flower show—September 2, La Grande Public Schools open—September 14, Union County Fair at Elgin, September 23-26, inclusive.

Pendleton Visitor—Miss Anna Jones of La Grande, was a Pendleton visitor yesterday.

McCrory in Portland—Charles A. McCrory is spending a few days in Portland on business.

Visiting—Ross Harrington of Los Angeles is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. G. Rhoadgrass.

Here from Joseph—Miss Beverly Scott is spending a week in La Grande with friends. She makes her home at Joseph.

Motion Day—Judge J. W. Knowles held motion day at the courthouse this morning.

Marriage License—Mattie Choate was issued a marriage license at the county clerk's office yesterday.

To Teach School—Della M. Dutton, from Big Springs, Neb., will teach at the Iowa school near here. She is Harvey Smith's sister-in-law.

Visiting Near Elgin—Miss Jessie Parsons of La Grande is this week visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Parsons, near Elgin.

Motors to La Grande—L. Donham and daughter, Miss Jean, motored to La Grande and returned to Elgin Wednesday on a business trip.

Visiting Here—Miss Beverly Scott of Joseph, who has been house guest of Miss Deloris Pearson this week, will return to her home today.

Return Home—Evelyn and Maxine Cramer, two little girls who have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. J. E. Washburn, returned to their home in Mountain Home this morning.

Back from Portland—Frank Krentz, railroad man who has been taking medical treatment in Portland, arrived in La Grande on No. 24 this morning.

On Business—S. T. Bailey, who recently purchased a farm on the Cove highway, east of Island City, was in La Grande this morning on a business trip.

Manager Here—J. P. Lottridge, head of the Eastern Oregon Light and Power company, is now registered at the Foley hotel. Mr. Lottridge has his main offices in Baker.

The Rev. Ward Here—The Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Ward and children of St. Maries, Idaho, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Tarrington. They will remain in La Grande until Monday.

Returns to Blackfoot—Miss Dorothy Dahlstrom and children, Vivian, Phoebe and Jane, left last night for their home in Blackfoot, Idaho, after spending several weeks here and in Portland visiting relatives.

Here from Salem—The Misses Mabel, Lila and Beulah Murry, teachers from Salem, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Funk here. They also went to Wallowa take for an outing. Mrs. Sarah Calvin accompanied them.

Seed Sells Well—C. C. Welch of Allele was in La Grande this morning on a business trip. Mr. Welch reports that his wheat crop of Hybrid 125 has yielded about 300 bushels to the acre and that he has 40 bushels in the bin. He has 275 bushels, the wheat that was certified for seed has nearly all been sold for re-planting.

Wallowa Lake—J. C. MacPherson was for many years a La Grande resident but this summer he has been manager of the Wallowa lake resort for the Woodruff company. Now he proudly signs his name on the register, "J. C. MacPherson, Wallowa Lake." Mr. MacPherson is registered at the Foley hotel.

Receives Injury—W. A. MacKenzie, an employee of the Eastern Oregon Light and Power company, cut his left thumb quite severely while he was working this morning. Mr. MacKenzie was sawing a board when the tool slipped and cut the leader of his thumb. He will be off work for some time until the injured member is healed.

Will Shoot—The Wing, Flo and Fleetfoot club has announced another trap shoot to start at 9 o'clock next Sunday morning at the club shooting grounds near Lone Tree. Shooters will have an opportunity to try their luck at anything they desire, according to the announcement. Snipe shooting, quail shooting and jackrabbits shooting will all be done if desired by the shooters.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

Back from Trip—John Stoddard drove into La Grande last night after about a 5,000-mile trip across the continent. Mr. Stoddard has been on a church mission to the eastern states. He left La Grande about a year ago last April and in the ensuing time has been in nearly all of the Atlantic coast and New England states on the mission. Mr. Stoddard discovered what every westerner eventually finds out for himself, that the eastern states are much more densely populated than the west. He expects to remain here for some time.

WALLOWA NEWS OF THE WEEK

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—John Couch has been busy the past several days combining a field of winter wheat for Chas. Klinghammer. Mr. Couch finished cutting his own crop of winter wheat last week.

Miss Fay Downing of Leap was sick a few days the first of the week.

Mrs. E. A. Downing of Wallowa has been visiting her son E. A. Downing and family of Leap the past few days.

A frost of considerable severity visited this section Monday night, doing considerable damage to garden vegetables. The frost is said to have been much heavier in the valley than in the higher sections of the county.

Hay bails has been busy with his trucks hauling wheat to the warehouse here for a number of the farmers. Among those he has hauled for are: Thomas Scott, John McDonald and A. McAlexander.

C. A. Hunter started his small threshing outfit at his ranch in the valley east of town the latter part of last week.

Ray Gastin is busy at present threshing for Ed Hill on the C. A. Hunter whiskey creek ranch. Mr. Hill has about 300 acres of winter wheat this year.

Mrs. John Couch of Leap was a Wallowa Visitor the latter part of the week.

Frank Gastin of Elgin visited recently at Mrs. J. H. Gastin's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gastin and daughter Laura Langston and son of Enterprise, visited last Sunday at Mrs. J. H. Gastin's.

J. C. Deane was busy hauling wheat from his ranch in the hills the first of the week.

T. A. Bakke has been busy recently preparing his summer fallow for seeding, he expects to start a drill during the coming week.

The recent rains have supplied the fields with an abundance of moisture for speedy germination of grain, and many of the farmers are anxious to commence seeding as early as possible. It is expected that many will be busy drilling by the first of September.

J. C. Downing of Leap was a Wallowa business visitor the first of the week.

George Verlan, H. M. Derrick and son, who have been helping thresh in this community for the past week, left Sunday for Yakima, Wash., where they expect to pick apples for a few weeks.

Farmers state they are still experiencing considerable difficulty in securing a sufficient number of men to make fall threshing crews.

About a week ago rain appeared to be quite plentiful, but a number of them coming here from other sections complained of water being lower than at other points, and did not remain long.

Homey Botchell has been out ill at his home in the valley east of town for the last several days. He went to Hot Lake Monday for medical treatment.

H. O. Anderson and wife were Enterprise visitors during the past week.

The recent heavy rains were very beneficial in putting out fires and lessening the danger of fire in the timbered sections of the county. A fire of considerable size became started in the woods north of here the latter part of the week, but was entirely put out by the rain of Saturday night.

Censorship Put on Ohio Klan Meeting

BUCKEYE LAKE, Ohio (AP)—Officials of the Ku Klux Klan have clamped a tight censorship on information concerning the national meeting of grand dragons and klans being held here following publication of several newspaper articles obtained from persons attending the meetings.

One article told of an address by H. K. Ramsey, Kansas City, an imperial officer, in which he denounced the practices of klansmen appearing unmasked in public.

Wednesday's move, it was explained, is in line with this policy of secrecy which will be pursued in the future. Anyone, outside of the imperial klans, who gives out information concerning the meeting will be banished from the order.

TWO AVIATORS ARE KILLED

CHICAGO, (AP)—Two army aviators were killed Thursday night at the air field in Mayfield when their ship collided with another plane while attempting a landing. Both planes burst into flames following the collision and fell to the ground, the pilot of the second ship being seriously injured. The two aviators who were killed jumped in their parachutes but they failed to open.

BANK ROBBERS SHOT

KINGFISHER, Okla. (AP)—Two men, believed to have participated in the robbery of the bank of Navina Thursday, were killed later by a Sheriff's posse and a third man was captured in a battle on the highway near here.

ROAD BOARD WILL SELL BOND ISSUE

(Continued from Page One.)

superior district composed of Yamhill, Tillamook, Washington, Marion, Clackamas and Multnomah counties for voting bonds for the proposed highway. Smith would hold the franchise in trust and turn it over to the public road district as soon as the districts were organized. The commission took no action on the petition.

A BATHING FOR A BED and water at blood heat for his weakness. Physicians hope for the recovery of John C. Porter, Fort Bliss (Tex.) soldier, suffering from a broken spine, with this treatment. He has been kept in the water three months.

"One at Night - Next Day Bright"

Jexall ORDERLIES

They work naturally and form no habit. Pleasant to take, easy in action, safe and sure.

Good for children as well as adults.

Box of 50 Orderlies 50c

Glass Drugs Inc.

The Rexall Store La Grande, Oregon

Markets

PORTLAND MARKETS

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Live stock—Steady today.

Eggs—Half to a cent higher, current receipts 22c, firm 22 1/2c to 23c.

Butter—Steady.

Butterfat—Steady.

PORTLAND GRAIN MARKET

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Wheat—Hard white R. S. Best, August, $1.54; September, $1.50; northern spring, August, $1.51; September, $1.50; western red, August, $1.48; September, $1.45; BOP, hard white, August, $1.60; September, $1.60.

Oats—No. 2 white feed, August, $2.05; September, $2.05; No. 2 gray, August, $2.05; September, $2.05.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK, (AP)—Stocks—Firm; prices common crosses par to record high.

Bonds—Irregular; rail issues lower on profit taking.

Foreign exchange—Steady; Brazilian notes in a new high.

Cotton—Steady; trade buying.

Sugar—Featureless.

Coffee—Easy; commission houses selling.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat—Highly speculative; Whittier.

Corn—Steady; light country offerings.

Cattle—Irregular; better grades highest of year.

NORTH POWDER NEWS OF WEEK

NORTH POWDER, Ore. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Warren May are receiving congratulations because of the birth of a baby son to them.

Mrs. Berryman, of La Grande, arrived here Monday and is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ben E. Evans.

James Dalton Jr. and family of Nampa, Ida., are here visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dalton.

Court Barnard, of Washington, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Lee Sloan this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Craig were Baker visitors over the week-end.

The W. A. Hudson family have as their home guest this week, Mr. Hudson's niece, Miss Beryl Holt, of Salem.

Miss Eunice Brown, of Eagle Valley, is visiting with the Craig family west of town.

Charles Pearson and family were Baker visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McGrath and daughter Maxine visited

FOREST RANGER ATTACKS RUST

COVE, Ore. (Special)—L. Spurlock, a forest service man of Baker, was in Cove this week digging out black currant bushes. The foresters throughout the northwest are making a united effort to stamp out the pine blight rust that is proving fatal to pine trees in some sections. Rust spores are found in the current needles from whence they are transmitted to the forest.

Mrs. T. C. Hefty, Mrs. G. E. Barker and Mrs. T. B. Conklin were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. C. E. Lawson Tuesday.

A reception will be given at the Baptist parsonage on Friday evening, Sept. 4, in honor of the four members of Mrs. Slagton's Sunday school class, who are going away to college. They are: Gladys Barron, Earline Whaler, Claire Smith and Walter Barron. Claire will return to D. A. C. for his second year. Miss Whiler goes to the Cheney, Wash., state normal school and Gladys and Walter will go to the Monmouth state normal school.

Miss Mildred Payton, of Baker, was a Cove visitor Monday.

L. Love and L. G. Lantz, spent last week camping on the North Powder lakes, returning home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Laird and Mr. and Mrs. John Miller spent the week-end with friends and relatives at Waller, Ida., returning Monday.

Miss Esther Johnson, who has been in Pendleton for the past two months, has returned home.

FINE BREAD BAKED IN LA GRANDE

(Continued from Page One.)

lax in Butler-Nut bread, a creamy loaf made from a formula which Mr. McWilliams has perfected through many years' experience in baking.

The principal difference in Butler-Nut bread and ordinary bread lies in the kneading. For Butler-Nut bread the dough is run through a special machine called a kneaker which mixes it together through a series of rollers applied under heavy pressure.

Standard bread, which the McWilliams bakery also produces, is run through a weighing machine, then a machine called a labor which kneads the dough, up a series of lifts, along a long belt conveyor and then through a molder which puts the bread in shape to put in pans.

Patented Oven.

The new oven installed at the La Grande bakery is of patented design. It has been out but a comparatively short time and is said to have revolutionized the baking business.

Heat for the oven is provided by slab wood and is circulated through the fire in a series of large pipes. This construction keeps the heat at a constant temperature at all times. This oven over has a capacity of 404 loaves of bread every 45 minutes. Another oven almost as large is used in the baking also.

After the bread is taken from the oven by means of what looks like a huge wooden paddle with a long handle it is wrapped by an automatic wrapping machine. The one loaf in use will wrap about 100 loaves of bread an hour but the new one coming will increase the capacity to 2700 loaves every hour.

The La Grande Bakery plant now has a capacity of 10,000 loaves of bread a day.

The cake and pastry department is one in which machinery has not supplanted skilled hand labor. A cake maker must know his trade.

The cake making department a special mixer is provided to stir big batches of cake batter by machinery rather than by laborious hand methods.

The oven is electric with an arrangement whereby the cakes are baked in turn at the top and bottom and thus the cakes are baked evenly. Other than this the cake baker must do his own work.