

MANY MOVING INTO IMBLER

IMBLER, Ore. (Special).—Tuesday, September 23, will be opening day for the schools at Imbler. This past week the children have been picking over time to make up for the long winter of hard study that is ahead of them. Pupils from Sumnerville and the nearby country, are moving into Imbler to give the children the advantages of the high school.

Mrs. A. E. Prior was hostess at a dinner given last Friday in honor of the 10th birthday of her daughter, Fran, a number of which guests entertained the dinner table and covers were laid for many.

Honoring Miss Cleo Taylor of La Grande, the occasion being her twentieth birthday, Miss Mercedes Housh was hostess on Thursday evening for a delightful luncheon party. Japanese lanterns were used in decoration. After an evening of dancing and games, delicious refreshments were served.

Friday evening 25 young folks surprised Aunt Martha, this being the twenty-third birthday. Games were played, and a wonderful good time spent, after which a duty light was served. Out-of-town guests were Miss Edith Dean of Portland and Miss Clara Sheppard of La Grande.

Imbler Country Teachers. The teachers for the coming year of Imbler are: high school—Floyd L. Morana, principal; William Manger, Eva Ledbetter, and Ruth Hickman, for the grades—seventh and eight, Mrs. Ethel Morgan; fifth and sixth, Leon Howarth; third and fourth, A. J. Delap; first and second, Berna Hunter.

When Pirates and Giants Clashed

New York went baseball crazy when the Pittsburgh ball team came to New York City to play the New York Giants. Blue New York, the name of four successive world series champions, took more interest in this series of five games than it has taken in the last two world series. Apparently everyone in New York jammed up to the Polo grounds to see the Sunday double-header. The stands were completely filled an hour and a half before the game time, and it is estimated that fully 50,000 fans were turned away by the police. Photo shows police trying to stem the surge of baseball-crazed New Yorkers that attempted to crash into the ball park after the gates had been closed.

The ladies of the L. D. R. Relief society gave a dinner at the L. J. K. church last Friday evening. An excellent program was given, including musical numbers by Mrs. Bernice Westenskow, Miss Mabot Westenskow, Miss Bernice Stringham, assisted by Miss Mercedes Housh; readings by Mrs. L. A. Stringham and Mrs. L. B. Billings, and a speech by the speaker of the evening, J. L. McBride. A social time was spent and refreshments served.

Adelaide Zweifel of Sumnerville, had her tonsils and adenoids removed this week. She is doing nicely and will be able to start school next week.

Charles Thompson, who taught in the Imbler high school last year, left Monday for Wallowa, where he will teach in the high school this year.

Mrs. J. E. Johns and son of Shaw, Kansas, who have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hudson, left for their home the last of the week.

The Rev. Armstrong of Elgin is giving a series of interesting and instructive talks on "Prayer," at the Imbler church on Sunday evenings, beginning at 8 o'clock. The community is invited to hear him.

Miss Muriel Pear left for her home in Stanfield to attend school. She has been spending her vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Knausger.

Mrs. H. C. Green and children returned this week from a three week visit with relatives in Hood river.

Auto Wreck Injures Man. Frank Ott of Sumnerville met with a serious accident Sunday when the car in which he was riding turned over, dislocating his knee and breaking his leg. He was taken to the Grande Ronde hospital.

Mrs. Molly McDowell of Sumnerville left this week for Woodland, Calif., where she will remain for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Keown of La Grande, spent Sunday with Mrs. Ellis Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McCoy and children and Mrs. Ethel McFall and children left for Irkutsk, Ore., for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Edna Long was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. August Dickson of La Grande Saturday and Sunday.

Three new cars were purchased by Imblerites last week. Charles Thompson and Tom Perry purchased a Buick of an Elmer and Wilford Westenskow of a Chevrolet coach.

Louis Cleaver and Clay Fox, Jr., returned from a camping trip to Wallowa, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dingman.

Answers found in the examination papers of another class revealed that the motor truck still holds mysteries for some, even in this mechanical age.

"Only Pence"

"What causes heavy black smoke to come out of the exhaust pipe of a truck?" the class was asked. "It is the only place it can come out," replied a candidate.

"What is the purpose of a fan on a motor truck?" was another question.

"To supply fresh air to the engine," was one answer.

"Give a reason why a motor truck fails to start when cranked," directed the examiner.

"A motor truck will sometimes fail to start if the driver is too weak to crank it," answered one job seeker.

"If you found a man with a severe cut on the head that was bleeding freely, what would you do?" another class was asked.

"I would put a tourniquet on his neck," announced one student of first aid.

May Solve Ancient Mysteries

Through this Maya Indian, Tata, scientists at Tulane University, New Orleans, hope to clear up the mysteries surrounding the origin and one time advanced civilization of his tribe. Tata owns a small farm in the wilds near Chiapas, Mexico, and was brought back to this country by Oliver Lafarge, right, above, and Franz Blom, leaders of the university expedition into Central America. Lafarge has learned the Mayan dialect and will question Tata for two months at the university.

Russia to Celebrate 200th Year of Its Science Academy

MOSCOW (AP).—The Russian Academy of Science at Leningrad is preparing for the forthcoming celebration of the 200th anniversary to take place in September. Organized on an extensive scale, the celebration will last for nearly a fortnight, the first week of which will be devoted to festivities in Leningrad and the second week to festivities in Moscow. Invitations to attend the celebrations have been addressed to representatives of scientific institutions of every country and already 105 foreign scientists of various countries have accepted. The Soviet government is preparing for them an appropriate welcome and free traveling tickets will await the scientists at the Soviet missions abroad which will be handed to them simultaneously with the granting of visas to enter Russia.

In Leningrad and Moscow the museums are being arranged to furnish a more telling display of all the scientific materials accumulated there during the past two centuries. At the same time there will be an exhibition of the specific activities of the different institutions which form part of the academy.

All institutions of the academy will have memorial art publications devoted to their past and present activities. Three special large jubilee publications will be issued by the academy, including the unpublished works of Academician Lapunoff on mathematics and physics, the Ossetian dictionary of Miller and the works of Academician Shakhmatoff.

Among the exhibits which will be specially arranged in connection with the bi-centenary celebrations will be three special exhibits of the Asiatic Museum devoted to miniature literature and autographs. The archives of the academy will hold an exhibition of documents illustrating the history of the academy and the life and labors of its prominent members, beginning with Lomonosoff, "the father of Russian science."

The Russian Academy of Science embraces 46 scientific institutions with 482 members. It has on its list 144 Russian and 169 foreign correspondents.

Nearly all museums belonging to the academy have greatly enlarged since the revolution. The library of the academy includes 4,000,000 books and manuscripts.

Information has been received that a number of American scientists will participate in the celebration. Among those who promised to attend the jubilee from other countries are Prof. Einstein, William Ramsay, Samuel Levy and Mme. Curie.

What Is Your Financial Ambition In Life?

At what age do you hope to retire from active work, and how much of an estate do you want to have accumulated at that time?

If you are 35 today, with moderate income, would you like to have $25,000 accumulated at age 60 that will pay you a guaranteed return of 7% annually?

You can accomplish that—and do it by saving only a comparatively small amount for the next 104 months in the La Grande Building & Loan investment. Quit saving after that time but re-invest the principal—and it will build your estate for you.

Let us help you budget your savings and show you what various amounts will accumulate for you. Come in or call for an appointment.
