Union County Girls TakePart in Capers

Miss Inez Ebert, of La Grande, and Miss Audrey DeLap, of Union were among the girls taking part in the annual campus capers at the Washington State Normal school. Each club was requested to contribute to the entertainment and the Oregon club, of which the girls are members, chose the rose festival parade because it is considered one of Oregon's most typical attractions.

Miss Ebert and Miss DeLap were selected as princesses to the queen of Rosaria.

Birthday Party Honors Mrs. Smith

A pleasant afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. Milo Bickland, at Island City, Friday when Mrs. Bickland entertained with a birthday party honoring Mrs. Dick Smith. A number of friends were present and after an enjoyable time dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Smith received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Those present were: Mrs. Ben Williamson, Mrs. Everett Bickland, Mrs. Dick Smith, Mrs. Orlan Anson, Mrs. Lee Smith, Mrs. O. J. Burnett, Mrs. John Bowery, Mrs. Ward Smith, Mrs. D. Dean, Mrs. Lester Springfield, Mrs. Orin Pepper, Mrs. B. G. Burnett, Miss Garnet Bowery, Miss Enid Burnett and the hostess.

Indian Blanket

An Indian blanket of intricate design and gorgeous coloring was the material selected to make this sport coat. It is lined with bright red flannel.

Sister Mary Says:

(By Sister Mary)

Breakfast: Baked pears, cereal, thin cream, fish and potato puffs, corn meal muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Cauliflower on toast with cheese, lettuce salad, toasted muffins, apple sauce, milk, tea.

Dinner: Broiled sirloin steak, baked potatoes, peppers stuffed with corn, apple and celery salad, plum pudding, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

The "plum pudding" sounds like Christmas but this pudding is made with fresh plums and stale cake crumbs.

Of course, children under six years of age are not served the stuffed peppers suggested in the dinner menu but a well-balanced meal is provided for them without this vegetable.

Cauliflower on Toast.

One large cauliflower, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons cold water, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup fine dried bread crumbs, ½ cup grated cheese, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 cup milk, 4 tablespoons cream.

Let cauliflower stand head down in cold salted water for one-half hour. Drain and separate into flowerettes. Boil in slightly salted boiling water until tender but not broken or mushy. Drain. Thoroughly mix crumbs and cheese. Dip cauliflower in crumb mixture, then in egg slightly beaten with cold water, salt, and pepper. Roll again in crumbs and put into a well-buttered baking dish. Brown quickly in a hot oven. Remove from baking dish to squares of hot buttered toast and pour over the toast only a white sauce made by melting butter, stirring in flour and slowly adding milk and cream, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and let boil two minutes.

Hurricane Sweeps Through Holland

POTASH TRADE IS INCREASING

BERLIN. (AP)—Potash concerns are among the very few German industries that have not suffered materially as a result of the past war financial and industrial crises. They not only have not suffered, but have succeeded in almost tripling their business.

During the first six months of the year 1925 the amount of potash sold by the German industries amounted to 730,000 tons which is almost three times the amount disposed of during the same period of the preceding year and also represents a vast increase over the total of 520,000 tons of the prewar record year 1913. Every ounce of the stock left over from last winter has been sold, and all the concerns to day are working at full blast.

This showing of the German potash business is regarded as quite remarkable in view of the fact that Germany's world monopoly of the business suddenly was broken by the loss of the Alsatian mines in France, followed by the discovery of promising potash deposits in Texas, Spain, Galicia, the Balkans, Mexico and elsewhere.

As to the competitive menace likely to emanate from the newly discovered deposits in other parts of the world, opinions in German potash circles are divided. The heads of one group ridicule the idea of these new potash finds proving competitive in the near future, since, in consequence of the extraordinary potash demand, the reopening of abandoned pits is being considered. On the other hands, the heads of the other group represented by Director Rossberg of the powerful Winterhall concern, are inclined to view this prospective foreign competition with some uneasiness.

To counteract such a danger, perhaps, the Winterhall concern has started the chemical refining of potash on a large scale. At Kaiserroda on the Werra, a chloride of potassium factory is being erected at the cost of several million dollars which promises to become one of the largest chemical enterprises in Germany.

Republicans Pessimistic About Irish Treason Act

DUBLIN (AP)—The new Treason Act of the Free State is being actively administered, and the Republicans declare that it will provoke a recrudescence of the old struggle. Prosecutions have been instituted against Republicans on the charge that they are members of an illegal military organization which holds courts martial. One man was said to have been court martialed for recognizing a Free State court.

Searches are reported to have revealed some remarkable documents, one of which dated April 22, 1925, signed by Frank Aiken, once chief of staff of Eamon De Valera's forces, lays down the attitude to be assumed by Republicans toward the Free State and Northern governments to which allegiance must be denied.

Another document captured at Kilkee, County Clare, deals with members of the Republican army who contemplate emigration. They must certify that they are forced to leave Ireland by extreme economic distress. They are then put on a "foreign reserve list" for a period of five years, and pledge themselves while abroad to increase their efficiency as soldiers. The emigrant undertakes to save up the price of a return passage and come back immediately when called.

Opera Successful in Palestine

JERUSALEM, (AP)—The Hebrew Opera company, organized only two years ago, has proved that it can successfully conduct opera in Palestine. The company has produced seven operas with a total of 51 performances and the proceeds have been more than enough to cover investment and expenditures.

The company has grown from a small group of enthusiastic opera lovers, mobilized by Dr. Golinkin, a former conductor of Leningrad.

Style Hints From Europe

(By the Associated Press)

Shawls are to be fashionable in England this winter because Queen Mary has made up her mind to do the women of the north Scotland islands a favor.

The queen follows with great interest the fortunes of the island folk and has become much perturbed that there is considerable poverty among the women there owing to the demand for Shetland shawls having fallen off in recent years.

In society circles the word has gone around that the queen intends to bring about a revival as soon as possible.

To do all that is necessary is for the queen, Princess Mary and the Duchess of York to wear shawls on a few occasions. Then the shawl will come again into its own, helping to make the Shetland weavers happy once more.

Bustles, too, are coming back—in the form of dresses with a sort of old style bustle effect. Such dresses are being shown now at London's fall fashion shows.

There are also dresses with flat backs, dresses that hang straight, dresses that flare, long skirts, short skirts, pannier skirts, skirts that are gathered and others that preserve the familiar 'pencil silhouette.'

There are evening gowns with one, two or three trains and some the skirt of which consists of three frills, the lowest of which stops just below the knees.

The most startling novelty is a "snakeskin dress" of the softness of chiffon velvet, stamped to resemble the skin of a serpent. The illusion is heightened by the fact that the dress is of narrow strips, strips of material, giving a shaded effect.

That nice old Panama hat can be made to make stunning new shoes for a number of Paris bootmakers have decided that panama footgear should go with the Panama hat and this feature might as well be added to the list of fashion tricks.

These shoes, however, are nothing to the very latest foot covering which was exhibited at the modern arts exhibition where the showing of one of the leading dressmakers is a shoe made of black lace, so sheer and so perforated that over gilt leaf stockings they make the feet appear naked.

The tendency toward gold and silver stockings has been shown by a noticeable number of dressmakers who this season, more than ever are trying to harmonize shoes and stockings with gowns.

The flapping "Oxford Bags," those balloon type trousers, have gone the way of all extreme fads in conservative England.

They say it took millions of years to make us what we are and still we don't appreciate it.

"This is not as our fathers did"

The civilization of the Chinese is old—older than the oldest records that are musty and yellow with age. Yet China today enjoys very few of our modern improvements. The Chinese do not welcome change. They object to innovation, saying "This is not as our fathers did!"

Imagine an American today saying that he did not want electricity because his father was satisfied with candles!

Why have we progressed?

Advertising, more than anything else, has made of us a nation willing to judge something new on its merits, rather than on narrow, ancient traditions.

Advertising today is as necessary as electricity, sanitation and rapid transit. It is more than the system by which we are informed of every new improvement that is to our advantage. It is the catalog wherein, every day, all manner of articles are listed for use with their individual advantages.

Read the advertisements. Be guided by them. They will save you money.

TO BUY THE NEW IS TO PROGRESS—TO LEARN OF IT FIRST IS TO READ ADVERTISING.
