Perpetual Hiker

Fifty weeks a year, J. W. Merry, Seattle mail carrier, hikes 12 miles a day. The other two weeks he takes a vacation and rests up. And his "rest" for eight years has consisted of taking a long hike. This year he reached the top of Mount Hunter, one of the most difficult in the country to climb.

LORD BALTIMORE POUND PAPER

For those who have a host of friends with whom they are frequently corresponding, we suggest Lord Baltimore Pound Paper and Envelopes.

This combination is already popular with thousands and thousands who are quick to recognize an exceptionally good value. By way of suggestion, see that your children have a good supply of Lord Baltimore Pound Paper and Envelopes before they go away to school. It will make it convenient for them to write those letters that mean so much to you, 50 sheets of paper and 50 envelopes.

Record Swim!

Speaking of swimming feats, Otto Kimmrich, noted German paddler, is taking a world record in his 27-mile jaunt from Fernman Island in the Baltic Sea to Wasmund, making the distance in 37 hours. He was unaccompanied through the rough water having only a thermos bottle of beef tea, a compass and wrist watch with him.

Dr. A. Jones of New Mexico, Democrat.

Senator Capper stated Monday he was greatly interested and deeply impressed. "I think the league is on the right track," he said, "and a sound, good work with possibilities of accomplishing a good deal more. However, I have not changed from the view I have held for several years, and I think it inadvisable for the United States to join the league."

Senator Capper, Walsh and Jones had luncheon with Austin Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, and Lord Robert Cecil at the International club Monday. The luncheon was followed by speeches of an informal character and a feeling of cordiality was evident among the British and American statesmen.

MORE PLUMBERS NEEDED
 SALEM, Ore.—Classes for the instruction of plumbers' apprentices, under the direction of local plumbers' unions in various parts of the state, will be organized soon, according to announcement made by Theodore Barr, president of the Oregon State Plumbers' association.

A. R. Nichols of Corvallis will have general charge of the movement. The expense of the instruction will be paid by the state and government. Mr. Barr said the organization of these classes was necessary because of the shortage of journeyman plumbers throughout the United States.

Older Girls Session Ends.

MEDEFORD, Ore.—The southern Oregon Older Girls conference at its closing session selected Coos Bay for next year's conference meeting and elected the following officers: Esther Palmer, Medford, vice president for this conference for the state conference; Florence Howe, Medford, secretary; and Julia Howe, Marshfield, chairman of booster committee. The Coos Bay trip of the conference was called off because of the weather.

Receiver Named for Mine.

MEDEFORD, Ore.—An order appointing Arthur L. Hill receiver of the Allionaire mine property in the Gold Hill district has been signed by the circuit court, with instructions "to conserve the resources of the property." The application for a receiver was filed as part of a complaint asking for an accounting of the mine affairs by stockholders last week.

SUICIDE'S NAME KNOWN

SALEM, Ore.—The police established the identity of a man who committed suicide here early in August as William Hanniver of San Francisco. The identification was established through a letter from a San Francisco bank acknowledging receipt of $325 sent to the institution by Mr. Hanniver the day before his body was found. Mr. Hanniver's son, a resident of San Francisco, telegraphed that he would arrive here today.

At the time Mr. Hanniver arrived in Salem a month before he committed suicide he registered at a lodging house under the name of William Sullivan. He was 55 years of age.

YOUNG FUGITIVES FOUND

SALEM, Ore.—C. W. Barrieh, district attorney of Tillamook county, while traveling north over the Pacific highway, picked up Minnie Ward, Ruby Chapman, Thelma Traver and Louis Hall, who had slipped away from the children's farm home near Corvallis. The district attorney brought the children to Salem, where they were turned over to the police. They were returned to the institution.

Holiday Quiet at Eugene.

EUGENE, Ore.—Labor day in Eugene was quieter than the average Sunday. All stores, banks and offices were closed, and a large number of residents of the city drove to outside points: hundreds attending the celebrations at Florence and Wendling. The affair at Florence was an observance of the letting of the first contract in Lane county of the Roosevelt highway and that at Wendling was staged by the U. L. organization.

NEWBERG AUTOIST HURT

HOOD RIVER, Ore.—Wendell Wilson, employe of the United States National bank of Newberg, sustained bad face and leg injuries when the automobile in which he was riding collided with a machine driven by Walter McCoy of Odell on the Mount Hood loop highway.

Mr. Wilson and Dr. E. T. Root, Newberg dentist, entered the loop road from the Odell lateral on the McCoy machine turned a blind curve. A fragment of broken windshield had open Mr. Wilson's cheek. He was brought here for surgical attention. Dr. Root's injuries were minor, and McCoy escaped unhurt.

One Lucky Man

Living with a broken neck is as tiresome as a broken leg. But Norman E. Butler of St. Joseph, Mo., with the aid of a special brace has been able to return to work after fracturing his neck by diving into a lake.

Man Released to Support Family
 SALEM, Ore.—Forest Brown, who was fined $200 and sentenced to six months in the Marion county prison on a liquor charge, has been relieved by Governor Pierce, according to announcement made here. Brown has served his jail sentence. Under the terms of the reprieve he will not be compelled to pay his fine provided he provides for the support of his wife and children. The reprieve was recommended by the Marion county officials.

Death Ship Shows No Damage

The excursion steamer, Moshine, back at her wharf in Newport, R. I., after her ill-fated trip, shows little damage by the boiler explosion which took 51 lives. Practically all of the damage was done in the boiler room, and most of the victims died of inhaling steam, rather than of injuries from violence of the explosion.
