Berlin Has One Restaurant Or Saloon to Each 250 Persons

BERLIN (AP)—Statistics show that the city of Berlin contains 15,350 restaurants and saloons. This represents a proportion of one public house for every 250 inhabitants. As most of these restaurants or saloons are located in the city proper, the proportion is really one to 116. The suburb of Stieglitz can boast of being the most temperate of all Greater Berlin's districts. For here the proportion is but one public house to every 428 inhabitants.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE By Condo

La Grande Theatres

"The Bandolero," Coming to Sherrys, is Thrilling Film.

"The Bandolero," a romance of Spain, in which the vendetta of parents and the love of a boy and girl are woven against a background of bullfights and mountain brigandage, coming to Sherrys Sunday for three days.

This photodrama, which was photographed in Cuba and in natural locations in Spain, is based on the novel by Paul Gwynne, and was adapted and directed by Tom Terriss.

Pedro de Cordoba has the title role of Dorando, the Bandolero, or brigand chief, who is a Spanish version of Robin Hood. He has been driven to outlawry by his discovery that the Marquesa de Torre (Gustav von Seyffertitz) is making unwelcome love to his wife who is killed in the fight that follows. Dorando sends his daughter (Heuse Adorne) away to be brought up by a servant. Then as the first step in his avenged revenge he kidnaps the marquesa's son (Eaton) (Manuel Granado) whom he hides away in the mountains—but not so far from his daughter's retreat that the young persons do not meet and fall in love with one another. Then the hatred of the fathers and the love of their children work to a dramatic climax.

The making of this picture by Mr. Terriss and his company was almost as exciting in spots as the story they were depicting. Once, for instance, Mr. Terriss was surrounded by a herd of bulls when looking over in order to find a good one for the bullfight which is one of the important episodes. Every one else ran when the bulls got curious, but Mr. Terriss stood stone still, and let them sniff at him until reinforcements arrived and drove the bulls away.

Manuel Granado, a young Argentine, makes his screen debut in "The Bandolero." Mr. Terriss, who personally selected him for the juvenile lead has said that he believes Mr. Granado is at the beginning of a career in pictures. Showing the stereoscopic, "Runaway Taxi."

"A Runaway Taxi," Stereoscopic, Coming to Sherrys.

"A Runaway Taxi," coming to Sherrys another of the three-dimensional films known as Inventional "stereoscopic" will be released by Pathe on September 6. Pictures of this entertaining series already being shown are "Zowie!" "Onch!" and "Lunatic."

The latest "stereoscopic" is indeed a thriller. The wild ride the spectator takes in the taxi would be thrilling in an ordinary film but when shown in a picture that gives a sense of depth and perspective the effect is infinitely more exciting.

The climax of this ultrathriller is said to be one that will make the most jaded theater-goer jump out of his seat, and fall back gasping for breath.

Diversified Entertainment Is Promised.

Yandeville with all its frills and fancies and a well selected company of talented artists in comedy novelty, song and dance will be seen at the Arcade Theatre on Sunday next.

The sensation of the present are in "Surprise and Thrills." The Aerial Bartlett, without a doubt have the best act of its kind that has played the circuit in years. Their work is the last work in cleverness and daring. Ambassador Crowley, "One of the Four Horsemen," in his pleasing monologue and yodeling offering. His act borders on current events and is full of laughter and song. Jack Jackson Trio in "Jazz and Jazz-eyes" present about the funniest act in vaudeville when it comes to get and speed—a fast dancing and musical number. Hollis Sisters in "Mirthful Moments," are two talented young ladies, tastefully costumed. Their songs are new and their voices blend in perfect harmony and they are pleasing to behold. Shadowettes is a show within a show, a miniature stage showing a transparency with several brilliantly colored scenes and a series of animated paintings; also human and animal comedy effects.
