COURT HOLDS EDITOR.
 NEWPORT, Ore., Oct. 1.—Robert E. Thayer, editor of the Newport Journal, was bound over to the grand jury, in Justice R. V. Black's court on a criminal complaint instigated by Fred Coffeen, city recorder of Newport.
 The Journal published a letter to the effect that a man had been arrested and fined by city official and that the money had been victoriously stolen from the victim.
 Mr. Coffeen, the city recorder, stated on the witness stand that he has no record showing such a case ever came before him.

A high brow is one who thinks he can think better than others.

"Rainbow Trail" At Star Is Stirring Story

Pictureque frontier life, in towns where gunplay was a daily exercise and bullets settled arguments instead of words, is vividly dramatized in "The Rainbow Trail" Tom Mix' latest William Fox starring vehicle, which opens on Friday at the Star Theatre.

"The Rainbow Trail" one of Zane Grey's pulsating and dramatic narratives of the old west, is another of that famous author's works to be transcribed to the screen by the noted Fox western star. It follows "The Last of the Dinners" and "Riders of the Purple Sage."

Profusely scattered through the picture are many new Mix thrills. Lynn Remonds, veteran director of western dramas, noted for his thoroughness and realism, directs Tom Mix in the latest Zane Grey story.

Anne Cornwall, George Baneroff, Diana Miller, Lucien Littlefield, Mark Hamilton, Carol Holloway, Fred Hellwig and Steve Clemente are cast in the other major roles in support of the western star.

Sol Lesser Again Shows His Showmanship Genius

First discovery and then establishing Baby Peggy and Jackie Coogan as the greatest child stars in the cinema world didn't cause Sol Lesser to rest on well earned laurels as many men would. His highly sensitized perspective and the best in the show game keeps him in exhaustive momentum for achievements, which will benefit his brother showmen. Now one of the greatest coupes of his triumphant life in the motion picture industry has just materialized.

Sol Lesser has just the pleasure of presenting at the Sherry Theatre Baby Peggy in "Helen's Babies," a principal Pictures Master Production from the world's greatest seller by John Habberton.

You often read about some books being "best sellers" but statistics prove that John Habberton's "Helen's Babies" is in every sense

Ben Lyon Has Role of "He-Man" Sheik

Ben Lyon, whose several recent screen roles have presented him as the victim of the wiles of a dignifying femininity, is to be seen in a strenuous "he-man" role in "The Pace That Thrills"—a First National picture which opens at the Arcade Theatre today.

In this photoplay Ben has the role of a Hollywood sheik who, tired of being pampered and petted, goes out to win a girl by proving that he is the he-man his fans believe him to be.

To do this he goes "bersek" at a prize fight, knocks out a couple of prize fighters, fights a dozen or more policemen on duty at the ring-side, and then later gives his producer heart failure by "doubt-ling" for his double and driving a racing car in an international automobile race.

Sharing co-starring honors in "The Pace That Thrills" is Mary Astor, who is cast in the role of the motion picture producer's daughter. Others in the cast of the Earl Hudson production are Tully Marshall, Ethel Bronte, Warner Richmond, Thomas Holding, Evelyn Walsh Hall, Charles Boyer and others.

Thinking they were having a free-for-all fight, fourteen men in Chicago found it cost them $100 each.

Habberton wrote this book forty years ago. Since then it has been published in every known language on the face of the globe. It is estimated that at some time or another it has been in every fourth home in every civilized country. Over 442 publishers in America, alone have published editions of it, each edition including a quarter of a million or more copies.

This was certainly a coup for Sol Lesser, president of Principal Pictures Corporation, to be able to secure the exclusive rights to adapt this marvellously true story of home life to the screen. Comely showing "Below Zero"

Castle hats style

The poor fellow simply couldn't resist taking another man's CASTLE hat. Don't blame him too much. There's such fine style in a Castle hat that even a good man might be tempted.
