"Wife of the Centaur" Promises Something New for La Grande

A motion picture story of a decidedly different sort is promised for the Sherry theater when King Vidor's "Wife of the Centaur" opens today for an engagement of five days.

Adapted from the sensational novel by Cyril Hume, the picture tells, rather than the typical love story, the story of a man with many loves; a man who hates himself for his infidelity, but who can not resist temptation.

"That every man, like the centaur of mythology, is 'half man and half beast,'" is the theory on which Hume based his story. The "centaur" played by John Gilbert, is a romantic, picturesque figure, in whom conflicting emotions are always struggling. He holds a high idealistic love for one woman, but cannot resist the attraction of others.

Vidor has filmed the story. It is reported, with remarkable fidelity to the book, and has given it a screen translation with many striking scenes and contrasts.

Eleanor Boardman and Aileen Pringle are cast in the leading feminine roles, as the two women love.

The supporting cast, which is an

Auto Stolen

SANDY, Ore.—A stolen automobile that was wrecked two miles west of Sandy on the Mount Hood loop road a few weeks ago, has been dismantled little by little and now not a scrap of the car remains. A few days ago a man was seen with a cashless and his arm, the best visible part of the car, and he was searching in the grass, presumably for bolts. The tires and so many accessories had been taken immediately after the wreck and before the owner of the machine was found that it was thought useless to haul the body of the car away.
