Priest Returns Home; Was Received by Pope

Catholic guard to make the pilgrimage to the holy city.

He was present at the holy mass offered by the pope in the time-honored cathedral known as St. Peter's. Sixteen thousand international Holy Scouts and 60,000 other pilgrims from all parts of the world were present for the occasion.

Father Nooy was privileged to a private audience with his holiness, and received from the pope special blessing for his work, his relatives, his parishioners and the sick under his care.

The pilgrims then paid visits to the most noteworthy churches of Rome, 450 in number, of which 200 are regarded as world masterpieces. They went to the catacombs, where the early Catholics held services and buried their dead, to the Colosseum, the scene of early Christian martyrdom, to the Roman Forum, the missionary exposition and the Vatican museum. The museum is two miles long and contains 4000 halls of large dimensions.

Further trips took the La Grande priest through the various countries of the continent in many of which he enjoyed the celebration of religious festivals.

The vacation was Father Nooy's first in 15 years. He expressed the wish today that more of his people might enjoy trips so educational and edifying and so much more to be desired than the exclusively pleasure-bound expeditions.

The Rev. Alphonse Steiler, who has supplied the pulpit during Father Nooy's absence, has returned to St. Anthony, Idaho.

Widow Receives $4000 Damages

MARSHFIELD, Ore.—Florence Colby of North Bend was awarded $4000 damages by a jury verdict in Coos county circuit court here in her $25,000 suit against the Empire Logging company for the death of her husband, Grant Colby, victim of an accident due to alleged carelessness on the part of the company.

Sister Mary Says:

(By Sister Mary)

Breakfast—Baked pears, cereal, thin cream, French toast, syrup, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Scalloped onions and celery, whole wheat bread, cup custard, butter-scratch cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner—Baked leg of mutton, potatoes in parsley butter, mashed turnips, currant jelly, cranberry rolls, head lettuce with Russian dressing, canned cherries, plain cake, milk, coffee.

When you choose a leg of mutton be sure that the fat is hard, white and flaky. This is an indication of good meat. Remove the pinkish skin and trim off any superfluous fat before cooking. This will overcome that strong flavor disliked by so many persons.

Obituary

JACOB S. HOIX

Jacob S. Hoix, 91, for 20 years a rancher in the Grande Ronde valley, was buried in the cemetery at Cove Friday afternoon following funeral services conducted at the Methodist Episcopal church. Snodgrass & Zimmerman were in charge.

Mr. Hoix had been making his home with a son, W. E. Hoix, at Freewater, Ore., where he died Wednesday, October 28, of complications accompanying old age. He was brought to Cove for burial beside his wife, who died 10 years ago. Surviving him besides the son with whom he lived are four children: Mrs. Ora White, and Fred Hoix of Freewater; Mrs. H. F. Bell and H. J. Hoix of Cove.

The decedent was a former resident of Texas, coming to Oregon from that state 20 years ago. He was 91 years, eight months and five days old at his death.

Reformation Day Will Be Observed in City

Tens of thousands of protestant churches throughout the United States and Canada will celebrate with the 14,000 Lutheran churches the 401st anniversary of the protestant reformation, according to the Rev. W. F. Holl. Beginning some years ago, Lutheran congregations began the annual observance of Reformation day on October 31 or on the Sunday just before and after that date. It was on October 31, 1517, that Dr. Martin Luther, the Friar of Wittenberg, nailed to the church door of that city the famous 95 Theses protesting certain practices among the clergy and laity of the church. The reformation anniversary will be observed at the regular morning services of the Zion English Lutheran church.

When two young folks get their heads together they can do wonders with all the dance steps.

Message No. 42, From: OREGON TRAIL FOX FARM, H. W. Smith, Prop., La Grande, Ore.

OTHERS are thinking just as you are, plenty would purchase silver fox, but so many have their money tied up in investment companies. Nearly every one of the FIVE THOUSAND people who visited my farm in the last two years were surprised and enthused at my QUALITY PELTS, the animals, and farm in general.

Don't delay too long in deciding, or you will have to wait till next season; no fooling.

SUPERSTITION NOT KILLED, THOMAS SAYS

habbing apple; to see one's intended, to be beloved by the person named.

The superstitious beliefs still retained by the old type of mountaineers are in general those brought to Kentucky by English and Scotch-Irish ancestors, said Dr. Thomas, although superstitions are not alone confined to mountaineers hereabouts. He said that a canvass of believers in superstition at Harvard only as far back as 1911 showed but 26.8 per cent of the faculty to be entirely free from superstition.

Dr. Thomas declared superstitious beliefs were more persistent and widespread than most persons would suspect. He traced their origin to desire of mankind to penetrate into the secret will, display the mystery of life and the universe. Primitive man, in his fear of evils that he did not understand, sought to avoid disaster by any means he could find.

One of Kentucky's native sons, Abraham Lincoln, used to walk on certain sides of the street.

Of the 4000 superstitions listed, 254 were devoted to marriage, 513 to hard luck, 277 to good luck, 263 to death and 86 to money.

A favorite Blue Grass belief, that a filly cannot win the Kentucky Derby, was cited as superstition No. 2414 with the comment, however, that this tradition was broken in 1915.

Football warriors, battling today, were captioned that the teams that lost first blood would lose.
