HEALTH

SCARLET FEVER
(By Dr. Frederick Stricker)

Why is scarlet fever prevalent in Oregon? Largely because mild cases are not diagnosed and properly isolated. Thirty-six cases were reported for the week ending October 24, 1925.

Why is scarlet fever a dangerous disease of childhood? Because two to four persons out of every 100 infected die from the disease itself, and its complications and consequences are even more serious.

Are "scarlatina" and "scarlet rash" forms of scarlet fever? Yes. It is through the mild cases that the disease is most often spread.

What ages are most susceptible to scarlet fever? It may be contracted at any age, but more than 95 per cent of all cases occur in persons less than 15 years old. Children between 5 and 10 years are most susceptible.

At what time of the year is scarlet fever most prevalent? Epidemics are most prevalent in the fall and winter.

How is it spread? By contact with persons ill with the disease or with articles that have been contaminated with the germ. If the germs get into the milk supply a milk-borne epidemic will follow.

How long after the infection do symptoms develop? From one to seven days.

What are the first symptoms? Headache, fever, sore throat, vomiting. The rash appears in 24 to 48 hours.

When is scarlet fever communicable? Throughout the entire course of the disease. Completion of the healing or peeling does not mark the end of the infection period, for the germs are prevalent in the secretions of the throat, nose, ears, kidneys and bowels.

What are the secondary effects? Inflammation of the kidneys is a common one. Complications of the ear are numerous, scarlet fever being one of the most common causes of deafness in children.

Is there any protection against scarlet fever? Yes. There is a susceptibility test known as the Dick test. There is also an antitoxin for immunizing the susceptible.

How long should scarlet fever be quarantined? Not less than 21 days.

Suffers Rare Disease; He Dies

WAINCHESTER, Va. (AP)—Claiming his health has been permanently injured by manganese poisoning, considered one of the rarest of toxic afflictions, Garrett H. Hann of Shenandoah county has entered suit against his former employer, a manganese mining company, for $25,000 damages. In his petition he said international specialists had treated him. He accuses the mining company of not complying with state health laws.

FORMER BREWERS NOW U. S. PROHIBITION AGENTS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A number of former brew masters in the recent role of prohibition agents, now are on duty at cereal beverage plants in this district to prevent the making and distribution of beer containing more than the legal alcoholic content.

Frederick C. Baird, prohibition administrator, hit upon the plan of utilizing the expert knowledge of former brew masters in spotting the flow of illegal beer into the Pittsburgh district.

The brownmaster-dry agent is stationed at near-beer plants suspected of violating the law with instructions to test each barrel of product that is hauled to the loading platform.

10 Quarts of Ice Cream Each

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Enough ice cream will be produced in the United States this year to provide every man, woman and child with ten quarts or more.

Fred Rasmussen, executive secretary of associated ice cream manufacturers, said a survey showed that the year's output will total more than 1,200,000,000 quarts. There are approximately 4000 ice cream plants.

CHESTNUT FACES EXTINCTION AS AMERICAN DELICACY

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—The chestnut as an American delicacy is facing extinction. Plant pathologists and foresters at Cornell University say the reason is a serious blight communicated from tree to tree by the wind, a contamination which has been unhampered during the last 20 years.

The disease, which these pathologists describe as incurable, makes the situation more serious. The blight was first discovered in a Brooklyn park in 1904, but it was not until two years ago that it was discovered in other parts of the country.

Light Plant Curtails Service.

VERNONIA, Ore.—On account of the light fall of rain in the Nehalem valley this fall, Vernonia has been without electricity for the past three weeks during the afternoons. The Vernonia Light & Power company, who have their large turbine plant located at Keasey, 10 miles above Vernonia, have been shutting the plant down to conserve water for the evening run.

ASTORIA WATER SUPPLY LOW

ASTORIA, Ore.—City Manager Kneib has reported, after an examination of the city water supply, that the reservoir there is at its lowest ebb since 1914. The condition is attributed to the fall drought. The manager states that unless there is considerable rainfall in the next 30 days the situation may reach a serious stage.

Loyal Legion Meets at Westport

WESTPORT, Ore.—Districts 1, 2 and 3 of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen, held a joint meeting here with 28 delegates in attendance. Officers of the legion, following the meeting, declined to reveal the nature of the discussion, but declared that no new were not considered. Harmony prevailed, they said.

FOX TERRIER BEST HOME DOG IN BRITAIN; AIREDALE IS THE NEXT

LONDON (AP)—The fox terrier is the most popular home dog in the United Kingdom.

The shaggy airedale, which many owners believe to be the most human, ranked second. Kennel club statistics showed that already this year 7000 fox terriers have been registered.

The dachshund continued to slump in popularity. The pro-war number was 232 and in 1924 it was 154. Registration the first eight months of this year totaled 117.

The dog population in the kingdom is approaching the three million mark.
