PENDLETON BEATEN BY LA GRANDE

of the two schools.

The victory marked the definite passing of Pendleton's jinx on La Grande and was the first triumph for the local team since the Umatilla county season over the Umatilla county season since 1919. And it left La Grande still very prominently in the running for the Eastern Oregon championship honors.

Landry and Hughes Star. The greatest players of the day were Hughes, left tackle, who actually turned Pendleton back when the visitors were riding on a yard-gaining swell in the last half, and Landry, left guard. Hughes was taken from the game in the second quarter because of injuries and rushed back into the lineup in the third quarter, just in time to cause Pendleton a loss of 10 yards in two downs by tearing through the opposing line and tucking the backs for losses with a reckless abandon. Landry was a mountain of defense throughout.

Landry and Hughes' work was the preface on both offense and defense seen here for many, many moons. Supporting them was the left side of the line that Pendleton couldn't crash for yards. Practically all of their gains via line thrusts were on the right side. Cullen, at center, played an excellent game as did Zundel, left end, and Samu, right guard, did his share in efficient manner.

Backs Startle Backs. The La Grande back field throughout kept the Bucks in a state of continuous apprehension, which was even added impetus when McKennon, footloose right half, zipped around end and then 50 yards up field to a touchdown early in the game. Price, Paus and Glass battered the Pendleton line almost at will for yardage.

Price's greatest achievement, however, was his punting. Forty-yard boots were common and once he lifted the pigskin 50 yards. Hatton, Pendleton kicker, was outclassed.

Pendleton's scoring came in a lurch, in the third quarter. La Grande kicked to Pendleton, attempts to gain yardage failed, and Cummings was brought back from the line to punt. He did and after a La Grande player tried to get it, just touching the ball, Glass hit it snip through his fingers and Hatton snatched it up and carried it over.

La Grande kicked off a Pendleton player caught it, slipped, passed it to Johnson, who ran 70 yards upfield for the goal line. But referee Nourse ruled the pass a forward pass and therefore illegal, which made Johnson's work null and void.

Pendleton took the ball on its own 25-yard line. Johnson gained one foot, then one yard, and another yard, and then the fifty fifties pass combination of Johnson to Sullivan took effect. Sullivan snatched Johnson's aerial thrust 15 yards from the line of scrimmage and took it up field for a score. His run was through a broken field and before he got there, he was forced to shake off several La Grande tacklers. Let it be said that Pendleton played real football in the third quarter.

La Grande Defends Sure. That ended the scoring, although both teams were tireless during the last few minutes. La Grande attempted a field goal and Pendleton got within scoring distance, only to find an impossible line facing it. La Grande's defense on that threat was a thing of beauty.

All in all, the game was mighty well played, with Pendleton getting most of the breaks. Both teams performed unbecomingly, each showing strength at times.

In total yardage La Grande made just one more than Pendleton but the Bucks lost 52 yards from scrimmage to La Grande's 27-2-3. In the first half Pendleton made 21 yards from scrimmage and lost 25, while La Grande chalked up 132 yards against 17-2-3 lost. In the last half La Grande gained 51 yards and lost 10 while Pendleton gained 101 but lost 28.

In defense La Grande easily excelled Pendleton, holding for down three times to Pendleton's two and averaging 26.4 yard points to Pendleton's 23.3 yards. Price punted 11 times for 482 yards and McKennon bottled three for 183 yards. Hatton and Cummings were forced to kick 18 times, gaining 528 yards via that method.

McKennon, Cullen Horst. Today Cullen is on crutches but it is believed he will be back in the lineup soon. McKennon, whose ankle and leg were injured, will be lucky if he plays another game this year.

Commenting upon the game today, Coach G. L. Patton said "We were lucky to win."

Probably the most regrettable thing that happened at the game was the failure of the crowd to stay within bounds and behave itself as a crowd should. Time after time the referee was forced to halt the game temporarily and clear the reserves had to descend the crowd from the sidelines.

BOY RELEASED ON WRIT
RALEIGH, Ore. - Earl Roth, 17, was released from the state home for the feeble-minded here following a hearing of habeas corpus proceedings filed by the boy's parents. The youth later was sent to the state training school for boys. An effort will be made this week to have the boy released from the training school on the grounds that the commitment was irregular. The youth formerly lived at Tescott and was sent to the training school for some minor infraction of the laws. It was alleged that he subsequently was transferred to the feeble-minded home without notifying his parents of the proposed action. The court held that failure to notify the boy's parents of the transfer invalidated the commitment.

LA GRANDE PIONEER IS DEAD TODAY
year later he married Miss Cassa Stotts, who came to the valley by wagon train from Iowa, driving one of her father's four-horse teams most of the distance. It was by Mr. Caviness that the waters of the Grande Ronde were first harnessed for power. He built a flouring mill, and at the same time operated five farms in the valley and a thousand-acre ranch near Joseph. He built the first schoolhouse at Island City, paying the teacher from his own pocket, and erected a church where the Island City chapel now stands. He was a member of the Episcopal church. Owned First Phone Company. At one time he operated a meat packing plant in La Grande. He bought the first telephone company here, and has served as president of the present Home Independent company. He was a director in the bank when Island City had such an institution, and later was a director in the United States National bank of La Grande. For 10 years he was president of the County Fair association. And not long ago he personally conducted a saw mill at Mt. Emuly, and then a larger one near Tolocead. He had had heavy interests in the Minam Lumber company and watched its growth with satisfaction. Mr. Caviness and his wife, who died a few months after they had celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary May 6, 1923, lived a fruitful busy life that were monuments to their faith in the Golden Rule, and an example to the many who revered them.

the car from which the trio jumped when the officers approached. One of the prisoners led Pierce for a quarter-mile chase before the officer could overtake him. Pierce will be arraigned in Justice Hugh E. Brady's court this afternoon. George Noble, arrested on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, asked time to prepare his plea when he was taken before Judge Brady this morning. The preliminary hearing was set for Monday, Nov. 16 at 9 a. m. When Noble received from the district attorney the roll of bills taken over when the arrest was made, he had more than enough to put up the cash bonds of $250 set by the court. Dick Mooney paid a $100 fine and costs in Justice Brady's court this morning, pleading guilty to a charge of selling whiskey. F. Thomas, a blacksmith, pleaded guilty to possession charge and paid $50 in fines in the justice court. From Nick Johnson, the long-haired non-English speaking violator of the law, protecting deer from slaughter, a letter came to Justice Hugh E. Brady this morning bearing $25 in payment of the fine that would have been imposed had he pleaded guilty when he appeared before the court several days ago. Johnson's partner paid his fine, but Johnson wanted to prepare a plea.
