Asquiths Like River Homes

LONDON (AP)—The Asquiths have a passion for riverside homes. All the members of the family are fond of The Wharf, Lords Oxford's house on the Thames. Lord Oxford also has an apartment in Temple Chambers, overlooking Victoria Embankment, and Raymond Asquith also has an apartment in the same building. Lord Oxford's daughter, Princess Blhesko, wife of the Roumanian minister to Washington, has a home on the Quai Tourpon and is dividing her time between the shores of the Seine and the Thames.

Hood River Dates Poultry Show
HOOD RIVER, Ore.—November 19, 20 and 21 have been set as dates for the Hood River county poultry show. Officers of the show, which held shows last year and the year before, have secured a frame building at the west edge of the city. Interest among orchardists, many of whom now have purchased poultry flocks as a side line to fruit growing, indicates that entries will be numerous.

NEW LAMP BURNS 91% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil-lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 19 ordinary oil lamps. It burns, without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, V. M. Johnson, 161 North Union Ave., Portland, Ore., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

"Life's Greatest Game" Showing at Sherrys Today Only

Sweeping the primary human canvas on her canvas with the brush of that understanding which is peculiar to her, Mrs. Emilie Johnson has again written a story of wide appeal in "Life's Greatest Game," at Sherrys today, the sixth P. O. B. production which Entory Johnson has directed for the screen. With a background of baseball, the production pays a fine tribute to the sterling honesty and innate sportsmanship of the national game, but without touching too heavily on technical angles of the sport. Rather it is in line with previous Johnson productions in that its appeal to all classes is based on its humanity and understanding of the fundamental principals of popular melodrama. Thomas Sarsach and Johnnie Walker are starred in the picture, while the supporting cast includes Gertrude Olmstead, Jane Thomas, Dave Kirby and Dickie Brandon. The production, which follows such achievements as "The Third Alarm," "The Mailman" and "The Spirit of the U. S. A.," is one which takes its place with the most thrilling dramas of the year. Comedy showing "Navy Blue Days."

Cattle Rustlers Featured in Film At The Star

SON OF HIS FATHER.

Harold Bell Wright, the favorite author of millions of Americans, wrote the story. After seeing it on the screen the secret of his popularity is easily seen. There is never a quiet moment or the least drag in the action. "Big Boy" Morgan, the "Son"; Nora, the girl who comes to find her brother; Charlie Grey, the sick friend; Holdbrook, the villain; Zobeber, the head of the smugglers, and all the rest are just such people as one is apt to meet every day.

It is the tale of cattle rustlers and their never ending quarrel with the ranchers. Morgan is a young rancher who has sworn to clear Arizona of those men who over-run it. Then—little Nora, a young Irish girl arrives on the scene.

Morgan asks her to stay at his house until her brother returns. He tells her that he has gone to the hills after some cattle. In reality he has joined the smugglers. A tale of intense drama ensues.

The beauty of the surroundings and the fast action of this tale will rouse you as nothing else ever has. It is entertainment with a capital "E."

A fine cast is headed by Warner Baxter, Bessie Love and Raymond Hatton. Other players include Walter McGrath, Carl Stockdale, Billy Eugene, James Farley, Charles Stevens, Valentina Zemina and George Kuyper.

Victor Fleming the producer of "Empty Hands," "Adventure" and "The Devil's Cargo" directed "A Son of His Father." Anthony Goldsway, scenarized Wright's novel. It's a Paramount Picture at the Star Theatre today.

Life isn't just one darn thing after another. It is just about a million darn things after a million others.

"Raffles," at Arcade, Is Gentleman Crook

Not a crook among gentlemen, but a gentleman among crooks. That's Raffles! And House Peters plays the title role of the famous amateur crackman in the University-level feature, "Raffles," now being shown at the Arcade Theatre.

Adapted from the stories, made famous many years ago by Ernest William Hornung and the stage play by Eugene W. Presbrey, "Raffles" is, perhaps, the most outstanding figure in the whole realm of detective fiction. He stole for charity and amazed the shrewdest sleuths of Scotland Yard with his daring and skill.

For the Amateur Crackman is baffling to everyone but himself. He is scourge to so-called respectable society, but to the poor and needy his heart and hand was ever a horn of plenty.

The world took Raffles seriously, but the crackman mocked seriousness. He lived for others and others lived for him only in the respect that he was their prey—they hunted him, in reality, it was otherwise. The world and London aristocracy in particular, was the unwilling and, for a time, unsuspecting prey of the elusive gentleman-crook who also wooed and wins a nobleman's daughter.

On a wager with Captain Bedford of Scotland Yard, Raffles accomplishes the apparently impossible. He steals, in a mysterious and uncanny way, a string of priceless gems from an "impregnable" wall vault from right under the eyes of the seasoned sleuth.

But, more baffling than the theft is the mysterious return of the gems. A charitable organization is the richer for "Raffles'" daring, for the wager which the crackman won from Scotland Yard's chief is given over to the soldiers' fund.

House Peters is supported by a great cast including Miss Dupont, who plays the leading feminine role. Hedda Hopper, Frederick Esmelton, Walter Long, Winter Hall, Kate Lester, Freeman Wood, Roland Bottomley, Lillian Langdon and Robert Horder, King Baggot directed the picture.

COURT OPENS AT BAKER

BAKER, Ore.—The full term of the circuit court opened with Judge C. H. McCulloch presiding, but after spending considerable time on the selection of a jury to try the first case, that of Lockhart against Haley, the action was dismissed on a non-suit, on motion of the plaintiff's attorney.

This was the only case set for today. Two actions are docketed for tomorrow, a criminal case for forgery against D. B. Ashley of Huntington, and civil suit of C. D. Wallace against Albin Gale.
