La Grande Theatres

"California Straight Ahead" Is Screen Scream

That Reginald Denny is one of the foremost light comedy stars of the screen cannot be denied after seeing "California Straight Ahead" the universal jewel feature which opens Wednesday at the Arcade theatre.

Presented with an unusual story, and funny opportunities for clever comedy bits, Denny gives one of the most delightful performances of his screen career. Even his portrayal of the hypochondriac in "Oh, Doctor!" is rivaled by his performance in this latest farce.

The situations on which "California Straight Ahead" are based are intrinsically funny, because they chronicle an event, plainly familiar to almost every one—a long motor trip. Denny in this picture is represented as a young man making a cross-country tour in a palatial motor bungalow and the adventures and mishaps which occur are productive of seven reels of delightful comedy.

Harry Pollard, the director, has incorporated some splendid scenes and types in the shots of other tourists, and in action taking place in the auto camps along the road.

In the thrilling climax, which takes place Denny is a race driver of no small ability as well as an accomplished actor and a versatile comedian, for he pulls the audience to its feet with a hair-raising automobile race.

Denny is given splendid support by Gertrude Olmstead as leading woman and by Lucille Ward, Charles Gerard, John Stepping, Fred Espinosa, Tom Wilson, Leo Nomas and others.

Harry Pollard, creator of Denny's story screen comedies, is credited with the capable direction, and also collaborated with Byron

Morgan in writing the story.

Hoxie Master of Whizzing Rope In "Bustin' Through"

"Bustin' Through," a Universal-Blue Streak Western picture plus; with Jack Hoxie as the star, opens at the Star theatre commencing Wednesday. It is a big thrill picture of the West, with a big ensemble of favorite players supporting the star.

The picture tells the story of Jack Savage, a young rancher, who refuses to sell his property to John Merritt who is buying up land for the purpose of selling it to a water company. All the ranchers but Savage have agreed to sell but the entire deal hinges upon the purchase of the Savage property. Merritt has a pretty daughter, Helen, with whom his partner, Harvey Gregg, is in love.

Gregg discovers that Jack has not complied with some trifling requirements regarding the deed to his land, and obtains legal possession of it. Jack steals the Merritt payroll, intending to hold it as a ransom for his land and later learns that Gregg is double-crossing Merritt. The big scene of the picture comes after Savage has escaped Gregg's double-dealing. The horses drawing the buckboard in which Helen is seated, cut off. Jack starts in pursuit. As the horses near the edge of a cliff Savage huris his lariat, the rope falling over the buckboard as it is about to go over the cliff. This pursuit of the runaway team gives Hoxie a chance to do some of the rough-riding for which he is famous and also the opportunity of showing his ability with a lariat.

The cast supporting Hoxie is a most capable one. Helen Lynch is the leading feminine role, which William Norton Baily plays the villain. Others taking prominent parts are Alfred Allen and George Grandon. Cliff Smith, who directed many of Hoxie's big pictures, also directed "Bustin' Through."

Last Showing of "Hell's Highroad" At Sherrys Tonight

The first of DeMille's independent productions, "Hell's Highroad," showing at Sherry's for the last time tonight, starring Leatrice Joy under the direction of Rupert Julian maintain in every detail the standard of DeMille production that made his past presentation successful in his new venture he has assembled about him a group of screen actors and actresses of proven ability and worth.

Rupert Julian, who directs "Hell's Highroad" under Mr. DeMille's personal supervision, has a long list of screen successes to his credit, ranging from "The Beast of Berlin" to his most recent, "The Phantom of the Opera."

Leatrice Joy, a star of the highest order, who started on her rise to screen fame as a discovery of DeMille, and who has been prominently starred and featured in his productions for other companies, is said to show the effect of again being under this famous director's guidance, and in the leading role of Judy is adding new laurels.

Edmund Burns, recently returned from Germany where he completed two pictures for a foreign company, plays opposite Miss Joy. Robert Eason and Julia Faye are also prominently identified in the cast.

"Comedy showing "Working for the Road."

OREGON TRAIL FOX FARM.
 H. W. Smith, Prop.,
 La Grande, Ore.

I am informed that last year Henry Ford's brother-in-law, of Idaho, made an initial start into the silver fox business at a cost of $25,000.00 (perhaps 15 pairs). By you starting with one pair now, within three or four years your increase will most likely be worth the same amount, or more. It's an investment that grows without additional investment (excepting pens and kennels) which are not beyond your means.
