LAY PLANS FOR HEALTH WEEK HERE
The agricultural committee has been requested to meet with the chamber of commerce irrigation committee and, in this connection, part of the evening was given over to discussion of irrigation in the Grande Ronde valley.

The committee went to the lake at 6 o'clock and served one of the chicken dinners for which Dr. Phynas food is famous.

Earl Reynolds, secretary, attended the meeting in addition to the members of the committees—Dr. Phynas, Leo Reynolds, H. G. Avery, Frank McKennon, Chase Holmenkamp, H. E. Coullidge and Alorton Kildale.

So much work was outlined for the two committees that another meeting was scheduled for Tuesday, November 24.

368 TAKEN FROM LINER IN FLAMES
The Irving Steele of the Lacey coast guard as the Lacey drifted a mass of flames, inside the Delaware breakwater, was told by the local agent of the Clyde line.

Steele in his patrol boat was the first to reach the Lacey after the vagrant wind had again fanned the blaze to a fury.

Rescued Many—He drove his craft under the blazing side of the liner and rescued many struggling passengers from midair where they were dangling from ends of ropes over the side.

NEW YORK (By the Associated Press)—Following the safe removal of all passengers, the Lacey was scuttled inside of the Delaware breakwater, the Clyde line announced.

Officials estimated the damage to cargo and ship amounted to $2,000,000.

A pair of rabbits brought to Laysan island multiplied so rapidly that their progeny starved themselves to death by destroying all the green vegetation on the island.

This is Detective Charles Hammond of the Muskegon, Mich., police force, who shot and killed "Dutch" Anderson, famous hold-up man and pal of Gerald Chapman, and was himself killed by Anderson. His family is expected to receive the big rewards that had been offered for the capture, dead or alive, of Anderson.

Dr. W. Blair Bell of Liverpool, England, believes he has found a cure for cancer. He told a physicians' gathering at Toronto that injections of lead in solution into the veins of cancer sufferers provides relief and heared that in some comparatively hopeless cases cures had been effected.

OREGON HEN HOPE MARK CONTINUED—Ore.—That his pullet, No. 43 Hanson's Pride, laid hen in the Washington International egg-laying contest at Puyallup, completed on November 10 an official record of 327 eggs in 365 days, was the news just received by J. A. Hanson from George R. Shrop, poultryman in charge of the contest at the Washington experiment station. This record exceeds the American record of 325 eggs for any hen in an official contest and ties the world's record for Leghorns, 327 eggs, held by an Australian hen.

Hanson's pullet laid 312 standard eggs, as compared with only 25 pullet eggs, and produced more than $10 worth of eggs at market prices during the year. For a period of 55 days she laid an egg every day.

REDMEN VISIT MEDFORD—MEDFORD, Ore.—Redmen of adjacent northern California points and the state of Oregon gathered here for a convention, initiation and banquet. It was one of the biggest Redmen gatherings held in this city in years. About 200 members attended.

Among the grand officers of the order present from Portland were Dr. P. O. Lehman, grand marshal; Alvin Sivers, grand chief keeper of the records; Dr. Dean Johnson, grand junior warden; H. S. Smith and Judge Morrow, past grand sachems.

SALMON HOJDES ARRIVE
VERNONIA, Ore.—Residents of Vernonia for the past week have been watching the large numbers of salmon passing through Vernonia in Rock creek to the spawning grounds at Kenney, 10 miles above here.

Heretofore the fish have made their appearance about the middle of September, but on account of low water postponed their travels this year.

Salem Man Faces Check Charge
SALEM, Ore.—Lawrence Tudors of Salem was arrested here charged with passing worthless checks. The checks were made payable to Vernia Clark and were purported to have been signed by A. V. Caldwell, owner of a local restaurant. Upon being searched following his arrest the officers found several unmailed checks in Tudors' pockets.

No Wonder
Schram, who had run out of gas on the outskirts of a country town, saw a boy coming along the road carrying a big tin can.

"Say, boy!" he yelled, "I hope that's gasoline you have in that can!"

"Well, I hope it ain't," returned the boy. "I would have like the diesel on me's pan cakes."

Unwed Mother Held for Manslaughter

Helen Schultz, 17, is being held by the Philadelphia police for the murder of Edward Lister. She says that Lister is the father of her child and only laughed when she asked him to marry her.

The morning's language eluded her. The next question then had to wait down the next page. Never mind, they'll read every intervening sentence until they get there.

Before they left her, the children wrote his name on a slip and fastened it lightly with a pin upon the map of Virginia. The next author was Sidney Linder, and they pinned his name to Georgia.

"Want-to-Do" Spirit Seen
There was a spirit of "want-to-do" from the beginning to the end of that recitation. Once a wriggling boy in a back seat spilled a box of pencils in his excitement. But he merely scooped them back into his desk and hurried to catch up with his reading. Scarcely a Kipling; "The Blue Bird," Maeterlinck; "Five Little Peppers and How They Grew," Sidney; "Puzzly Wuse," Chaffetz; "Robbers of Sun-nybrook Farm," Higgins; "Pinnocchio," Lorenzini; "Black Beauty," Sewell; "Child's Garden of Verse," Stevenson; "Wild Animals I Have known," Seton; "Four Cecos," Williams; Mother Goose Rhymes; "Little Women," Alcott; "Big John Martin's Book," John Martin. Donald's selection

Last year in a bird house contest, Donald won another prize offered by the library. His list is made up of real boys' books: "Boy Scout Series," Richard P. Eaton; "The Revolutionary Series," Altshuler; "The Aviation Book," Currier; "Wild Animals I Have Known," Ernest T. Seton; "Huckleberry Finn," Mark Twain; "Denrod," Booth Tarkington; "Treasure Island," Robert Louis Stevenson; "Doctor Doolittle" series, Hugh Lofting; "Captains Courageous," Kipling; "Tom Brown's School Days," Thomas Hughes; "Buccaneers and Pirates of Our Coast," F. training he gave them that at the end of the year they entered the contest and surprised the music world by taking the honors from older and more widely known choruses. Soon afterward they answered a command to sing before the British royal family at Langdowne house, and another time they were heard by the King of Belgium and his suite at Brussels.

Now, with a reputation established by 15 years of choral triumphs, the Gleemen are bringing their music to America. They are touring the states from coast to coast. Their first Oregon appearance will be in La Grande under auspices of the L. D. S. music committee.
