FORMER MEXICAN PRESIDENT SETTLES DOWN TO FARM LIFE

NOGALES, ARIZ. (AP)—General Alvaro Obregon, former president of Mexico, is leading the life of a farmer.

He has extensive land holdings in the state of Sonora and makes his home in Nogales. It is reported that he has invested approximately $1,500,000 in land.

General Obregon also is working on development plans and has consulted American capitalists regarding the building of a dam on the Mayo river. The project would bring many thousands of acres under irrigation. The cost has been estimated at $25,000,000 pesos.

Norma As "The Lady"

La Grande Theatres

"Saucy Soubrette" Is Norma's New Role at the Arcade.

"The Lady," Norma Talmadge's latest photoplay, reveals here in a new guise—that of a pert, pretty and vivacious soubrette of a musical show of the Gibson Girl period. Norma wears the typical soubrette costume, short fluffy skirts, tight, bare back a la Kitty Gordon and a huge feather hat.

Like so many soubrettes of old, she struts saucily across the stage, does a buck and wing, jauntily sings a song as she tosses flowers to the Johnnies in the first row and takes her exit "cartwheel" fashion into the wings.

It's a new Norma the world will see in "The Lady," a Norma who plumbs the heights and the depths of human happiness and despair.

From being the toast of the theatrical world, Norma plunges from the heights of gay Monte Carlo society into the toughest dives in Europe, becomes a half-demented, half-mad "girl" in the streets of London after she has lost both husband and baby and finally ends as the head of a cafe just back of the world war front, where the soldiers of all nations call her "the little mother of all the world."

"The Lady" is a First National attraction produced by Joseph M. Schenck. It was directed by Frank Borzage from Frances Marion's story.

The picture will be shown at the Arcade theater next Monday. The special cast appearing in support of Norma Talmadge includes Wallace MacDonald, Norma's leading man; Alf Goddard, Brandon Hurst, Emily Fitzroy, George Hackathorne, Walter Long, Marc McDermott, Doris Lloyd, John Fox Jr., Isabelle Duvall, Edwin Hubble, Lore Barn, John Herman, Margaret Seddon, Miles McCarthy and Charles G. Mallory.

The royal botanical gardens at Kew might have declined to extinction had not young Queen Victoria rescued them from abandonment.

"His Majesty The Outlaw" at Sherrys Today Only

The attraction at the Sherry theater today is "His Majesty The Outlaw," an Arrow "Great-Western."

Ben Wilson is the star, and his name flashed on the screen is sufficient to insure a picture bristling with fights, intrigue and heart interest, and "His Majesty The Outlaw" has all the elements which hold the interest from start to finish.

Yakima Canutt, world's champion cowboy, takes the part of Ben's faithful follower and adds a touch of humor throughout by his habit of stuttering, while Violet La Plante is very appealing as the heroine and wins every one in the audience.

Comedy showing, "Soup to Nuts."

Novarro Glorifies U. S. Midshipmen In Film Coming Here

One doesn't have to be versed in the traditions of the American navy to not approvingly at what Uncle Sam has done for Father Neptune. He has presented him with a son and hero—and this son is born of the movie!

The story that is the navy, especially the Naval Academy, shall no longer be confined to history books and government pamphlets. History books have been known to be dry reading in the student seeking palpable adventure dealing with individuals and not nations, and pamphlets have somehow succeeded in being too technical to stir the national pride and admiration in Uncle Sam's aquatic hero.

So Uncle Sam, via his bureau of vivification, has set out to establish a movie hero representative of his midshipmen; a hero who by his very attractiveness and romantic deeds shall incite his base niece and nephews to more worship than did any ancient Greek figure at his best.

If it were left to you to pick from the male sector of the present day screen stars who could successfully carry out Uncle Sam's work, who would be your logical choice?

Uncle Sam chose Ramon Novarro, who recently returned from home, where he had, not without great honors nor attention, completed the starring role in "Ben Hur."

To revert to the vernacular, Mr. Novarro has a Greek hero "backed off the map." Physique? That's what won the "Rich Kid" role for him after others had failed to meet with the physical requirements.

Novarro has education, polish, personality—and he can act. He proves all that in "The Midshipman," which comes to the Sherry theater on Sunday for a three days' run. It is in this vehicle that Uncle Sam will present him to Father Neptune, not to forget Uncle's own nephews and nieces and a few cousins and friends who patronize picture houses across the Atlantic and Pacific ponds.

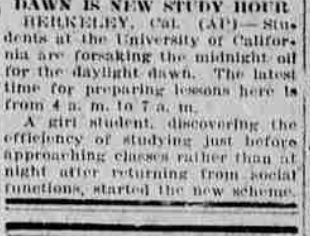

The entire production of "The Midshipman" was filmed under the supervision of the navy department. Director Christy Cabanne had assigned to him Captain L. E. Cook, commandant of midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy, and Commander Herbert R. Jones. No detail of dress or department went unmet.

Comedy showing, "No Father to Guide Him."

DAWN IS NEW STUDY HOUR

HEIKELBEY, CAL. (AP)—Students at the University of California are foregoing the midnight all-nighter for the daylight dawn. The latest time for preparing lessons here is from 4 a. m. to 7 a. m.

A girl student, discovering the efficiency of studying just before approaching classes rather than at night after returning from social functions, started the new scheme.

OREGON TRAIL FOX FARM

Message No. 58, From: II. W. Smith, Prop., La Grande, Ore.

We silver fox farmers have a stock breeders' association where stock is registered in a herd book. The main office is at Minneapolis. A year ago we had 470 members. I have personally visited headquarters, also about 55 of the fox farms. I have also called upon most of the leading fur houses in the United States in person. From knowledge thus gained, I see a BRIGHT FUTURE in raising good silver fox.
