'Fifth Avenue'

It is said that by traveling Fifth Avenue from one end to the other you will pass the store or the sales representative of nearly every well-known manufacturer in America.

To a large extent that is a fact—and the same is true of the columns of this paper. The pages of any first-class newspaper today compose a veritable Fifth Avenue, where the goods of the nation are shown. There is this difference. In these pages you are given a description of the goods and in most cases quoted a price and told where you can buy them in your own town.

Fifth Avenue has nothing, aside from its scenery and the spell of the great metropolis, that the rest of America does not share. Advertising carries the good news to us almost immediately of any new and comfort-bringing commodity. In fact, new things often start with us and reach Fifth Avenue later.

Keep up with the times by reading the advertisements.
