ally all the boys who had played on either team.

By the third quarter the visitors were forced back and Hitchen carried the ball over for another touchdown. Enterprise was trying everything she had to secure a touchdown and after this score she sent four men to the extreme left end and tried a long pass and came very near getting away with the ball.

Fourth Quarter Slow—The fourth quarter slowed down considerably owing to Union having in so many second men and Enterprise's men being hit so hard that they had in many substitutes.

ROCKEFELLER EATS TURKEY—TAIRYTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Dispensing with his usual morning round of golf in order to be with his grandchildren, John D. Rockefeller sat down to a turkey dinner Thursday, and announced he had "a delightful time."

Mr. Rockefeller motored from Lakewood, N. J., to the Porantien hills, home of his son. After a turkey dinner he listened to an organ recital with his family and friends about him, and said he was "fine and had a splendid day."

Woman Injured by Rock—BOHEMAN, Ore.—Mrs. W. H. Woodard received two bad gashes on her face when a rock snapped by a passing machine hit the windshield of the Woodward's automobile, the broken glass made a cut over one of her eyes which required five stitches to close. She also received a deep gash on the chin.

Game Hard Fought—Despite the unexpectedness of the score, the game was bitterly contested and thus after time the necessary two minutes were needed to revive either a Baker or La Grande player. La Grande lost several players during the game because of injuries.

The sum total of Baker touchdowns were furnished by Hines (1), Huff (2), Payne (1), and Cudde (1).

Approximately 2,000 spectators witnessed the contest, played under a gray sodden sky and in a thin drizzle of rain. La Grande had more than 250 spectators present.

FEDERAL JOB NOT SO GOOD

(By Charles P. Stewart)

WASHINGTON, (NEA Special)—"The best luck a government employe can have," said an elderly chief clerk who has spent all his adult years in a bureau of one of the Washington executive departments, "is to be fired before he has time to become really dependent on his job."

"Under the old spoils system, when a general cleaning out usually followed a change in administration, there was some hope of this."

"The civil service commission practically has ended it."

"Today a federal appointment generally means a life sentence. The poor boob who gets one doesn't know at the time, but he might as well be accepting a nice cell in the Atlanta Penitentiary."

"The chances for advancement are about equal in either case. In Washington maybe you win your way up to a chief clerkship. At Atlanta, if you're good, they make you a trustee."

The old man pondered, his faded eyes brooding.

"On the whole," he reflected, "I think I'll have preferred Atlanta. Locked up young, I wouldn't have expected a family to support on an inadequate salary. They tell me well-behaved prisoners are made very comfortable. At any rate, they don't have to worry. And, if they don't like it, they can get out, sometimes. Their terms expire or the warden or are pardoned."

In Washington—take me, for instance, I spend my waking hours figuring out schemes to make ends meet. At night I dream about it. It isn't only the necessities. I have a "front" to keep up. My family and I must look respectable. My wife has to work, too, or we couldn't do it. And hardly anybody once fairly settled in it, ever is able to get out of the government service."

Union had the ball near the goal line when a big hole was opened up. Crater walked over and made the third touchdown.

In the last few minutes of play Enterprise tried a drop kick that fell behind the lines and when one of her men fell on the ball she claimed a score but the referee ruled otherwise.

All Union's attempts at converting were failures except the second one.

Enterprise had several subs along but Union was so strong that the visitors were smashed and battered till they had used practically all of them and some of the players were really not in condition to continue playing. Union played the best game the local boys have put up this season, the interference working like a clock and all the team full of pep from the first whistle till the last. Enterprise whiffed up a good game but was simply outclassed.

King, coach of the North Powder school, acted as referee. One amusing incident of the game was when Enterprise had one man hide across the field and a Union fan becoming so anxious, called to the boys. Union was penalized fifteen yards.

Only a fair crowd of spectators was out to see the game.

This victory gives Union five victories, one defeat, at Baker, and one tied score, when was played by Joseph here, the best record that Union has made for many years.

With Baker's victory Thursday, she holds the eastern Oregon championship, with Union in second place. Union wins in Union and Wallawa counties, not losing to any teams in this territory.

BAKER WINS 40-0, FROM LA GRANDE

fifth play Baker made the yardage. After several plays, an intercepted pass and a La Grande punt, Baker advanced the ball to La Grande's 9 yard line and Hines went over for his only touchdown. Lyman replaced McKennon. La Grande kicked off and Hines returned 45 yards to La Grande 25-yard line, as the quarter ended. Score: Baker 6, La Grande 0.

Second Quarter
Several more short gains preceded a 15-yard run behind perfect interference that gave Baker her second touchdown.

The half ended with the score unchanged, after La Grande's defense pushed the Baker team down the field, forcing it to punt twice before gaining safe territory. Score: Baker 13, La Grande 0.

Third Quarter
In the third quarter Baker opened up a forward passing offense in earnest and scored three touchdowns in rapid succession, one from the 45-yard line when Hines passed to a Baker end, hidden in long sidelines. It was the old "snow string" play, which worked to perfection. Not a La Grande player knew of the end's whereabouts until he started on a clear field to the goal line.

The third quarter ended with the score: Baker 21, La Grande 0.

In the fourth quarter a final touchdown and conversion added to the total before Baker put in several substitutes. From then on the game was a seesaw affair, with neither team able to gain much advantage. Final score: Baker 40, La Grande 0.

At End of Stormy Day

This photograph shows Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne and her attorney, Joseph E. Davies, leaving the Shenandoah court of inquiry at Washington after a stormy session featured by Davis' forcible ejection.

young Wood had been killed. While his sister attempted to give him first aid, Miss Dille crawled up to the highway in the darkness, and then despite her painful injuries, walked for three and a half miles to the old N. K. West ranch for help. To the discomfort of her wounds and the storm were added the fact that she wore but one shoe. The other had been torn from her foot as she was thrown from the car.

Mr. Emigh, who lives at the ranch, telephoned for Dr. J. A. Richardson and the Bohnenkamp ambulance. (Again the circumstances repeat those of the Hamilton case.) Miss Dille, who was completely exhausted from pain and exposure, remained there until after the ambulance had taken her to the hospital and returned for her.

"We did not know we were off the highway until we felt the car drop over the bank," Ada Wood shuddered on her cot at the hospital this morning as she recalled the accident.

"Thought Gap Was Road," "The snow was in our faces, and when we saw the end of the fence, we thought of course that was where the road ran through."

"I waited for about an hour after Emma left. My back ached so that I couldn't stand up. I finally decided I'd have to get up to the highway some way, so I crawled up on my hands and knees, digging my fingers into the dirt and hanging onto the wet stones. Mr. Morgan, the highway engineer, was coming along the road and stopped when I reached the top."

Miss Dille picked up nearly three dollars in change from Miss Wood's vanity box as she climbed up the embankment.

"I saw it shining in the storm and thought it was stones at first," she said this morning.

Word has been sent to the parents of the young people, and it is expected that some of their people will arrive today.

All Will Recover
Dr. Richardson says that all three stand a good chance of recovering.

"But you may quote me as saying that I think it is criminal for the highway authorities to leave such a death trap," the physician declared. "Of course, it is better to fix it now than to leave it any longer, but it seems like locking the barn after the horse is gone."

Earlier in the day, another au-mobile accident occurred on the Pendleton highway, not 200 feet from the spot where the Portland car met disaster. A road grader, who had been working on the Cabage Hill improvements, started for Union to celebrate the holiday. He became so wrapped up in his anticipations that he lost all reckoning of what was going on around him. The car as he hit the bank wore him up and he found that both wheels and the axle were broken. Aside from the shock, the driver was unhurt.

Merton Kiddle and Jack Murphy escaped serious injury when the
