Larger River Fund Sought SALEM, Ore.—A larger appropriation of federal funds for channel operations in the Willamette river between Salem and Portland will be urged by Senator McNary, according to letters received from the senator today. The request of Senator McNary will have the support of Representative Hawley. This year's appropriation for dredging the Willamette river channel was $20,000, but this was not sufficient to meet the demands of the navigators. An attempt will be made to double this appropriation for the year 1925.

"The Dark Angel" Showing at Arcade Today

For real entertainment we can unhesitatingly recommend George Fitzmaurice's latest offering, "The Dark Angel," now on view at the Arcade theatre. It is a first National picture presented by Samuel Goldwyn, and one calculated to please the most hardened picture-seer.

Renald Colman is at his very best in "The Dark Angel," the young and handsome army officer, and the story concerns his love for Virginia, the beautiful girl who is the daughter of a man who has been sentenced to death for a crime he did not commit.

The direction is most capable, and the supporting cast, which includes Wyndham Standing, Frank Elliott, Florence Farmer, Helen Jerome Eddy, Charles Lane and other well known players, is well chosen and very capable.

Fitzmaurice, as usual, has overlooked no opportunity for artistic effects, his settings are magnificent, and he has injected some gorgeous episodes in natural color photography. Comedy relief is plentiful, and the whole is interesting throughout the production, which is a screen version of H. B. Trevelyan's famous stage success of the same title.

The photography is superb and the credit goes to George Barnes. George Fitzmaurice personally directed the picture from the scenario by Frances Marion.

Hotel burned at night in Florida, but no doubt it was warm enough for fleeing scantly clad.

Amazing Spectacle In "Thief of Bagdad" At Sherrys Tonight

Douglas Fairbanks in the most amazing and spectacular screen production yet known to the world. "The Thief of Bagdad," at Sherrys tonight. So much has been written of the astonishing and astounding occurrences depicted in this picture, that perhaps not enough has been written about the charmingly romantic love story of the Thief and the Princess. It is said that the famous Doug has never made love more ardently than in the scenes with the Princess. Having first climbed the Magic Rope to reach the tower and, chastened by love, he reveals to her the fact that he is in reality an impostor. Julianne Johnston, who impersonates the Princess, is one of the most beautiful women Mr. Fairbanks has played opposite to in his long career as a screen star.

She brings to the role added grace and charm, gained through her experience as one of the famous Morgan Dancers. Some of the outstanding features are the Magic Carpet, on which the Thief and the Princess soar over the housetops and into the sky; the Winged Horse, mounted on which the Thief dashes into and through the clouds; the Miraculous Seed which, when thrown on the ground creates a huge army from nothingness; The Forest of Enchantment; The Cloak of Invisibility, which the Thief uses to cover himself and the Princess so that they may escape the soldiers of the Mongol Prince; and yet aside from all these wonders, which no one would heretofore have thought possible on the screen, there will be found the living dragon in the Marvellous Valley of Monsters, The Crystal Realm beneath the sea, the flight of the Thousand Stars, and the astonishing cavern of Fire.

It's Quicker and Costs Less. Old Habits Die Hard.
Even nowadays we hear of otherwise shrewd business men who, if they have to speak with an out-of-town customer, think it necessary to go via the gasoline or steam route and see him.
What do they gain by seeing him?
It's talk that counts!
And can you think of a better chance of talking with a man than having your lips at his ear?
That's the chance that, in effect, the Telephone gives you. Don't travel, then: Telephone!
