Eighty Witness Auxiliary Program
 On Tuesday evening of this week the Young Women's Educational Auxiliary of the Methodist church met in the Neighborhood club rooms for its regular monthly meeting and program, eighty young women being present. The topic for the evening was "Behind the Footlights," and a splendid program was given.

Tyler, Mrs. W. E. Adler and Mrs. A. W. Nelson. Their selections were well rendered and very enthusiastically received. The devotional part of the meeting was composed of a song by the octet and a story of the birth of Christ, beautifully told by Mrs. George Pierce.

After a brief business session the committee in charge of the evening gave the following program:

Adler; Jennie, Mrs. Roy Currey; Mrs. Oman, Mrs. C. D. Putman. The play was rendered with professional finish and dash and those taking part received a great deal of praise.

After the play Misses Judy and Sally Stogart, accompanied by Miss Gladys Miller, gave a dance, which was so well received that it was repeated. Miss Mabel Doty gave a musical reading entitled "My Mother's Wedding Dress," accompanied by Miss Mac Stearns and Mrs. A. E. Kinnman. Miss Doty wore her mother's wedding dress. She entertained to the strains of a wedding march and gave the reading in a very effective manner.

An up-to-date jazz number was sung, in costume, by Ann Stange, Betty Cochran and Dorothy Ann Warnick, whose renditions of modern songs have been receiving much praise on various occasions recently.

The program was closed by the singing of "O Little Town of Bethlehem" by the octet.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge of the evening which consisted of Miss Bertha Walsinger, Miss Chloe Taylor, Mrs. A. W. Nelson, Miss Annetta Johnson, Miss Alice Marquardt, Mrs. H. W. Winters, Mrs. B. R. Carey, Mrs. C. D. Putman and Mrs. Roy Currey.

They Match
 A pleasing combination is here introduced. The handling of red and white checked wool, used to outline the cape sleeves of the tan wool coat is repeated on the tan wool hat. Such an outfit is particularly appropriate for the college girl or for general sport wear.

Sister Mary Says:

(By Sister Mary)
 Breakfast—Grapes, cereal, thin cream, creamed dried beef on toast, corn bread, milk, coffee.
 Luncheon—Macaroni baked with tomatoes, graham bread, jelly, cup custards, milk, tea.
 Dinner—Casserole of lamb, potatoes in parsley butter, canned string beans, spinach salad, whole wheat bread, pineapple and marshmallow pudding, milk, coffee.
 In this luncheon menu the dessert furnishes the protein, we usually find in the main dish. Without the custard the meal will be poorly balanced and lacking in necessary nutrients for children.

Millions in Jewelry to Grave
 ATLANTA, (AP)—The practice of burying jewelry with the body of a relative or friend is an expression of sentiment that morticians do not seek to discourage, explained Fred W. Patterson, President of the National Selected Morticians. While most of the jewelry buried with bodies is expensive, averaging about $10 a trinket in each case, Mr. Patterson estimated that the 2,000,000 Americans who die annually carry approximately $20,000,000 worth of jewelry to the grave with them.

ONE Master Recipe for FIVE kinds of cakes

It's certainly a pretty custom to serve cake when guests come. But, since we all do it, there is danger of monotony.

It is to escape that, and escape work, that women find the Sperry Master Recipes so helpful. By learning only three Master Recipes and simple variations of them, they find they can make some two dozen kinds of cake.

One of these Master Recipes—for Layer Cake—is given below. Notice how simple it is and how easily it makes five kinds of cake.

The Sperry Master Recipe for Layer Cake

1 1/2 cup shortening
 1-1/2 cups sugar
 2 cups Sperry Drifted Snow
 Flour sifted with 2 teaspoons of baking powder

3 eggs
 1/2 cup milk or water
 1 teaspoon each of vanilla
 and lemon extract

Cream shortening until it may be beaten with a spoon; add sugar gradually beating until mixture is creamy. Separate the whites and yolks of the eggs. Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored; add to creamed butter and sugar; beat vigorously; then add flour and liquid alternately, stirring the white until batter is smooth; and fold in the well-beaten whites of eggs and flavoring. Bake in three well-greased layer cake pans in a fairly hot oven (360° F.). Use your favorite filling.

Walnut Loaf Cake
 Prepare the Master Recipe, adding one-half cup of finely chopped walnuts to the cake batter before folding in the beaten whites of eggs. Bake in a greased loaf cake pan about 45 minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.).

Golden Cake
 Prepare the Master Recipe, using four egg yolks and one whole egg. Add these well-beaten to the creamed butter and sugar. Bake in a loaf (350° F.), or in layers (360° F.).

Small Fancy Cakes
 Prepare the Master Recipe. Pour batter into a well-greased, shallow baking pan. Bake from 15 to 20 minutes. Cool, then cut into fancy shapes and ice. Chocolate, pink, and white icing will give variety, and the tops can be decorated with chopped nuts, coconut, and candied fruits.

FREE booklet of Sperry Master Recipes
 The fifth kind, White Cake, made with this same Master Recipe, and other Sperry Master Recipes for cakes are given in a new booklet, "EIGHTY Food Delights from EIGHT Master Recipes." All of your baking will be simpler and surer with these Master Recipes. Write; I'll send the booklet FREE.
