VOLUME XXIV. SECOND SECTION LA GRANDE, OREGON, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1925. TEN PAGES TODAY. NUMBER 45

SHIP FRUIT TO SANTA FE, N. M.

HOT LAKE. (Special) — Ten carloads of Grande Ronde valley apples are being shipped this week to Sante Fe, New Mexico. Arthur J. Gilbert, who came to eastern Oregon a patient at the Hot Lake Sanatorium, has contracted for them in La Grande. Gilbert is by profession a civil engineer and is associated with his state's highway department.

Probably no other man in Oregon, if indeed on the coast, has done more to develop the more or less haphazard occupation of "washing clothes" into the "laundry business" than has John Tait, who is a patient here from Astoria. Tait formerly made his home in Portland where he owned his central plant, The Troy, and from where he directed the operation of several laundries. When he started in Portland in the '80s, laundries were so few that his firm handled the work for most of the cities along the Columbia and for many as far east as Weiser, Ida., large percent of the few laundries which existed were run by men from the land of rice and cherry blossoms. Tait has constantly worked for improvement in this business. He has on several occasions been president of the state laundryman's organization and has served on its advisory board year after year. The Rotary is the other organization which most interests Tait. He is president of the Astoria group.

Mrs. Russell Improving

Mrs. J. A. Russell, of La Grande, underwent a surgical operation here Monday morning. Though she is getting along very nicely, Mrs. Russell will stay at the lake for a few days.

Ralph A. Holte, of the Vale National Bank, spent the weekend at the Sanatorium, visiting his daughter, a patient in the hospital. Holte, already a substantial property owner in Vale, has purchased the First National Bank Building, the Drexel hotel and the newspaper there.

Mrs. O. H. Cline, who underwent a Caesarian operation last week when her little daughter, La Fae, was born, is returning to her home in Union soon. Mrs. Cline's operation was preformed under spinal anesthesia.

Two close companions, of Elma Wash., even come to a hospital together. George Simpson and L. L. Wakefield, have both registered from that city. Simpson is a well known attorney in his part of Washington, while Wakefield is the Elma postmaster.

George Stadelman has returned to The Dalles after spending several weeks as a patient at the Hot Lake Sanatorium. Stadelman's father is mayor of The Dalles.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. King, well known farmers of the Pendleton district, are patients at the Sanatorium.

When A. J. Weston, a patient from Olympia, Wash., cruises up and down the coast of Alaska next summer, he will do so in his own yacht. The boat is under construction now and will be completed early next spring in time Weston and his family will then set sail on a vacation which he has been delaying while he built the Olympia Dregging company, which he owns, into one of the largest concerns of its kind on Puget Sound.

E. A. Nord, from whom the Macy-Nord company, derives part of its name, is spending a few weeks at the lake.

Merrill Boyle, registered at the Lake from Blackfoot, Ida., furnishes one answer to the question "What becomes of our football players?" Boyle, who did his playing with the California team, is now following the advertising game. His father, O. B. Bolye, owner of a Blackfoot hardware store, is also at the Sanatorium.

Kerr Returns to Grants Pass

Jack Kerr, son of Arthur Kerr of La Grande, left the first of the week for his home in Grants Pass, where he is manager of an electric power company. Kerr came to Eastern Oregon a few weeks ago for a surgical operation. During his convalescence he has been staying in La Grande part of the time.

A professional athlete, Ad Gustava, is a patient at the Sanatorium. Gustava has been wrestling throughout the west for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hess, of the Jacobs-Hess Lumber company of North Powder, are among recent registrants at Hot Lake.

Mrs. R. B. Fisher, of Portland, and her sister-in-law Mrs. V. Fisher, of Roseburg are both patients in the hospital. Though the former is not known to many La Grande residents, many of her relatives are. Her brother is State Treasurer Thomas Kay, and she is a sister-in-law of Judge Cashow, and an aunt of the Bishop Brothers, owners of the Pendleton woolen mills.

Abbey Comes Home

The former Abbey Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., returns to America with her husband, David Milton, after an extended honeymoon in Europe.

Cold Winter Brings Danger To Inland Coast Guard

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP)—Predictions of "the coldest winter since 1918" brings no visions of cozy, ice-bound weeks to the crew of America's inland coast guard station, located on the Ohio River here. Instead, they see ahead a season of danger and struggle with the greatest of freshwater perils—the ice gorge.

True, there are no more calls to rescue careless swimmers, but answering such calls is but a small part of the guardsman's work. He is forever on guard—two watches by day and two by night. There are a dozen drills each week. There is the eternal "policing" of quarters ,equipment and clothing, including everything from scouring decks and brass to sewing of buttons.

White Man Engineering Feat Ends Ancient Indian Tradition

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., (AP)—Engineering wizardry of the white man has blasted an Indian tradition of three hundred years' standing at the Pueblo of Isleta, near here.

Since the year the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth, the body of Juan de Padilla, martyred Franciscan padre, has risen annually to the earthen surface of the Catholic chapel in the pueblo plaza where it was buried beneath the altar, tradition runs.

Two years ago the United States Indian Service constructed an irrigation ditch through the plaza and since there have been no further risings of the body.

The body is in a remarkable state of preservation, resembling a mummy with long, dark whiskers, Indians who have seen it said.

CLOVER CREEK SOCIAL NEWS

CLOVER CREEK, (Special)—Delbert McCanse returned to Clover Creek to spend Thanksgiving with his wife and parents here. He has been farming at Wells, Nevada during the past summer. He and his wife will return to Nevada in the spring.

Many family dinners were held here Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Lillie Dahlstrom was a member of the orchestra which furnished music for a dance given at the Bungalow theatre at North Powder Thanksgiving night.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Olson are preparing to move soon. Mrs. Olson has been at the home of her mother for the past three months.

Ed Miles and A. E. DeVore hvae been helping J. T. DeVore to move his machinery to Union this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pierce and son, Bobbie, and Mrs. Riddle, mother of Mrs. Pierce, all of La Grande, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edson McCanse Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dahlstrom, of Baker, recently spent the day with Mrs. B. C. Dahlstrom.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hess are superintending the logging operations at the Jacobs saw mill in this vicinity.

Mr and Mrs. Chester Watkins and baby daughter are moving to the Jacobs mill for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert McCanse were Saturday visitors to La Grande.

Mrs. J. A. McCanse has been quite ill but is gradually improving.

Leo Burback left Sunday evening for Eugene, where he will visit relatives and friends for a week or ten days.

George McDough, of the Park, was a recent business visitor to this section.

Dan Aughey, youngest son of George Aughey, who has been slightly ill for some time was rushed to Baker Friday night, where he was operated on for appendicitis. The appendix had bursted. He is still in a very serious condition.

Doctor says fatigue is a disease. Most of us get sick of our work.

WELWYN, Herts, Eng., (AP)—Women, because of their natural tendency to home-making, are better qualified than men to raise poultry, says Miss Harrison Bell, operator of the All-Women Chicken and Duck Farm.
