GRANGE HAS ANNIVERSARY

GRANGE HALL, (Special)—At the last meeting of the Blue Mountain grange the outstanding feature of the day was the program given under the direction of Mrs. Edith Gekeler. The entertainment was in celebration of the fifty-sixth anniversary of the national grange and the twenty-first anniversary of Blue Mountain grange. Ed Eckley reviewed the history of the organization of the first grange in the United States. Mrs. Susie Williamson gave an article on the first grange in Union county, which was known as Blue Mountain grange. She stated that the present grange hall was built in 1878 and the following names were charter members: Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Chaplin, George Gekeler, Mr. and Mrs. George Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Chambeau, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Childers, Mr. and Mrs. William Froehnel, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Nessley, Jos. Anson, John Hartness, Mr. and Mrs. Al Good, Mr. Welch, Mary McClure, Mr. and Mrs. John Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Goodall, Donnie Woodell, John Love, Mr. and Mrs. Rynearson, Mr. and Mrs. Horspool, and Susie McAllister, besides several from Union and Summerville.

Mrs. Williamson said that because of a disagreement among the members over the location of a flour mill the first grange disorganized and not until twenty-one years ago was it reorganized.

Tells of New Grange
Mrs. Hattie Golden told of the new organization. She also read the list of the names of charter members. Reminiscences were given by Mabel Anson, Mrs. J. A.

Dear Mr. Merchant:

38% more customers--
11% more sales--
29% greater average sales.

These wonderful results were secured by the new Grand Leader Department Store in Chicago.

The owner of the store says that better lighting did the job. Nothing else was altered.

Better lighting can increase your sales-- perhaps not as much, maybe more. But certainly more than enough to pay for Ivanhoe Trojans on our easy 12 month payment plan.

Let us send a trained man to look over your present light and recommend needed changes. No cost or obligation for this service.

Phone us now and tell us when our representative may call.

Yours truly,
EASTERN OREGON LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY.
