E. O. A. A. IS FORMED HERE

Organization of an Eastern Oregon Athletic association here was announced today by officials of the body. One hundred members have been secured and a successful winter season is anticipated. Frank Hecklin will head the A. A. as president while Chie Gaudin will serve as trainer. The association will cater to volleyball, basketball, wrestling and boxing matches. Plans are under way to organize several volleyball teams and some hoop quintets as quickly as possible. Tentative date for an opening boxing match has been set for December 17, although definite arrangements have not been completed. The association has secured the fully-equipped gymnasium in the L. O. O. P. Temple across Elm from the municipal building. The gym is fitted with showers, has a court equally adaptable to basketball or volleyball, and can be arranged for fights and mat matches. The association's headquarters are at the Home Plate.

SMITH OFFERED EXTENSION

BERKELEY (AP)—Andrew L. Smith, head football coach of the University of California, has been offered a four year extension of his present contract. Luther Nichols, graduate general manager, in making the announcement Thursday said this was the decision of a meeting of the Associated Students executive committee held Wednesday night. A statement said this action had been taken in appreciation of Smith's excellent work as football coach at California.

Billy Evans Says:

THE UNUSUAL. Someone asked me the other day as to the most unusual happening that came under my observation last season.

A lot of things can take place in a 154-game schedule, so I began the right to take the question under advisement. I realized it required considerable thought to be properly answered.

It is possible for any department of play to create an unusual happening in baseball. Pitching, fielding and batting are perhaps the three most important factors.

As I mulled over the many events of the past season two batting feats came back to me as the most remarkable happenings of the season.

Batting feats would lack a certain amount of color unless they had Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb mixed up in them. The two I have in mind did.

RIGGING A JINX. Cobb's batting rampage was staged at St. Louis in early May. The Tigers, away to a poor start, were in the midst of a terrible slump when they arrived for a session with the Browns.

Cobb had been out of the game for some time because of illness. Although not ready to play, he decided to get into the lineup in an effort to break the losing streak.

"The club can't be any worse with me in there, so I'm the center-fielder today," remarked Cobb as he handed me the lineup.

"I'm not hitting my weight," continued Cobb, "so I think I will go back to my old style at the bat. You know when I was doing my best batting my grip called for my hands to be widely separated.

"Foolishly I have been holding both hand at the extreme end of the bat in order to get a full swing at the ball, so as to get all possible distance to my drives."

The bell rang for the game to start and Cobb journeyed back to the bench to select his favorite bat.

In Hard Lines. "I could not work at all and had to take to my bed with a high fever due to intestinal indigestion, gases in my stomach and pain in my right side. I had spent my last cent for doctors and medicine, which gave me no relief. I was in despair. A lodge brother gave me a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy and the first dose relieved me. Thanks to this medicine I am now in the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the malarial mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

GUSTAVO TAKES TWO FALLS FROM FRANK PILLING

ENTERPRISE, Ore. (Special By Mail)—Picking his opponent bodily from the mat, raising him high in the air and then falling with him to the floor, Al Gustavo, of Portland, won the third fall and the match from Frank Pilling, of Pendleton, middleweight champion of the northwest. They met at Community hall, Saturday night.

Gustavo took the first fall with a legsplit after 35 minutes of the fastest and most exciting wrestling ever seen in Enterprise. Every known hold was used by both men in their efforts to get a fall.

Gustavo punished his opponent with wristlock after wristlock while Pilling relied mainly on toe-holds and headlocks.

Pilling staged a pretty comeback and took the second fall in 5 minutes and 50 seconds with a headlock. A succession of headlocks left Gus so groggy that he was unable to resist and forced him to concede the second fall to Pilling.

It was the third fall that is still talked about by those who saw the final. Both men came out for the final fall apparently strong. Pilling slipped a headlock on Gus which was broken with difficulty. Then it was that the powerful Gustavo spilled the Pendleton grappler on the mat. Time of third fall, 1 minute 14 seconds.

Pilling was out cold, lying where he had fallen for several minutes after the match was over. When finally revived he grappled with his manager and brought him to the mat under the impression that he was Gustavo.

Jim Noregaard of Wallawa refereed the match. The championship belt was not at stake as Gustavo was slightly beyond the middleweight limit. Pilling has challenged Gustavo to another match, winner to take all receipts.

as well as two or three others that he always totes to the plate.

FEATS OF COBB. That was May 5. All Cobb did that afternoon was to make six hits in six times at bat. He hit three home runs into the rather short right field stands.

Three circuit drives tied the modern home run record. He failed by inches to get a fourth homer, the ball dropping just inside the enclosure for a double. He also made two singles.

These three home runs, a double and two singles, gave Cobb a total base mark of 19 for a new modern record.

That sure was stepping some for a veteran of 29 campaigns. However, he came right back the next day with two more home runs, making five in two days. The best previous mark was four, held by Ruth and several others.

Cobb not only broke the Tigers' losing streak but also added several new laurels to his long list of batting honors.

WATER RATES INCREASED. GOLD HILL, Ore.—Gold Hill, which recently voted an additional bond issue of $15,000 to reconstruct its water rates, increased from 15 to 100 per cent beginning today the city council has announced. The taxpayers' increase is due to the need of meeting interest and extending of the $25,000 loan voted two years ago in taking over the local power plant, and maintenance of the system was more than absorbing the revenue derived from water rentals.

WORKERS FIND ANCIENT CITY

QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—A buried city, the site, perhaps, of a pre-glacial age civilization, has been found in excavations in Pike county, Missouri, six miles from the Mississippi river and 59 miles from here.

Beneath 12 feet of glacial drift a well defined shaft has been uncovered leading to a floor 65 feet down. A wall leads from the foot of the shaft, divided by a similar wall, either crossing the passage from subterranean chambers or supporting the roof as pillars.

Workers have concentrated efforts on a point 25 feet from the foot of the shaft at the edge of what they believe is a room. In it they hope to find gold, pottery and possible mummies or skeletons of the city's ancient inhabitants.

Search for burial treasure led to the discovery of the shaft. An expedition headed and financed by R. B. Burchard of St. Louis, investigating old Indian legends of buried treasure, found it. By means of an instrument similar to the old fashioned diving rod, Burchard claims to have traced the walls of 43 underground rooms and seven passages ways connecting them.

The shaft was walled with a cement-like material different in color from the earth within the shaft, no trace of which was found above the pre-glacial surface. In the shaft, at intervals of a few feet, were caps or plates like concrete, extending out to the walls. Between the caps the earth had the appearance of having been stamped in with poles. Burchard said.

At the base of the shaft a straight wall of hard, rocky substance leads west for several feet, turning south at a perfect right angle. Across a three-foot passageway is a similar wall. The floor of the passage is of gravel bound with a clay filler. The roof is of rubble clay in this strata so it deposited by water during centuries.

Red Cross Secretary Named

EUGENE, Ore.—Miss Alma Lupo of San Francisco was appointed secretary of the Lane county chapter of the American Red Cross. She arrived in Eugene last night and today took up her official duties in this district. Since late this summer she has been with the Pacific branch of the Red Cross at San Francisco. For more than six months prior to this she was assisting Dr. Walter H. Brown, director of the child health demonstration work in Marion county.

A debate was held by radio recently. What a fine way to argue with someone you can't whip.
