

Solve "Her" Gift Problem Here!

This Entire Store Exclusively Devoted to Needs and Wants of Women

Gift Aditorials

It May Interest You To Know

- That— A pleasing gift for Mother is to be had in these rubber aprons. Bright colors—best materials—priced at $1.50.
- That— We have never had such beautiful display of leather handbags and purses. That they are unusually attractive and make ideal gifts is shown by the demand for them. See them—a large assortment.
- That— A colorful scarf of silk or Scotch wool is very gift-like. "Just what the young lady would desire."
- That— Children take pride in wearable gifts as well as grown-ups—especially if they are bright and warm as are these good-looking sweaters—$2.75 to $3.50.

Lovely Gifts of Pure Linen Always Adored by Women

No matter whom the feminine person may be on your Christmas list, you can confidently select linen and know that it will be well received. It is a delightful gift because it combines beauty as well as usefulness.

Fancy towels in gift boxes are particularly practical—and you have here a choice selection at moderate prices that will come within your Christmas funds.

Table linen is always needed by every woman. Here are new designs in lovely pure linen luncheon cloths and napkins to match in box sets. Excellent values at—

$3.25 to $5

Highest quality single lunch cloths, pure linen, beautiful designs, at—

$2.25 to $12

Beautiful New Art Goods

There is yet time before Christmas for the artistic woman to use these stamped linens to good advantage in finishing her Christmas list. There is every variety of gift you could wish—and latest designs that promise color combinations of beauty.

Gift Aditorials

It May Interest You To Know

- That— Dainty collar and cuff sets with many lace designs make moderately priced gifts. New jabots, too, are much in demand.
- That— Many women have complimented us on our excellent showing of fancy handkerchiefs. The finest Pindolton and Beacon creations—a truly wonderful gift for the housewife.
- That— If you do not know her hand size and want to give her a pair of these smart French kid gloves, make your selection and she can exchange easily if the size is incorrect. Bright, ab-garmented cuffs, $2.50 and $4.00.
- That— Many pretty embroidered boxes are moderately priced for thrifty gift-buyers. Pillow and cushion tops, table runners, etc.

Handkerchiefs--Small but Ever-Welcome Gifts

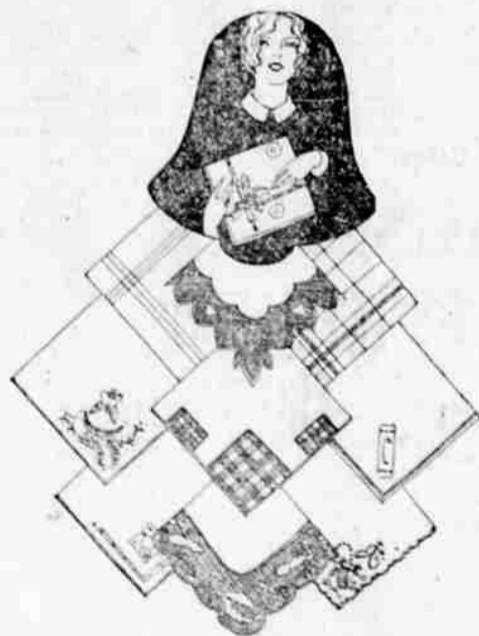

For the woman or girl whom you wish to remember with an intimate and appreciated gift but one that is inexpensive, choose handkerchiefs. There are many lovely ones, from 10c to $1. Some special values at 50c each or gift box of three for—

$1.50

Christmas Fabrics

Practical mothers and sensible daughters are finding many beautiful patterns in dress goods for gifts. Material for a new frock is an ideal remembrance. See the new silks we are showing.

"A Good Place To Trade"

HILL'S

She'll Love These Fine Hose of Pure Silk

Theme, Wayne-Knit and Hummingbird silk hosiery offers three beautiful lines from which to select this welcome gift. In chiffon or service weights, prices up to $2, in all colors. The Hummingbird—a wonderful value—is put up in single gift boxes at, per pair—

$1.50

Christmas Slippers

Pretty bedroom slippers are always wanted. Fur-trimmed Julietts are $1.85, novelty felts $1 to $2.25. The smart-looking velvet slipper is a beauty at $2.75. Satins, $2.20. Leather, $2.25. Children's felts priced—

$1.00 to $1.45

"A Good Place To Trade"

HOOP OUTLOOK IS NOT BRIGHT

La Grande's basketball outlook—unless the boys take on some good hard work and plenty of it—is nothing to feel encouraged about, in the opinion of the coach, Thornton Bennett, who put the squad through its first scrimmage at the gymnasium last evening.

The eligibles have been cut to 20, that number including George Glass Jr., whom the boys have chosen captain of the team; Zundel, Hanks, Lyman and Larison of last year's squad.

"There's no such a thing as a first team, yet," the coach said this morning. "They all look about alike so far, and all pretty rotten. Keown, who played on the Junior team last year, shows a little promise."

"If they can learn to shoot, we'll have a good team; if they don't, we haven't a chance. None of them made a decent percentage at it last night."

"They seem plenty willing to learn, however. And if they'll take on a lot of good hard work we'll have a team by the end of the season—in time, at least, to make a showing in the tournament at Union."

"It will mean knuckling right down to business for everybody, though, if we develop into a team that can present itself," the coach concluded decisively.

BULLDOGS WIN FROM BLUES. HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The four horsemen backfield lost at Notre Dame failed to stop the Cleveland Bulldogs, national league football champions of 1924, and the Hartford Blues were sent down to a 13 to 6 defeat here Sunday afternoon.

Don Miller was taken from the game in the first period while Layden was also injured in the period, but later resumed his place in the line-up.

KAPLAN TO MEET HERMAN. NEW YORK (AP)—Louis (Kid) Kaplan of Madison, Conn., world's featherweight champion, will risk his title in a 15-round engagement with Babe Herman, product of California, in Madison Square Garden, Friday night.

Kaplan will be the third boxing king to defend his crown within a fortnight. Jimmy Goodrich, king of the lightweights having lost his title to Rocky Kansas Buffalo, N. Y., last Monday night, while Paul Herberich retained his light heavyweight laurels by the narrowest of margins against Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., last Friday.

FAMOUS HORSE ARRIVES. NEW YORK (AP)—Sir Hallahan III, famous 5-year-old French race horse arrived Monday on the Minnetonka and will be shipped to Park, Ky. The horse is insured for $5,000 English pounds. He was recently purchased from Jeff Colin by A. B. Hancock for $110,000.

The horse arrived in excellent condition. The ship also brought 14 other race horses consigned to various owners in the United States.

Mr. Hancock arrived on the Mauritania Monday.

STRIBLING RECEIVES OFFER. NEW YORK (AP)—Young Stribling, Georgia school boy, who gained fame in heavyweight boxing ranks, is expected to fight his first 15-round bout in this state.

1927 Model

Seattle costumers, modistes and milliners got together the other day and figured out what the real smart girl of 1926 is to wear. Here's the secret: Hat: the Gigolo, close fitting, low in front and high in back. Dress: shorter than ever, barely to top of knees. Hosiery: darker shades with no visible means of support; and not rolled. Shoes: oxfords. Make-up: more vivid than ever. Jewelry: draped pearls, cameo brooches, rings and buckles. Sleeves: immense, with art embroidery. Bags: smaller but heavily decorated. Gloves: hand painted, and elaborately appliqued. Trousers: red georgette.

FORMER BOXER DIES. SEATTLE (AP)—Frank "Frenchy" Vaise, former light-weight boxer of Seattle, dropped dead Saturday from a heart attack in Leaton 12 miles south of here, it was learned here. Vaise formerly held the Canadian lightweight championship, winning the title from Joe Bayley in a 15-round bout at Vancouver in 1917.

BOXER ARRIVES IN U. S. NEW YORK (AP)—Richard Todd, British middleweight champion, arrived Monday on the Mauritania. After a few days he will go to Vernon, Cal., where he will meet Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, January 12.

To land on Lake Umbagog for the first time and to explore the neighboring territory. To study the ethnology of the coast and mountain Papuans. To obtain a representative ethnological collection from the different tribes visited for the United States National museum. New Guinea is the largest island in the world except Australia. For centuries it has resisted the efforts of explorers. Today it is one of the least known portions of the world. Besides Mr. Stirling, who lives at Berkeley, Cal., the members of the expedition include Stanley A. Hodgson, Chicago; Richard K. Luck, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Hans Hoyt, New York; and Tibert Hamer, Seattle, Iowa.

RADIO IS TO ENTER JUNGLE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Radio faithful comrades of the explorer, undaunted to heights or depths, ice or heat, will follow the Stirling expedition into the unknown jungles and mountains of Dutch New Guinea. The party has sailed from San Francisco for the roundabout voyage that will terminate on the shores of Papua, where the real journey will begin. The half dozen scientific adventurers, taking the airplane in which they hope to fly over vast uncharted stretches, have arranged to establish three radio stations. The first will be at the coast, at their base camp, the second at an advance camp which they expect to make at a point in the interior, and the third aboard the plane.

The expedition will be augmented at Singapore with an escort provided by the Dutch government. It is planned for the coast and interior camps to keep in touch by wireless, and when the plane goes on a jaunt for reconnaissance, it will talk to the camps and possibly to the outside world. Matthew W. Stirling, anthropologist, heading the expedition, hopes to speak direct from the plane to Singapore, Manila or some other suitable station that may inform the world how the explorers are faring and what they have found. The plane is fitted for photography, and aerial map making. It carries all the latest safety devices. By using the plane to hop from the coast to the interior the party will circumvent much of the hardships that attended previous expeditions. Not there will be greater hazards than the air-sea route involves. The boys will be sailing over a country of which they know nothing. Mr. Stirling hopes to study the strange pygmy race, reported to dwell in the mountains of the interior. These pygmies have been seen by other expeditions, but never at close enough range for detailed examination. They are described as shy people, dwelling in trees and so primitive as to be little above animals. Other objects of the expedition are: To reach the great province of the Nassau range, said to be eighty miles long, with an absolutely vertical height of 10,000 feet.

all the latest safety devices. By using the plane to hop from the coast to the interior the party will circumvent much of the hardships that attended previous expeditions. Not there will be greater hazards than the air-sea route involves. The boys will be sailing over a country of which they know nothing. Mr. Stirling hopes to study the strange pygmy race, reported to dwell in the mountains of the interior. These pygmies have been seen by other expeditions, but never at close enough range for detailed examination. They are described as shy people, dwelling in trees and so primitive as to be little above animals. Other objects of the expedition are: To reach the great province of the Nassau range, said to be eighty miles long, with an absolutely vertical height of 10,000 feet.

To land on Lake Umbagog for the first time and to explore the neighboring territory. To study the ethnology of the coast and mountain Papuans. To obtain a representative ethnological collection from the different tribes visited for the United States National museum. New Guinea is the largest island in the world except Australia. For centuries it has resisted the efforts of explorers. Today it is one of the least known portions of the world. Besides Mr. Stirling, who lives at Berkeley, Cal., the members of the expedition include Stanley A. Hodgson, Chicago; Richard K. Luck, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Hans Hoyt, New York; and Tibert Hamer, Seattle, Iowa.

all the latest safety devices. By using the plane to hop from the coast to the interior the party will circumvent much of the hardships that attended previous expeditions. Not there will be greater hazards than the air-sea route involves. The boys will be sailing over a country of which they know nothing. Mr. Stirling hopes to study the strange pygmy race, reported to dwell in the mountains of the interior. These pygmies have been seen by other expeditions, but never at close enough range for detailed examination. They are described as shy people, dwelling in trees and so primitive as to be little above animals. Other objects of the expedition are: To reach the great province of the Nassau range, said to be eighty miles long, with an absolutely vertical height of 10,000 feet.

all the latest safety devices. By using the plane to hop from the coast to the interior the party will circumvent much of the hardships that attended previous expeditions. Not there will be greater hazards than the air-sea route involves. The boys will be sailing over a country of which they know nothing. Mr. Stirling hopes to study the strange pygmy race, reported to dwell in the mountains of the interior. These pygmies have been seen by other expeditions, but never at close enough range for detailed examination. They are described as shy people, dwelling in trees and so primitive as to be little above animals. Other objects of the expedition are: To reach the great province of the Nassau range, said to be eighty miles long, with an absolutely vertical height of 10,000 feet.

all the latest safety devices. By using the plane to hop from the coast to the interior the party will circumvent much of the hardships that attended previous expeditions. Not there will be greater hazards than the air-sea route involves. The boys will be sailing over a country of which they know nothing. Mr. Stirling hopes to study the strange pygmy race, reported to dwell in the mountains of the interior. These pygmies have been seen by other expeditions, but never at close enough range for detailed examination. They are described as shy people, dwelling in trees and so primitive as to be little above animals. Other objects of the expedition are: To reach the great province of the Nassau range, said to be eighty miles long, with an absolutely vertical height of 10,000 feet.

all the latest safety devices. By using the plane to hop from the coast to the interior the party will circumvent much of the hardships that attended previous expeditions. Not there will be greater hazards than the air-sea route involves. The boys will be sailing over a country of which they know nothing. Mr. Stirling hopes to study the strange pygmy race, reported to dwell in the mountains of the interior. These pygmies have been seen by other expeditions, but never at close enough range for detailed examination. They are described as shy people, dwelling in trees and so primitive as to be little above animals. Other objects of the expedition are: To reach the great province of the Nassau range, said to be eighty miles long, with an absolutely vertical height of 10,000 feet.

all the latest safety devices. By using the plane to hop from the coast to the interior the party will circumvent much of the hardships that attended previous expeditions. Not there will be greater hazards than the air-sea route involves. The boys will be sailing over a country of which they know nothing. Mr. Stirling hopes to study the strange pygmy race, reported to dwell in the mountains of the interior. These pygmies have been seen by other expeditions, but never at close enough range for detailed examination. They are described as shy people, dwelling in trees and so primitive as to be little above animals. Other objects of the expedition are: To reach the great province of the Nassau range, said to be eighty miles long, with an absolutely vertical height of 10,000 feet.

all the latest safety devices. By using the plane to hop from the coast to the interior the party will circumvent much of the hardships that attended previous expeditions. Not there will be greater hazards than the air-sea route involves. The boys will be sailing over a country of which they know nothing. Mr. Stirling hopes to study the strange pygmy race, reported to dwell in the mountains of the interior. These pygmies have been seen by other expeditions, but never at close enough range for detailed examination. They are described as shy people, dwelling in trees and so primitive as to be little above animals. Other objects of the expedition are: To reach the great province of the Nassau range, said to be eighty miles long, with an absolutely vertical height of 10,000 feet.

Promising

This is Jimmy Trammitt, popular Cleveland featherweight, who has been spending some nights of late here, only been out of the amateur ranks a short time, but has been turned victor in most of his bouts. He is under the management of Walter Ryan, prominent Philadelphia promoter.

Col. Colidge's Doctor Is Recipient of Much Advice

BRIDGEWATER, N. J. (AP)—Dr. Albert M. Grant, physician to the president's father, Col. John C. Colidge of Plymouth, shares early in January.

Stribling's father, who does the managing for his jockey son, also is in New York and has agreed with the management of Madison Square Garden to match with Eddie Haffmann, of the Pacific coast, providing Haffmann shows well against Ad Stone of Philadelphia in Newark, N. J., Wednesday.

with presidents, movie stars and newspaper editors the deffered honor of receiving gratitude advice from all sections of the country. Nearly every mail brings its contribution of "sure cure" remedies from those who feel impelled to volunteer suggestions. The treatments advocated range all the way from metal therapy to sulphur baths. They are consistently disregarded.

HOTEL ASTOR
2nd & Hill Los Angeles
EVERY ROOM has PRIVATE TOILET
50% Baths New, Modern
Close to Shopping District and Theaters
FREE GARAGE Tariff from $

The Delightful Gift
Dainty Toiletries
Nothing quite so much with enthusiastic approval on the part of the recipient as a gift box of lovely powders, creams, rouges, and perfumes.
$1.00 to $12.75

Moon Drug Co.
(Everything For The Sick Room)

Travel by Motor Stage

Safely Swiftly Comfortably

Travel by Motor Stage—Safely—Comfortably—
MOTOR TRANSIT COMPANY.
The Grey Stages.
Come to our Stage Depot at 1114 Jefferson Ave.
All Modern and Heated Stages.
LEAVE LA GRANDE FOR
Joseph—9 A. M., 1 P. M., 4 P. M. Sunday, 9 A. M., 1 P. M.
Pendleton—11 A. M., 1 P. M. Daily.
Connects to Walla Walla and Portland.
Cheap Rates—Depot Phone We Carry Luggage
On Special Trips Main 799 And Trunks

A Word To The Wives

about Pressing

If you are proud of him—desirous of seeing him win and hold his entitled place among men, you will want his clothes pressed in keeping with his position.

And if you are prudent you will want pressing that gives you the most for the money.

In short, you will want clothes pressed by our famous new Valetaria method—the same service as advertised in the Saturday Evening Post.

We shape the collar on a special collar press; the shoulders on a shoulder press; coat fronts on forming presses; trousers on a trouser press, exactly as was done when the suit was made. Shape and style are restored, and the suit stays pressed longer.

And if you have any dyeing or dry cleaning to be done, we'll be glad to do that too. Phone us today.

Valetaria Dry Cleaners

Main 702 Motor Delivery