Sister Mary Says:

(By Sister Mary)

Breakfast—Stewed prunes with lemon; cereal; top milk; crisp toast, broiled bacon, creamed potatoes, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Bisque of oysters, toasted crackers, celery sandwich, cold-fashioned bread pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner—Breaded veal cutlets, tomato sauce, baked sweet potatoes, molded spinach, beet and cabbage salad, canned peaches, apple sauce, cake, rye bread, milk, coffee.

Use whole wheat or graham bread for the luncheon sandwiches. Cut crisped and dried celery into thin slices and sprinkle generously over buttered bread. Spread with a well-seasoned cooked dressing or mayonnaise. Cover with a thin slice of buttered bread and serve at once. These sandwiches are pleasant enough to "pep up" the soup and pudding but are also mild enough not to completely overshadow their flavors.

Bisque of Oysters

One pint oysters, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons salt, 3 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 cup whipping cream, paprika.

Clean oysters. Add enough water to the oyster liquor to make one cup. Cook oysters in this liquor until edges curl. Drain and chop very fine or pound to a pulp. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper and add oysters and liquor. Bring to the boiling point and then cook over hot water for 20 minutes. Whip cream until stiff and fold into soup just before serving. Serve sprinkled with paprika.

The whipped cream is not necessary but it adds to the richness of the soup and lightens and improves the quality of the soup.

Hamlet of Plymouth Also a Spot Congenial to Old Age

PLYMOUTH, Vt. (AP)—This hamlet, which is justly proud of having given a president to the country, is probably one of the most salubrious spots in this section of the country.

Herb Moore and several old-timers were discussing with Angus MacAulley, guard at the home of the president's father, Col. John C. Coolidge, the longevity of the inhabitants of Plymouth township.

Someone raised the question of actual numbers and in little more than half an hour they had named 38 men and women whose ages ranged from eighty to well over ninety. They declared that there must be at least half a dozen others.

The population of the township is estimated at 400 and no man is considered old who is not at least seventy.

Berlin Life Guards Must Swim as Well as They Pose

BERLIN (AP)—Handsome bronzed Apollos no longer will be stationed as lifeguards at municipal bathing beaches solely for the admiration of young women. They at least must be able to swim. Municipal authorities investigating the drownings of two boys in one of the outdoor swimming pools report that the rescue of the boys was hampered by the fact that many of the lifeguards could not swim. It is charged that dry land bathing frequently indulged in by women with stunning bathing costumes also has been practiced by guards whose suit probably would not stand the water.

Fugitive Youth Captured. SALEM, Ore.—William Borden, age 14, is being held here pending the arrival of an attendant from the state training school for boys at Chehalis, Wash. He escaped from the school there last Saturday. When arrested by the police he was driving a stolen automobile.

Lemon rinds are now utilized for the manufacture of pectin, the substance that makes jelly "jelly."
