MERCY ASSURED—He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whosoever confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.—Proverbs 28:13.

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAMS

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY—THE DAILY SEND-OFF.

About the only way to insult a girl nowadays, is to tell her she needs a haircut.

Friendly nations are those that can insult one another politely.

"Is it true that statistics show that women live to be older than men?"
"They ought to. 'Taint's a great preservative, you know."

REMEMBER THE SLOGAN
"Didn't I see you going down the street the other day with an apple in your hand?"
"Quite so, old chap. I was going to call on the doctor's wife."

The world was made in seven days. You see, it wasn't necessary to consult the senate.

Home is a place where you can go and raise Cain because things went wrong at the office or in your work.

STILL MORE EPITAPHS
Here lies the bones of Harley Bate. A chief executive immense. We hope when he's at Heaven's gate St. Peter's "In Conference."

Who shuffled off aged twenty-nine;
He used to sit in smoking cars
And query people, "What's your line?"

Tell the deep bell for Dorey Kent
Who never risked a single cent—
But after every race was run
Told how much coin he could have won.

Here are some parts of Wong Hang Choo.
He bent his arms, and both his knees;
He gave a laundry ticket to
A man who understood Chinese.

Burning your bridges behind you isn't so bad if you can swim.
Love is the quality that makes a young man forget how many times will go into $22 a week.

"She had the spirit of seventy-six."
"Well, why shouldn't she have? She was seventy-six."

Short dresses make the men more polite. You seldom see a man get in a car ahead of one now.

Once upon a time there was a man who brought back the umbrella he borrowed.

If you want to hear some one talk an hour or two, ask a returning traveler why he returned from Florida.

She—What heavenly Jazz—let's dance!
"That isn't jazz—the waiter dropped our dinner."

Citiman (pompously)—"I work my head, sir."
Countryman—"That ain't nothin'. So does a woodpecker."

The Three B's—Bunge, Balled Stockings, Red Hot Mama.

Old does usually know too many tricks, anyway.

"Black Prince" Treasure Ship
Believed Found by Russians
SEBASTOPOLE, (AP)—Stories of the "Crimson War" and sunken treasure have been revived by the reported location of "Black Prince," a British ship, which foundered in Baskinlava Bay.

For seventy years the British and Russian Governments at intervals have been searching for the ship, for when it went down it had about $2,000,000 in gold. Recently Russian divers brought to the surface a mass of lead, which is believed to have belonged to the "Black Prince."

During the height of the Crimean War the ship entered Baskinlava Bay with its cargo of gold, foodstuffs, medical supplies and ammunition for the attacking armies. A storm arose and the "Black Prince" foundered, the entire crew perishing.

The great depth of the bay, which in places is 700 feet, makes the work of divers difficult, but the Russian government is hopeful the treasure of gold eventually will be retrieved.

This changes people. You see lots of overseas vets who are afraid to get their feet wet now.

Gloria's Husband Goes to Work

Marius de la Palaise, husband of Gloria Swanson, has gone into business, opening up a small office in New York. He plans to publish translations of French books in America. Note the picture of Gloria Swanson on desk.

Farm Pointers

Alfalfa is one of the most promising green feed plants for Oregon poultrymen. Says the experiment station, many poultrymen located on soils that are heavy or sour apply ground limestone to secure a successful growth of the alfalfa. Fairly long-lived varieties are used, as with the frequent early cutting the life of the plant is likely to be shortened.

The standard control for the peach and prune root borer in Oregon is the paradichlorobenzene treatment recommended by the experiment station. This material is a white crystalline compound which is sold on the market under various trade names, in which the word "paradi" is usually used. This material is applied in a ring around the tree—2 inches from the trunk—on the surface of the ground and is then covered with dirt and packed down. From one half to 1 ounce of "paradi" is used per tree according to the age of the tree. The dosage for trees six years and older is one ounce. When the soil temperature is 55 degrees for higher for a period of 10 days, this material volatilizes, the gas killing the borers. Applications are made in May or in the latter part of August.

Potatoes in Oregon stored in open bins provided with slatted floors are better taken care of the experiment station says. This allows circulation of air up through the potatoes which cool out better and do not have so much of a tendency to sprout. In sacks there is poorer circulation and generally not such good keeping. In addition if any rot starts the sacks are spoiled to some extent at least.

NEW YORK HAS NO 'HOLIDAY'

NEW YORK, (AP)—New York, the claimant of the title of the largest city in the world, the financial and the economic center of the country, can now lay claim to another title—the City without a Specific Holiday.

For Father Knickerbocker, with the passing of his observance of Education Day, today celebrates no annual birthday all his own.

With the rest of the nation, New York observes national holidays—the Fourth of July, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Christmas and New Year's; but unlike the majority of great cities, the world over, it has no special annual observance to which it devotes a special commemoration.

Boston celebrates its Bunker Hill, Philadelphia lays exclusive claim to the observance of Independence Day, Mardi Gras belongs exclusively to New Orleans, Celebration of the great Chicago fire, started by Mrs. O'Leary's cow, is recognized annually in the Windy City, San Francisco yearly commemorates the date of the earthquake of 1905.

But New York has none. Evacuation Day, commemorating the departure of British troops from Manhattan on November 22, 1783, after seven years and two months occupation of the city, and the marching into the city of General George Washington, leading the Continental Troops, was the signal for street dancing in this city for sixty years.

In Europe, practically every great city, and many of the smaller towns have their special annual celebrations in recognition of historic events characteristic of each. London observes its Bank Holidays and the birthdays of its reigning sovereigns, Bastille Day, while nationally recognize throughout France, is cherished by Paris as its own. Thus it is with virtually all Continental Cities.

In 1883, the centennial of the departure of the British, the date was revived with a great demonstration, President Arthur, his Cabinet and several former governors of the State participated in the gala demonstration. But since then, interest in observance of the day has died.

Isn't it a wonder Coolidge doesn't get mad at Congress and say something?

New Gold Creeks Are Found In Interior of Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Several new "dry" creeks, shut-in over when men were seeking a repetition of the Dawson days, have been discovered in the season just closed.

Just how rich are some of the finds is a mystery, for, aside from instances where the discoverer wants to attract capital to develop his ground every one is keeping mum. Unlike the old times, when a half-dollar pan would start a stampede, the turning up to medium-grade pay now attracts little attention.

One discovery that is being watched with keen interest is in the Fairview district, 75 miles west of the Alaska railroad. There Matt Huggar, after prospecting the region for five years, struck ground running from 50 cents to $1.60 a pan. The gold was disclosed at a depth of 14 feet.

On Inas creek, values running to $1.50 a yard were uncovered, and approximately the same values were found on Cottonwood creek.

Another district, where for 20 years operations have been conducted, is the Valdez creek region, where last summer pay running $3 to the pan was found by "Smiling Ole." A mild stampedge followed. It is predicted that several new districts will be brought into production next summer and placer mining reinstated as the chief industry of interior Alaska.
