

Local News In Brief

COMING EVENTS.

June 9, 10, 11—Union Livestock Show at Union, Ore.

In City from Minam—Martin Dorine, who lives at Grand, spent Christmas in La Grande.

Here from Wallowa—Miss Margaret Hamblen, of Wallowa, is registered at the Hotel Foley.

Sheep Man in Town—A. G. Butterfield, prominent sheep holder of Enterprise, is in La Grande today on business.

In City on Business—George W. Hyatt is here from Enterprise today transacting business.

Coach at Freewater—Thorson Bennett, athletic coach for La Grande high school, is spending vacation at the home of his parents, at Milton, Ore.

Returns to Baker—Mrs. Stewart Bennett has returned to Baker after spending the holidays with her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stearns.

Fined for Drunkenness—L. E. Turner paid a fine of $10 in the municipal court after being found guilty of drunkenness. He appeared before Judge C. M. Humphreys Saturday night.

Have Baby Daughter—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Padlock, of 1502 Jackson avenue, have a four-pound baby daughter, born Sunday, Dec. 26.

Visiting from Baker—Mr. and Mrs. Farley Stoddard were over Sunday visitors in La Grande. Their home is at Baker.

Visiting at Valley Ranch—Miss Catherine Humphreys is visiting for three or four days of her vacation at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Humman.

Got Marriage License—William Houston and Miss L. H. Hancock were issued a license to wed Saturday afternoon.

Has Minor Operation—Alfred Owens, grain buyer of Arlington, was operated Saturday to have his tonsils removed. He is a son of Frank Owens, who lives near the city.

Here for Weekend—Miss Vera Svensgaard, of Tekoa, Wash., spent the weekend in La Grande. She was formerly employed in the Maxville office of the Bowman-Hicks Lumber company.

Child has Major Operation—Seven-year-old Jack Haskins underwent an operation for acute appendicitis at the Grande Ronde hospital. His condition today is reported favorable.

Shopping and Visiting Here—Mark Courtney, whose home is at Lostine, was shopping and visiting in La Grande over the weekend.

Recovering from Operation—Glebe Thompson, of Fruitdale, is recovering from a minor operation performed on his nose Saturday.

Returns Home Sunday—A. Lynn returned to his home at Fruitdale, Idaho, Sunday, after spending Christmas in La Grande at the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Wale.

Left this Morning for Caldwell—Mrs. A. E. Hill left La Grande this morning on her way to Caldwell, Idaho, after visiting here for the past month at the home of Miss William Ziegler.

Home Yesterday—Mrs. A. L. Ferguson and family returned to their home yesterday after visiting in La Grande Christmas and over the week end.

To Baker for Day—Miss Mildred Bradshaw went to Baker this morning to spend the day.

Home this Morning—Mrs. C. W. Thompson and little daughter, Lucille, went to Baker this morning, where Mrs. Thompson will visit her mother and her sister, who lives there.

Home one Week—After visiting for a week in La Grande at the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ebell, Mrs. George Ebell returned to her home at Baker this morning.

To Visit at Pullman—Mrs. Ed McKeehan and daughter, Miss Lela, left La Grande yesterday on their way to Pullman, Washington, where they will visit for a week with Mrs. McKeehan's sister who lives there.

Home this Morning—Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wheatly and their little daughter, Lois, arrived in La Grande this morning from Spokane, Washington, where they visited relatives Christmas.

Left for Elgin—Mrs. E. H. Gleason returned to her home at Elgin this morning. She has been in La Grande for several days with her daughter, who is in the hospital here.

Home from Portland—Miss Ann Lyman returned to La Grande this morning from Portland, where she spent Christmas. Miss Lyman is employed in the railroad office here.

To Visit here until Sunday—Little Carl Butz arrived in La Grande this morning from his home at Spokane, Washington and will visit here until Saturday at the home of Mrs. Frank Wright.

Had Operation in Portland—E. P. Bramwell, father of L. H. Bramwell and L. M. Bramwell of this city underwent a very serious operation yesterday morning. They have not yet heard how he is getting along.

To Boise This Morning—Mrs. M. S. Alpert and her two sons, Kenneth and Sumner, went to Boise, Idaho, this morning. They will be there until the last of this week. Mrs. Alpert's mother and her aunt are in Boise from their home in Maine and will accompany Mrs. Alpert to La Grande.

Lodge to Initiate—Initiatory ceremonies will feature the regular meeting of the Baker this morning to spend the day.

Mrs. French ill—Mrs. J. C. French is confined to her home because of illness.

Ill at Home—Paul Tetreau is very ill at his home here of pneumonia. He has been ill since last Thursday.

Spent Christmas with Parents—William Casey returned to La Grande this morning from Portland, where he spent Christmas with his parents.

To Make Home at Wallowa—Mrs. J. W. Nelson went to Wallowa this morning, where she will make her home with her son, Mrs. Nelson has been living at Baker.

Visiting in City—Miss Dorothy Denny, whose home is at The Dalles, Oregon, is visiting relatives and friends in La Grande. Miss Denny is a student at the Northwestern business college in Portland.

To Perform Baptismal Rites—Rev. Thaler Demetriador, pastor of the Greek Orthodox church at Portland, came to La Grande to perform rites of baptism for children of several members of his denomination living in this vicinity. The Greeks have no church of their own nearer than Portland, so on occasion the priest is called in to service from across the state.

School Men at Portland—Superintendent J. T. Longfellow went to Portland last night to attend the state meeting of superintendents and principals this week. E. D. Towler, who with Mrs. Towler went to Portland Christmas eve to spend the holidays with the latter's parents will be La Grande's other representative at the session.

Will Visit Parents—After visiting in La Grande for four days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wale William Beatty left Saturday for Portland, where he will visit during the Christmas vacation with his parents before returning to Eugene, where he will resume his studies at the University of Oregon.

To Make Home in California—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vehr and little daughter, Betty Mae, left La Grande Christmas morning on the way to Oakland, California, where they will make their home. Mr. Vehr, who has been traveling for the Up John Drug company, with headquarters here for the past year will be city manager for the same company for Oakland and Alameda, California.

Former Pastor Here—Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Quingley, of Portland, their son, Nelson, and his wife, of Tillamook, who have been Christmas guests at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kinnaman, are returning to their respective homes today. Mr. Quingley was a former pastor of the First M. E. church. He sang a solo at the morning service there yesterday. Mrs. Kinnaman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quingley.

Silk Concerns to Merge—NEW YORK (AP)—A twenty million dollar silk merger, uniting Belding Brothers & Co., and the Hemingway Silk company, two of the oldest and largest silk and thread manufacturers in the United States, was announced Sunday night.

THIEVES MAKE BIG HAUL—NEW YORK (AP)—Unsettled diamonds valued at one hundred thousand dollars were stolen Sunday, when four men invaded the lower East side jewelry store of Henry Goldberg. The robbers beat the proprietor into unconsciousness and robbed four customers, and escaped in an automobile.

HOSIERY SIZES INCREASE—NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Due probably to increased activities in women's sports, the average size women's hosiery has increased in the past five years and the demand for the small sizes is being eliminated. A. W. Franer, official of a hosiery concern here said Saturday. He based his assertion on a study of six dozen typical shipments. In 1920 he said, the demand ranged from sizes 8 to 19, in 1923 the principal demand was for sizes from 9 1/2 and larger. Today he said the large sizes were in demand and the average was 9 1/2 to 19.

FRENCH DIPLOMAT DIES—METZ, France (AP)—Julius Fabronie, former French ambassador at Washington, died Sunday.

CHERRYS ON TRIP AROUND THE WORLD (Continued from Page One.)

Trunks were opened, clothes were arranged with the aid of the stewardess and stewardesses. After lunch some took a nap, some read, some were playing cards, others writing. The time fairly flew and soon everyone was wending their way to the dining room to partake of the twelve course Thanksgiving dinner at seven o'clock. After dinner, dancing. The day was clear and somewhat warm. No hand in sight yet. We know that over to the right a few miles under the low cloud bank along the western horizon the coast towns of New Jersey sit.

Flying Fish Sighted—"Friday morning the air was much warmer. Everyone danced their eyebrows and fans were running all over the ship. The outdoor swimming pools on the top deck were put into operation with sea water. On Deck P is the beautiful tiled swimming pool and the Turkish baths. Posting radio bulletins began that day and the next day the daily paper began publication. The first business lecture was given Friday morning by Dr. Weatherbee, of Portland, who is on the cruise staff. Assignments for the cruise were made and tickets given out for our stop in Havana. We were instructed regarding the water we should drink and the kind of food we must refrain from eating while on the cruise. In the evening a lecture was given on the West Indies by the cruise lecturer Dr. P. E. Marble. Many flying fish and a few steamers were seen during the day.

Saturday morning about 11 o'clock Palm Beach, Florida, was passed. Captain Bradshaw drove in closely and stowed the ship down in order that the travelers might look at the Florida coast and towns. About 4 o'clock three long blasts of the whistle announced we were opposite Miami. The tall buildings, gas hotels and restaurants were plainly seen from the ship. Gradually the course of the ship diverged toward the island of Cuba and the land disappeared from view. At 7 o'clock a gala dinner was given—a regular noise maker. Tow whistles, rackets and guns were passed around, balloons set afloat in the dining room by covered the tables. After dinner a dance was held on deck A, which was decorated with flags of all nations, colored lights and lanterns.

Visits Cuba. "The next morning we arose at 6 o'clock and went on deck. The sun was just topping the palm fringed hills back of the Cabarran fortress. It was calm and quiet. Through the harbor came the pilot and customs officers in a little launch and were taken aboard. We were soon at anchor in the harbor here as there was no dock large enough for the ship. All along the city's waterfront people were up to see the big ship. The port doctors examined the crew, then the passengers were lined up and given the "once over." Breakfast over, the passengers left the ship on a large steam tender for the dock. Large motor passenger cars were waiting in the official enclosure of the port authorities by special permission of the Cuban government. At 9 o'clock a start was made for a sight seeing trip covering the city and suburbs, arriving at the hotel at Sevilla, the most exclusive luncheon. To an American naturally the most impressive thing one sees on the drive is the "Maine" monument, but for real art the "Dance Desire" fountain of beautiful white marble located in the country club grounds is the first thing I have ever seen in my travels. Next comes a monument to the thirty volunteer firemen who lost their lives in a fire in 1820 and the cemetery, which is worth seeing. The residences of the city are handsome. Things seem to run along quietly and orderly. The city is well policed and traffic conditions are excellent.

At Least "One Bottle." "It was amusing to watch the passengers returning to the ship from their morning trip to Havana. The ladies had a few small pouches, but the men nearly all had at least one bottle. Some had an armful, some had a case or two. I was thoroughly disgusted with the saloon situation in Havana. The streets in the old part of Havana are all one-way very narrow and foul smelling, but the newer parts and residential section is beautiful.

The next day promptly at 1 o'clock the "Belgian" slipped her moorings and slowly started out of the harbor, going westward en route to the Panama canal."

30 DEATHS CAUSED BY COLD WAVE (Continued from Page One.)

cut. Today's reports disclosed freezing temperatures as far south as Northern Mexico and Northern Florida.

Nine deaths, a million-dollar fire loss and untold misery and suffering was the toll exacted from Chicago by the sub-zero temperatures of Saturday and Sunday. Saturday night and early Sunday the official thermometer at the weather bureau showed 8 degrees below, but western suburbs reported as much as 20 below. During the day, the mercury crept slowly up to zero at 2 o'clock and shortly after started a nose dive. Saturday and Sunday there were upward of 200 fire alarms which taxed Chicago's fire fighting equipment to its capacity.

The northern portion of the United States was still in the grip Sunday night of the cold wave which rode on a cutting wind out of the northwest Saturday and accounted, directly or indirectly, for more than a dozen deaths in the two days. The lowest temperature reported Sunday was at Tappan, Lake N. Y., where the mercury went to 25 degrees below zero. Saranac Lake was almost as cold with 24 below. In New York City the temperature went to seven degrees below zero. Low temperatures were reported throughout New England, the lowest being an unofficial report of 27 degrees below at West Stewartstown, N. H., near the Canadian line.

The temperatures near zero throughout the east Sunday brought hard coal consumers, particularly those with empty bins, a realization of the seriousness of the anthracite strike, in its 17th week. While various substitutes were being used, in some sections not even were obtainable. Reports of suffering among the poorer classes were numerous. In some cases the idle miners themselves, were forced to scrounge around for wood kerosene and coal stoves to keep themselves and their families warm.

With temperatures hovering at the zero mark, the Rocky Mountain region was in the grip of a wave of wintry weather last night. Montana suffered most from frigid temperatures. Miss Gals, with a temperature of 28 degrees below zero, was the coldest place in the region. Harve had a record of 16 below.

To Wenonah and Northern Colorado the temperatures hovered about 10 degrees above zero. In Colorado and New Mexico the mercury stood between 15 and 20 degrees above zero. Phoenix, Ariz., with 15 degrees above as its lowest temperature, was the warmest spot of the region.

Charge Is Pending At first the officials continued to deny she was an agent. Then she admitted she was a "paid informer." And finally, under pressure, she admitted she was a full-fledged, duly commissioned espionage agent.

And there the affair stands now. The charge of shoplifting is still pending. Whether the government officials will use their influence to have it dropped or will let her go to jail is still uncertain.

If those charges are dropped I'm never coming back to New Orleans, says Miss Langford. "It's a big country and I need excitement after this kind of life. I'll find it somewhere. Only I'm sorry for my family."

"You know, when a girl loves a man she'll go down to hell for him. And fighting to save the man I love is what put me where I am today." (Copyright 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

HUNDREDS HEAR BAND CONCERT (Continued from Page One.)

He will be returned with an encore number. Mrs. Knautz accompanied him at the piano.

Overture Opens Concert. The concert was opened with the overture "Merry Wives of Windsor" by O. Nicolai, a difficult and stirring melody. Following came Paul Lincke's Egyptian Serenade "Amina" and Donizetti's waltz from "Lucia." A brass quartet, consisting of Messrs. Robinson, McMillan, Hooley, Knautz, Biggers and McManis, added to the attractiveness of this number. "Yearning," a popular number of the day, was played as an encore.

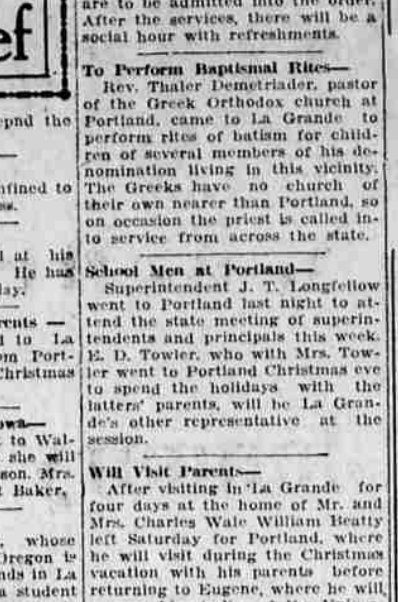

Next Panchelli's rollicking, almost triumphant "Dance of the Hours" was rendered, after which the stage was cleared for Mr. Knautz' solo.

Dalbey's patrol "The Blue and the Grey," featured in an encore featuring Raymond Biggers as correct soloist and opened the way for the absolute melody of "The Song of Love."

The final number, M. L. Lake's fantasia "The Evolution of Dixie," was a fitting finale to an extraordinary concert. During the different movements, one could almost feel the creative forces at work.

The band was practically at full strength yesterday afternoon, with 20 units in the instrumentation.

He'll Join Ford's Orchestra

Jesse Martin, 71, of Frowburg, N. Y., is the latest addition to the old-fashioned dance orchestra by which Henry Ford is trying to popularize the steps of a generation ago. He plays a pianoforte, shown above, an early form of pianoforte.

Thousands of satisfied users feel that way about

They work naturally and form no habit. Pleasant to take, easy in action, safe and sure. Good for children as well as adults.

Box of 60 Orderlies 50c

Glass Drugs Inc. 725 Rexall Bldg La Grande, Oregon

Markets

PORTLAND MARKETS. PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Cattle—50 cents higher, steers $8.35 to $8.75; calves $7.00 to $9. Hogs—50 cents higher, light weights $12.50 to $12.75. Sheep—Steady. Eggs, butter, buttermilk—Steady.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Butterfat—52 1/2 here today.

ship. Gradually the course of the ship diverged toward the island of Cuba and the land disappeared from view. At 7 o'clock a gala dinner was given—a regular noise maker. Tow whistles, rackets and guns were passed around, balloons set afloat in the dining room by covered the tables. After dinner a dance was held on deck A, which was decorated with flags of all nations, colored lights and lanterns.

Visits Cuba.

"The next morning we arose at 6 o'clock and went on deck. The sun was just topping the palm fringed hills back of the Cabarran fortress. It was calm and quiet. Through the harbor came the pilot and customs officers in a little launch and were taken aboard. We were soon at anchor in the harbor here as there was no dock large enough for the ship. All along the city's waterfront people were up to see the big ship. The port doctors examined the crew, then the passengers were lined up and given the "once over." Breakfast over, the passengers left the ship on a large steam tender for the dock. Large motor passenger cars were waiting in the official enclosure of the port authorities by special permission of the Cuban government. At 9 o'clock a start was made for a sight seeing trip covering the city and suburbs, arriving at the hotel at Sevilla, the most exclusive luncheon. To an American naturally the most impressive thing one sees on the drive is the "Maine" monument, but for real art the "Dance Desire" fountain of beautiful white marble located in the country club grounds is the first thing I have ever seen in my travels. Next comes a monument to the thirty volunteer firemen who lost their lives in a fire in 1820 and the cemetery, which is worth seeing. The residences of the city are handsome. Things seem to run along quietly and orderly. The city is well policed and traffic conditions are excellent.

At Least "One Bottle."

"It was amusing to watch the passengers returning to the ship from their morning trip to Havana. The ladies had a few small pouches, but the men nearly all had at least one bottle. Some had an armful, some had a case or two. I was thoroughly disgusted with the saloon situation in Havana. The streets in the old part of Havana are all one-way very narrow and foul smelling, but the newer parts and residential section is beautiful.

The next day promptly at 1 o'clock the "Belgian" slipped her moorings and slowly started out of the harbor, going westward en route to the Panama canal."

30 DEATHS CAUSED BY COLD WAVE (Continued from Page One.)

cut. Today's reports disclosed freezing temperatures as far south as Northern Mexico and Northern Florida.

Nine deaths, a million-dollar fire loss and untold misery and suffering was the toll exacted from Chicago by the sub-zero temperatures of Saturday and Sunday. Saturday night and early Sunday the official thermometer at the weather bureau showed 8 degrees below, but western suburbs reported as much as 20 below. During the day, the mercury crept slowly up to zero at 2 o'clock and shortly after started a nose dive. Saturday and Sunday there were upward of 200 fire alarms which taxed Chicago's fire fighting equipment to its capacity.

The northern portion of the United States was still in the grip Sunday night of the cold wave which rode on a cutting wind out of the northwest Saturday and accounted, directly or indirectly, for more than a dozen deaths in the two days. The lowest temperature reported Sunday was at Tappan, Lake N. Y., where the mercury went to 25 degrees below zero. Saranac Lake was almost as cold with 24 below. In New York City the temperature went to seven degrees below zero.

Low temperatures were reported throughout New England, the lowest being an unofficial report of 27 degrees below at West Stewartstown, N. H., near the Canadian line.

The temperatures near zero throughout the east Sunday brought hard coal consumers, particularly those with empty bins, a realization of the seriousness of the anthracite strike, in its 17th week. While various substitutes were being used, in some sections not even were obtainable. Reports of suffering among the poorer classes were numerous. In some cases the idle miners themselves, were forced to scrounge around for wood kerosene and coal stoves to keep themselves and their families warm.

With temperatures hovering at the zero mark, the Rocky Mountain region was in the grip of a wave of wintry weather last night. Montana suffered most from frigid temperatures. Miss Gals, with a temperature of 28 degrees below zero, was the coldest place in the region. Harve had a record of 16 below.

To Wenonah and Northern Colorado the temperatures hovered about 10 degrees above zero. In Colorado and New Mexico the mercury stood between 15 and 20 degrees above zero. Phoenix, Ariz., with 15 degrees above as its lowest temperature, was the warmest spot of the region.

Charge Is Pending At first the officials continued to deny she was an agent. Then she admitted she was a "paid informer." And finally, under pressure, she admitted she was a full-fledged, duly commissioned espionage agent.

And there the affair stands now. The charge of shoplifting is still pending. Whether the government officials will use their influence to have it dropped or will let her go to jail is still uncertain.

If those charges are dropped I'm never coming back to New Orleans, says Miss Langford. "It's a big country and I need excitement after this kind of life. I'll find it somewhere. Only I'm sorry for my family."

"You know, when a girl loves a man she'll go down to hell for him. And fighting to save the man I love is what put me where I am today." (Copyright 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

HUNDREDS HEAR BAND CONCERT (Continued from Page One.)

He will be returned with an encore number. Mrs. Knautz accompanied him at the piano.

Overture Opens Concert. The concert was opened with the overture "Merry Wives of Windsor" by O. Nicolai, a difficult and stirring melody. Following came Paul Lincke's Egyptian Serenade "Amina" and Donizetti's waltz from "Lucia." A brass quartet, consisting of Messrs. Robinson, McMillan, Hooley, Knautz, Biggers and McManis, added to the attractiveness of this number. "Yearning," a popular number of the day, was played as an encore.

Next Panchelli's rollicking, almost triumphant "Dance of the Hours" was rendered, after which the stage was cleared for Mr. Knautz' solo.

Dalbey's patrol "The Blue and the Grey," featured in an encore featuring Raymond Biggers as correct soloist and opened the way for the absolute melody of "The Song of Love."

The final number, M. L. Lake's fantasia "The Evolution of Dixie," was a fitting finale to an extraordinary concert. During the different movements, one could almost feel the creative forces at work.

The band was practically at full strength yesterday afternoon, with 20 units in the instrumentation.

"One at Night-- Next Day Bright"

Thousands of satisfied users feel that way about

They work naturally and form no habit.

Pleasant to take, easy in action, safe and sure.

Good for children as well as adults.

Box of 60 Orderlies 50c

Glass Drugs Inc. 725 Rexall Bldg La Grande, Oregon

Markets

PORTLAND MARKETS. PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Cattle—50 cents higher, steers $8.35 to $8.75; calves $7.00 to $9. Hogs—50 cents higher, light weights $12.50 to $12.75. Sheep—Steady. Eggs, butter, buttermilk—Steady.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Butterfat—52 1/2 here today.

ship. Gradually the course of the ship diverged toward the island of Cuba and the land disappeared from view. At 7 o'clock a gala dinner was given—a regular noise maker. Tow whistles, rackets and guns were passed around, balloons set afloat in the dining room by covered the tables. After dinner a dance was held on deck A, which was decorated with flags of all nations, colored lights and lanterns.

Visits Cuba.

"The next morning we arose at 6 o'clock and went on deck. The sun was just topping the palm fringed hills back of the Cabarran fortress. It was calm and quiet. Through the harbor came the pilot and customs officers in a little launch and were taken aboard. We were soon at anchor in the harbor here as there was no dock large enough for the ship. All along the city's waterfront people were up to see the big ship. The port doctors examined the crew, then the passengers were lined up and given the "once over." Breakfast over, the passengers left the ship on a large steam tender for the dock. Large motor passenger cars were waiting in the official enclosure of the port authorities by special permission of the Cuban government. At 9 o'clock a start was made for a sight seeing trip covering the city and suburbs, arriving at the hotel at Sevilla, the most exclusive luncheon. To an American naturally the most impressive thing one sees on the drive is the "Maine" monument, but for real art the "Dance Desire" fountain of beautiful white marble located in the country club grounds is the first thing I have ever seen in my travels. Next comes a monument to the thirty volunteer firemen who lost their lives in a fire in 1820 and the cemetery, which is worth seeing. The residences of the city are handsome. Things seem to run along quietly and orderly. The city is well policed and traffic conditions are excellent.

At Least "One Bottle."

"It was amusing to watch the passengers returning to the ship from their morning trip to Havana. The ladies had a few small pouches, but the men nearly all had at least one bottle. Some had an armful, some had a case or two. I was thoroughly disgusted with the saloon situation in Havana. The streets in the old part of Havana are all one-way very narrow and foul smelling, but the newer parts and residential section is beautiful.

The next day promptly at 1 o'clock the "Belgian" slipped her moorings and slowly started out of the harbor, going westward en route to the Panama canal."

30 DEATHS CAUSED BY COLD WAVE (Continued from Page One.)

cut. Today's reports disclosed freezing temperatures as far south as Northern Mexico and Northern Florida.

Nine deaths, a million-dollar fire loss and untold misery and suffering was the toll exacted from Chicago by the sub-zero temperatures of Saturday and Sunday. Saturday night and early Sunday the official thermometer at the weather bureau showed 8 degrees below, but western suburbs reported as much as 20 below. During the day, the mercury crept slowly up to zero at 2 o'clock and shortly after started a nose dive. Saturday and Sunday there were upward of 200 fire alarms which taxed Chicago's fire fighting equipment to its capacity.

The northern portion of the United States was still in the grip Sunday night of the cold wave which rode on a cutting wind out of the northwest Saturday and accounted, directly or indirectly, for more than a dozen deaths in the two days. The lowest temperature reported Sunday was at Tappan, Lake N. Y., where the mercury went to 25 degrees below zero. Saranac Lake was almost as cold with 24 below. In New York City the temperature went to seven degrees below zero.

Low temperatures were reported throughout New England, the lowest being an unofficial report of 27 degrees below at West Stewartstown, N. H., near the Canadian line.

The temperatures near zero throughout the east Sunday brought hard coal consumers, particularly those with empty bins, a realization of the seriousness of the anthracite strike, in its 17th week. While various substitutes were being used, in some sections not even were obtainable. Reports of suffering among the poorer classes were numerous. In some cases the idle miners themselves, were forced to scrounge around for wood kerosene and coal stoves to keep themselves and their families warm.

With temperatures hovering at the zero mark, the Rocky Mountain region was in the grip of a wave of wintry weather last night. Montana suffered most from frigid temperatures. Miss Gals, with a temperature of 28 degrees below zero, was the coldest place in the region. Harve had a record of 16 below.

To Wenonah and Northern Colorado the temperatures hovered about 10 degrees above zero. In Colorado and New Mexico the mercury stood between 15 and 20 degrees above zero. Phoenix, Ariz., with 15 degrees above as its lowest temperature, was the warmest spot of the region.

Charge Is Pending At first the officials continued to deny she was an agent. Then she admitted she was a "paid informer." And finally, under pressure, she admitted she was a full-fledged, duly commissioned espionage agent.

And there the affair stands now. The charge of shoplifting is still pending. Whether the government officials will use their influence to have it dropped or will let her go to jail is still uncertain.

If those charges are dropped I'm never coming back to New Orleans, says Miss Langford. "It's a big country and I need excitement after this kind of life. I'll find it somewhere. Only I'm sorry for my family."

"You know, when a girl loves a man she'll go down to hell for him. And fighting to save the man I love is what put me where I am today." (Copyright 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

HUNDREDS HEAR BAND CONCERT (Continued from Page One.)

He will be returned with an encore number. Mrs. Knautz accompanied him at the piano.

Overture Opens Concert. The concert was opened with the overture "Merry Wives of Windsor" by O. Nicolai, a difficult and stirring melody. Following came Paul Lincke's Egyptian Serenade "Amina" and Donizetti's waltz from "Lucia." A brass quartet, consisting of Messrs. Robinson, McMillan, Hooley, Knautz, Biggers and McManis, added to the attractiveness of this number. "Yearning," a popular number of the day, was played as an encore.

Next Panchelli's rollicking, almost triumphant "Dance of the Hours" was rendered, after which the stage was cleared for Mr. Knautz' solo.

Dalbey's patrol "The Blue and the Grey," featured in an encore featuring Raymond Biggers as correct soloist and opened the way for the absolute melody of "The Song of Love."

The final number, M. L. Lake's fantasia "The Evolution of Dixie," was a fitting finale to an extraordinary concert. During the different movements, one could almost feel the creative forces at work.

The band was practically at full strength yesterday afternoon, with 20 units in the instrumentation.

He'll Join Ford's Orchestra

Jesse Martin, 71, of Frowburg, N. Y., is the latest addition to the old-fashioned dance orchestra by which Henry Ford is trying to popularize the steps of a generation ago. He plays a pianoforte, shown above, an early form of pianoforte.

Thousands of satisfied users feel that way about

They work naturally and form no habit. Pleasant to take, easy in action,