Cailloux on Senate Return Offered Seat of His Trial

PARIS (AP).—"To the left," replied Joseph Cailloux, when upon his first visit to the senate as a newly elected member, he was asked where he wanted to sit.

Upon reaching the seat to which the usher escorted him, Cailloux hesitated, looked about him as if perturbed and a rush of blood to the head reddened the former minister's extremely bald pate.

The senatorial seat to which he had been shown was the identical one in which as an accused before the high court he had sat for over a month during the famous trial in 1920.

It was explained that no offense had been meant but by coincidence it was the only seat that happened to be vacant "to the left."

Some of us are naturally foolish and the others act that way because they haven't any better sense.

Buy Now

If sincerely believes the best buys in La Grande real estate for the year 1926 will be made during January and February. This is based upon years of real estate experience that buying always follows unusual rental demand. The spring rental demand will still be greater.

Whether I am a true prophet or not, I do know that I have at the present time several of the lowest priced homes that I have had during the past three years. Occasionally these opportunities present themselves. If you are thinking of purchasing a home I would be glad to show you my listings.

"What Fools Men" Is New Film Thriller At the Arcade

See Joseph Greer, recluse and man of science, master the savages in the jungle. See what civilization, in the form of a shrewd body of financial exploiters, later do to this dominant personality!

See George Burns, humble chauffeur, spirit his wife's mistress from the midst of jazzing fellows. Ever have your picnic spoiled? Well, it rains and romance mix, like in this case, what do you care?

Have you ever seen the idle rich while away an afternoon in the swimming pool?

The modern argument, the mud pilot at the wheel—an eloquent pilot? Wouldn't it thrill you?

Man's greatest fight—to conquer self. Youth's jubilate with Joseph Greer at his story.

Here are seven sidelights on "What Fools Men," playing today and Tuesday at the Arcade Theatre. The picture was made from Henry Kitchell Webster's novel "Joseph Greer and His Daughter," by First National under the supervision of June Mathis.

You will find the Webster characters assumed with fidelity by such artists as Lewis Stone, Shirley Mason, Barbara Bedford, Ethel Grey Terry and David Torrence; also two rising young film players, Hugh Allan and Joyce Compton, just placed under First National contract, and a host of others hardly second in importance.

A comedy is also being shown. Man in Nashville, Tenn., was sentenced to 23 years, so he won't have to worry about the coal hills.

Taxes are so high. They cost almost as much as bootleg booze.

"Slave of Fashion" Showing for Last Time Tonight

"A Slave of Fashion" at Sherry's presents a human story exceedingly well told and beautifully produced. It is entertaining from start to finish, and is kept at a tempo that holds your interest all through. It is a Henry Healy production released and sponsored by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Benet Rutman wrote the story originally for the screen. He shows the same fine skill in mapping out screen plays that he does in his spoken drama.

The story is that of a very beautiful and unsophisticated girl who has lived in a middle western village all of her life, but has learned to go to the city primarily to be able to see and wear—clothes. She gets her wish but almost at the cost of her good name and the wrecking of her home. However, the family honor and happiness are saved; and the girl wins a confident wealthy bachelor to boot.

Norma Shearer is starring as the girl, Katherine Emerson. She is a remarkable actress as well as being an unusually attractive and beautiful girl and gives a brilliant performance in this newest role.

Low Cody is featured as Nicholas Wentworth and makes an ideal romantic lover. As usual he gives a strong performance for there is no more dependable player on the screen than Mr. Cody.

Mary Carr, William Haines, Vivian Ogden, Miss Dupont and James Corrigan all give splendid performances.

Bess Meredith wrote the continuity and Ben Reynolds did the photography.

Comed showing "Book Bottom."

Golden Rule

Arthur Nash, wealthy head of a Cincinnati clothing firm, and known as "Golden Rule Nash" for his liberal policies, has appealed to Governor Donahay of Ohio to release John A. Sybell from the state prison, where he has served three and a half years of a 25-year sentence for aiding in a payroll robbery that cost Nash $8056. He has promised to give Sybell a job and be responsible for him if he is freed.

SCHOOL CENSUS LOWER.

OREGON CITY, Ore.—Oregon City's school population has decreased instead of increased during the past year, according to figures by A. C. Howland, school clerk of district No. 62.

"The reason for this," says Mr. Howland, "is that last year a large construction firm brought many new families to this city, remaining here until the work was completed."

The 1924 census showed there were 1941 children of school age, and the census for 1925 showed that there were 1921.

HONEYMOONS CUT SHORT

SILVEVTON, Ore.—Two couples, California-bound on their honeymoon had their plans abruptly changed for them at Roseburg, where all their clothing except what they wore was stolen.

The four newlyweds stopped for lunch, leaving their traveling bags in their car outside the hotel. When they returned to the hotel, they found their bags empty, except the wedding pictures.

The couples were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gustafson and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin DeGaulle.
