Church Wedding Big Event of Season

A beautiful wedding was solemnized in the Episcopal church at 5 o'clock last evening by the Bishop W. F. Remington when Miss Alladen Serogin, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Serogin of this city, was united in marriage to Oscar W. Warnock, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Warnock, of Kansas City, Missouri.

The bridal party entered the church, which was dimly lighted, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. George N. Birnie and marched down the aisle bordered by green hedges and baskets of orchid chrysanthemums and leather to the altar—beautifully decorated with white mantles—where they joined the groom and his best man, Warren Gilbert. The groomsmen, Arthur Gayle, John Larson, Robert Westmeyer and Harold McDaniel, were the first of the bridal party to enter. They were followed by the bridesmaids, the Misses Margaret Palmer, Ruth Hill, Ann Stange and Constance Hill, and the matron of honor, Mrs. Warren Gilbert. Little Miss Barbara and Gertrude O'Brien followed as flower girls, dressed in white satin and carrying white baskets of rose petals. Little Jean Henry as ring bearer preceded the bride who was accompanied by her father, Little Miss Bonyou wore a ruffled dress of shell pink tulle and carried the wedding ring in a large satin case in the same color.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, was lovely in a dress of white tulle and lace, embellished with pearls in the form of roses. Her bridal veil was held in place by a headpiece of pearls. She carried a beautiful snowier bouquet of Ophelia roses, lilies of the valley, and bayberry. Her train of tulle, edged with gold and powder blue and gold lace, a picture hat of gold lace, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. The four bridesmaids were dressed in georgette in the pastel shades and wore headbands of silver and velvet flowers in shades to match their dresses. Miss Hill's dress was jade trimmed with rhinestones, Miss Stange wore a dress of orchid, hand painted. Miss Palmer's dress was of rose and Miss Hill wore corn yellow trimmed with rhinestones. Their bouquets were of sweet peas, rose lilies and bevarilla. The bride's mother was charming in a gown of coral chiffon, headed with pearls. The men of the party were in conventional evening clothes.

Mrs. A. L. Richardson sang "The Birthday" by Huntington Woodruff and "Because" by D. Hardolot. During the ceremony, while the bride and groom were standing at the betrothal altar to the marriage altar she sang one verse of the Episcopal wedding hymn. She sang most effectively and was accompanied by Mrs. E. L. Holmes at the organ. Mrs. Richardson wore a beautiful dress of chiffon and velvet. Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Birnie, who also played the recessional march by Mendelssohn, wore shoulder corsages of pink roses.

After the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the Serogin home on Fourth street, with approximately 100 people present. Refreshments were served in the breakfast room with Mrs. A. J. Stange, Mrs. G. S. Birnie, Mrs. G. L. Larson, Mrs. M. K. Hill, Mrs. Earl Stoddard, Mrs. Chase Bohlenkamp, Mrs. Lee Bonyou, Mrs. L. K. Kinzel and Mrs. Donald Pague presiding, assisted by the Misses Jane Stange, Bernice Wilson, Marva Lyman, Gilda Ashby and Virginia Warnock. Mrs. Harry McDaniel and the wedding girls, which was served by Misses Jacqueline O'Brien and Barbara Stoddard.

Immediately after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Warnock accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gilbert left La Grande for Baker. They left Baker this morning en route to Kansas City, Missouri, where they will spend their honeymoon with Mr. Warnock's parents. After two weeks they will return to La Grande to make their home. Mrs. Warnock's traveling costume was a green velvet dress, a carmine fur jacket and a silver hat.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Warnock are well known here. Mrs. Warnock has lived in La Grande most of her life, and is a graduate of the local high school and of the University of Oregon. She is blessed with a sweet and charming personality and has a host of friends and admirers among young and old in the community. Mr. Warnock came to La Grande two years ago this Christmas from Kansas City, and is connected with the Bowman-Ticks Lumber company here. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri, and is a young man of ability and personal charm that has won him many friends.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. M. K. Hill and daughters—Constance and Gwendolyn, of Portland, Vincent Palmer and daughter, Miss Margaret, of Seattle, Washington and Palmer Byrkit, of Seattle, Washington.

Bridge Luncheon Held At Country Club

The country club was decorated with a pretty color scheme of green and red yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Julius Roesch and her daughters, Mrs. Martin Fitzgerald and Mrs. Hugh E. Brady entertained at an attractively appointed bridge luncheon. A delightful luncheon was served at 1:15 o'clock with covers laid for 32 at six small tables. The centerpiece of each table was a bouquet of red carnations. Green candles were also tastefully arranged. Red carnations were used as favors.

During the afternoon playing at eight tables of bridge following luncheon Mrs. F. L. Ralston won high score and the second prize went to Mrs. Clyde Kiddie. Mrs. J. T. Longfellow won third prize.

DeMolay Dance Well Attended

With approximately 50 couples present the dance given last evening in the Elks hall room by the DeMolay for their friends was very successful. Dancing was enjoyed for three hours to music by Mann's Imperial orchestra No. 2. During the evening punch was served by the Misses Barbara Hill and Jane Hopkins.

The patrons and patronesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Seltz, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heim, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Knudsen, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Larson and Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Jocke.

George Glass was chairman of the committee in charge of the dance.

One or two extra tablespoons of flour may be necessary in the batter, depending on the dryness of the rice. It's usually well to bake a little "try" cake before baking in the family stack.

SOLDIER OF 1867 SAW U.S. FLAG RAISED OVER ALASKA

OAKLAND, Cal. (AP).—Bruce W. Stone, who soldiered for Uncle Sam 60 years ago, is one of the few if not the only American still living who witnessed the flag ceremony inaugurating American dominion over Alaska.

This military rite took place on the Sitka parade ground on a platform reached by a flight of 309 steps cut into a rough cliff overlooking the Pacific ocean.

"I remember the occasion clearly," said the veteran, now 85 years old. "I was a member of the army quartermaster's department and was lined up with the other soldiers for the ceremony. We numbered about 250 and in rigid, formal line faced an equal number of Russian soldiers. Between us was the pole atop of which flew the Russian standard.

"In silence the Czar's banner was lowered and ours quickly run up. As the Stars and Stripes took the breeze the gunboats in the harbor began to boom the salute to the flag and the transfer of this great northern empire's political allegiance from St. Petersburg to Washington was accomplished."

Robert Lincoln, son of President Lincoln, received an order to report to Washington. He got to the theater just in time to see his father shot.

Reliable News

IF "SO-AND-SO" told you that "Somebody" said "such-and-such" was a good buy—you probably wouldn't buy it.

But if you read an advertisement in this paper about the merits of that product—you'd have confidence in it.

Advertisements are reliable. The merchant or manufacturer who signs an advertisement knows that he must keep faith. He knows that when you come in to buy you will expect the goods to be just what he has claimed. He realizes that if he deceives you once, your trade is lost.

Never was there a more severe test of the worth of a product than advertising! You can pin your faith to an advertised product every time. It invites the inspection of millions and it must be worthy or it cannot live.

Read the advertisements for reliable news of what is wise to buy.
