"Each day, as it comes, is but a door through which we step forward into a tomorrow. And, too, each is the sum of all the yesterdays that have lived their little round of sunshine and starlight and departed.
We are almost through with 1925. What we have done with its 365 opportunities will be apparent in every day of 1926—in friendships made or lost, objectives gained or missed.
Another year approaches. Each of us is to be endowed with 365 more beginnings—and endings. There will be decisions to make, work to be started, things to be consummated.
As you journey through the days of this new year, we want you to know that we are marching abreast of you, willing to be of what help one good traveler may be to another."

annex of the building at 7 this evening. The affair is not a money-making one, the pastor announces, but given with the purpose of assembling Christmas in honor of the dawning year. After dinner the Luther league will give a varied program, and toward midnight will be commenced a prayer meeting to usher in the new year.
The annual business meeting of the congregation will be conducted in connection with the 7 o'clock supper and ensuing water-night service at the Baptist church. A half-hour devotional will greet the New Year, the pastor, Rev. G. A. Pollard, to act as leader.
At the passage of the Methodist church south, the young people are combining a business session, a social program and a devotional service in observance of the season. The Epworth league members will direct the program.
And for the hundreds who plan to spend their New Year's eve at home, radio stations throughout the length and breadth of the land are broadcasting water-night services with chimes and carols and prayers and

"THE STORE WITH A CONSCIENCE"

Leave Tomorrow Night—Sam Cochran will leave La Grande tomorrow night on his way to California, to resume his duties at Stanford university after spending the Christmas holidays in La Grande at the home of his parents. His father, George T. Cochran, will accompany him as far as Portland.

To Visit at Imbler—Mrs. C. I. Norval went to Imbler this morning, where she will visit her son, Ray Norval for about ten days. Mrs. Norval has been in La Grande for some time with her sister, Mrs. Gay Hayden. Mrs. Hayden has been ill but is able to be up again now.

Quintet Gathers Pointers—High school basketball men collected a few pointers while they were in action with the local team yesterday afternoon. Coach Thorsen Bennett plied them with instructions from the side lines as they played. Saturday the boys will go to North Powder for a practice game with the team there.

Embroid Course in Nursing—Miss Ruth Williams has finished her course in nursing at the Los Angeles General hospital at Los Angeles, California and has returned to her home here. At present, Miss Williams is employed at the W. H. Bohnenkamp home as special nurse for little Billy Bohnenkamp, who has been very ill, but is somewhat improved now.

Hindman Baby Recovering—Little Billy Hindman, who has been very ill at Orland, Cal., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hindman, of Elgin, stopped on their automobile tour through California, is much improved according to word received by his grandfather, W. H. Hindman, who lives near Elgin. Billy had been troubled by a throat infection.

Notified of Mother's Death—Mrs. W. A. McKendze has received word of the death of her mother, Mrs. Anna Ludvigson at her home at Salt Lake City, on Christmas day. Mrs. Ludvigson was 84 years old. The body was taken to Sterling, Utah, her former home, for burial. Mrs. Ludvigson was the widow of a Utah pioneer who was killed in the early Indian wars.

One of the largest and most attractive clearance sales will be the combination sales of the Oregon Hardware and Implement company, Hill's Department store, and the Westinhaber and Gilbert mens clothing store, which begins Saturday and will continue two weeks. The three firms are already circulating both Union and Wallawa counties and will draw from a large territory.
Many Sales Scheduled
N. K. West & Company, Inc., expects their clearance sale to be the greatest in their dealings in La Grande, giving reductions on their entire stock in both men's and women's departments. Cini's Clothing, Ash Brothers, the New York Store and The Toggery are also to stage sales in men's apparel and Futon's, dealers in ready-to-wear and military for ladies, expects their sale to result in a heavy volume of business.
Norton's kiddie shop will offer children's wear at sale values beginning Monday.
Two other sales of importance to the community will be the offering of furniture and other household articles by Carr's Furniture company and the W. H. Bohnenkamp company during the month.

room last night, which has been remodelled completely.
Besides the passage of the gambling ordinance, the commissioners voted to accept an offer made by the Eastern Oregon Light and Power company to stand the expenses of sending the La Grande fire chief to a meeting of electrical inspectors in Portland in January. The same offer has been accepted by the Baker council.
"We feel that there is no impropriety in our bearing such expense because inspectors are rarely called upon to inspect our work," J. P. Lottridge, vice president and manager, writes. "We assure you that in making this offer we have in mind only the betterment of general wiring practice."
Glyde H. Seitz was granted an extension of time on his contract to provide and place filtration rock at the sewage disposal plant until March 15.
A suggestion was made that the commission draw up for passage an ordinance governing the sale of milk in La Grande. This was laid upon the table for future consideration.
