HUSKIES LOSE TO ALABAMANS

ROSE BOWL, PASADENA, Cal. (AP)—University of Alabama's football team, the champion of the south, passed and pushed to triumph here Friday against University of Washington's Huskies, champions of the Pacific coast, and wrote the south's first pigskin victory in the far west all over the New Year's day Rose Bowl. The score:

Alabama 20, Washington 15. George Wilson, Washington's great all-American halfback and his tower of strength crashed near the end of the second period and with him went the Husky hopes as he was taken injured from the field.

He came back in the last quarter, but too late. The Tuscaloosa team had seen and seized its opportunity. Under the brilliant field generalship of Pooley Hubert, the lads from Dixie crowded enough scoring into a small portion of the third period to carry off the game.

With the reckless abandon of an almost forlorn hope they threw the throttle open and cut the Husky defense to ribbons with a dazzling succession of passes, run and bucks.

Hubert, here there and everywhere, Johnny Mack Brown, close at his heels for the honors of victory, hunted the ball across the Purple line twice in rapid succession and threw Buckler added the extra point.

On the third he failed to clear the bar.

Makes Record Pass

The Crimson Tide came out of the south as a team of tremendous passing. It made good and more. Pooley Hubert threw one of 85 yards that paved the way for Alabama's second score and in doing it he wiped from the record books the great heave of Trick Muller, 57 yards, made back in 1921 when the Bears beat Ohio State.

From that point the Husky defense crumbled and the Crimson attack gained speed.

Washington went to the field favorites in the betting of the crowd of upwards of 50,000. Alabama came on out-weighted in the line and in the backfield, but the under dog romped to victory.

The Crimson passes, which failed completely in the first half of the game, wrecked the Husky defense in the third stand.

Gutormen's almost always dependable toe failed in the pinches, when his kick for goal went wide in the first quarter. His next attempt hit the bar and as it turned out, this lost the game.

Alabama registered 267 yards from scrimmage as compared with Washington's 319. The Crimson made 16 first downs and the Purple 12.

Farms in Umatilla Increase
PENDLETON, Ore.—The disinclination of having made a gain in the number of farms during the period from 1920 until 1923, when practically all of the counties of eastern Washington and eastern Oregon showed losses, is held by Umatilla county, as disclosed by the report of the department of commerce. During the five-year period Umatilla farms increased from 2353 to 2444, a gain of 131.

Billy Evans Says:

Stanley Harris won the American league pennant last season by adhering strictly to a policy he decided upon in the spring. Inability to continue such a system cost him the world series.

While looking the Nationals over at Tampa, Fla., last spring, discussion of Washington's veteran pitching staff came up.

"I am banking strongly on Coveleskie and Johnson," said Harris. "I know they are old and must have plenty of rest. I intend to give it to them."

"Neither will be called upon for relief work and they will always get four and when possible five days rest between starts."

From start to finish Harris adhered to that policy. There were times when Coveleskie or Johnson sent in as relief pitcher would have saved a game, but Harris was playing a bigger hand, always looking into the future.

In the world series of only seven games this was impossible. After a great start the two veterans faltered at the finish.

Lack of proper rest played havoc with the veteran Washington pitchers when the pinch came. It cost the series.

BREAKS OF GAME.

In baseball Pitcher Stanley Coveleskie has always been known as a hard luck guy. Even in the off-season the baseball fates have been unkind to him.

Coveleskie is one of those pitchers who loses when he holds the opposition to one run because his teammates are blanked in every inning.

The lucky fellow is the pitcher, who when he allows six runs is fortunate enough to get plenty of helping help from his teammates and have them make seven or more runs.

The breaks always seem to go against Coveleskie, yet he has prospered. His success has been due to the old determination regardless of the breaks plus the most effective kind of pitching.

Last season after Coveleskie was generally considered as through he put on a great comeback with Washington, having one of the best years of his career.

When the American league averages were recently published it showed Penneck as the most effective pitcher in the league with Coveleskie second. For a week Penneck received much credit for his fine work with a second place club.

Then after the edge had been taken off the honor it was discovered that Coveleskie was the real leader by the margin of one-hundredth of an earned run per game.

WARD'S SLUMP.

It is next to impossible to explain slumps in baseball. Sometimes they are confined to batting at other times to fielding, while often there is a general let down.

Dave Shade Scores Victory Over Todd

NEW YORK (AP)—Dave Shade of California scored a decisive victory over Roland Todd, English middle-weight, in a 16-round bout, the feature on the New Year's card at Madison Square Garden Friday night. Shade did everything but knockout his English opponent. He floored him for a count of two in the third round but the Englishman remained vertical during the remainder of the fight despite Shade's tremendous punching power.

EUREKA FLY FARMER DEAD

WALLA, WALLA, — Joseph Soule, 78, one of the early farmers of Eureka, Flat district died. A native of Canada, he came to the United States when a boy, and in 1882 moved to Walla Walla from Ohio, taking up land in Flat. Twenty-five years ago he was able to retire and has made his home here since. He never married.

James H. Barges, 52, died recently, leaving his widow and 10 children. He was a native of Iowa and had lived here about 15 years.

In all departments of play. The fact that the New York Americans have announced that Second Baseman Ward is on the market, occasions the above thought.

In 1924, Ward was perhaps the most valuable second baseman in the American league, not harring the great Eddie Collins. After years of being just a good player he appeared to have reached the great class.

Last season Ward had one of the poorest years of his career. Doped to show the way to American league second sackers, a general slump hit his play from which he never recovered.

Ward is still young as athletes go and it is hard to believe that the slump he experienced last season is a permanent one.

INDIAN YOUTH RECEIVING AID

BIRMINGHAM, N. D. (AP)—North Dakota's last frontier is fading as the new generation of native Indians is taught the habits and benefits of the white man's life. Through the Indian girls in the government school here, of which Clark B. Dickinson is head, the uplift of the Indian family is being attempted.

Substantial houses already have replaced the tepee as the home of Indians living on North Dakota reservations. A knowledge of sanitation is helping to increase their life spans, said Mr. Dickinson.

At the school, where 125 girls are taught domestic science and household arts in addition to subjects ordinarily in the grade school curriculum, special emphasis is laid on those things which the adult Indian needs most to know about his living.

"It is hard to induce the old-time Indian to sleep with windows open, but we teach the girls here to do it," Dickinson declared. "Some of them continue the practice after they have returned to their own people."

"Of course the tendency is for the girls to fall back into the ways of their people rather than for the old folks to adopt the methods which the white man has taught the new generation. Like white people they are inclined to follow the line of least resistance. But by persistent training we will elevate them.

"The Indian has come a long way. Imagine the plight of the white man if the civilization in which he had always lived were obliterated and he found himself forced to meet the conditions of an Indian civilization. The white man has expected too much of the Indian. I am sure that our red brother will eventually find himself and arrive at a place where he will be able to take care of himself, but it will take time."

Bar Women's Bare Knees on Stage

BIRMINGHAM, (AP)—Birmingham is the only city in England where women's bare knees are barred on the stage. The Sunderland municipal censor committee has with drawn a restriction, imposed two years ago, prohibiting women artists appearing in Sunderland theatres unless their limbs were covered with stockings or lights. This leaves Birmingham alone still enforcing its stage reform act which came into force some sixteen years ago.
