SPORT NEWS

WRESTLER MAY LOCATE HERE

August Busch, wrestler, of Salt Lake City, is thinking seriously of locating in La Grande. It is announced here by many fans who have been in touch with him.

Ep Hoyt, Pendleton sports writer and wrestling enthusiast, gives him a glowing report.

In a letter written to Jess Tryon, of this city, Ep says: "Busch is a real wrestler, a college man (O. A. C.) and a gentleman and anything you can do for him in helping him get started at La Grande will be duly appreciated."

"Busch took Ray McCarroll, his and will have some big houses there."

Has Good Record.

Busch is a matman of no mean ability, according to clippings from western newspapers. He has gained draws with Ira Dorn and Billy Edwards in Salt Lake City and has beaten Mike Yokel, August Sept, Frank Saxon, Morie Christensen, Jack Reed, Charles Deubenderfer and Sam Clapham. He lost a last bout to Al Karasick, who recently dethroned Ted Thye. During the war Busch was light heavyweight champion of the A. E. F.

Many of the fans here feel that the location of Busch in La Grande would practically mean the making of the sport here, and are extending every effort to get things lined up.

HOREMANS TO DEFEND TITLE

CHICAGO (AP)—Edouard Horemans of Belgium, first foreigner to hold the 18.2 ball line billiards championship in two decades, and Young Jake Schaefer, the son of a champion and himself twice former champion, will be the principals in a 1500 point contest for the crown starting tonight in historic Orchestra Hall.

Horemans recently dethroned Schaefer in the most sensational contest ever developed by struggles for the 18.2 crown, winning a 1500 point match spread over three nights of play by the score of 1500 to 1435.

The champion and challenger decided to postpone consideration of a referee until they arrive here for tonight's contest. Since the last match they both have been on exhibition tours, Schaefer pairing with Willie Hoppe of New York, who held the championship nearly twenty years, and Horemans with Leopold, the Dutch champion.

The two men are of opposing types. Horemans is near 40 and several years older than Schaefer. He is short, stout, curly-haired and left handed. Schaefer is of the greyhound type, sleek haired, and handles his cue in the orthodox manner.

LEWIS, ADAMS TO FIGHT HERE

Irish Lewis, 174-pound leather pusher, will meet Del Adams, Boise, Ida., heavyweight here in the main event of a boxing card to be held January 15 under the auspices of the La Grande Athletic association. It is announced today.

Adams has several good fights to his credit, including decisions over Rocky Strangala of Portland, Al Summers, of Enterprise, and Potter, who fought in the opening card of the season here last month.

Preliminary bouts will be arranged in the near future.

Further, however, in that Horemans takes a full grasp of the butt of his cue, while Schaefer holds his with the thumb and first two fingers.

Horemans is a master of the open table, while Schaefer excels at shot-making. Horemans in addition is a marvel at mass shots, although Schaefer, while not resorting to them as frequently as Horemans, also uses that difficult stratagem with precision.

The name of the game, 18.2 ball line, comes from the fact a chalk mark is drawn the length and breadth of the table eighteen inches out from each rail, and inside that line only two shots may be counted before one of the balls must be driven across the line.

An "open table game" is a series of shots made with all the balls grouped more than 18 inches from the rails. Masters of that shot do not move the balls more than a tiny fraction of an inch. It requires rare delicacy of touch.

Only Six Played in Every 1925 American League Game

CHICAGO (AP)—Box scores of the American league during the 1925 season contained the names of 264 players. Only six of this number had the distinction of playing in every game during the year.

According to statistics compiled here, 188 players participated in fifteen or more games, while 76 were credited with participation in less than fifteen games. The six players who went through without missing a game were Joe Sewell of the Cleveland Indians; Sam Rice, Washington; Al Simmons, Philadelphia Athletics; Bibb Bask, Chicago White Sox; Bob Meusel, New York Yankees, and Marty McManus, St. Louis Browns.

The Boston and Detroit clubs were the only ones that failed to have a player participate in all of their games.
