Mr. Ingle, Miss Perry Wed in Seattle

Somewhat of a surprise to his many La Grande friends was the announcement of the recent marriage in Seattle, Washington, of Clayton N. Ingle to Miss Leone Perry. Miss Perry is the daughter of Mrs. Lillian Perry of Seattle and for some time held a position in the veterans bureau of Portland.

Mr. Ingle is the youngest son of Mrs. Stella Ingle and brother of Dr. J. L. Ingle of this city. After graduating from the local high school in 1917 he enlisted in the Oregon unit of the 42d division and served in the World war for two years. He received his training for a civil engineer at the University of Oregon and the Oregon Agricultural college, and is a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. For the past year he has been employed by the engineering firm of Thomas and McHenry of Portland in taking topography for making contour maps of timber lands in Northern California and Southern Oregon.

The wedding was a very quiet one, only relatives and close friends being present. The rooms were prettily decorated with greens and baskets of roses and fresh. The bride was attended by Miss Elton Hamner and Edith Perry was best man. After the marriage ceremony Mrs. Perry, mother of the bride, sang "Because" by D'Harletot.

The wedding dinner was served with covers laid for sixteen, after which Mr. and Mrs. Ingle left for a short trip to Vancouver, B. C. For the present they will make home in Seattle.

Club Members Hear Musical Program

A goodly crowd of Neighborhood club members who gathered at the library building Tuesday afternoon for the first regular meeting of the new year were charmed with a musical program arranged for their enjoyment by the president, Mrs. C. H. Seranton. The musical recital was a study of "The Crown of Sylvester Bonnard," under Miss Margaret Bonnard's direction, which had to be postponed to a later meeting when the leader left about three weeks ago for the east.

Mrs. George Birnie, chairman of the literary division of the club, announced the numbers. First were two piano duets by Mrs. E. L.

Small Felt

The small felt hats which refuse to leave the fashion field are developing all sorts of whims. This one, from Reiboux, Paris, shows what happens when felt decides to drape itself, instead of conforming to the strictly tailored lines that it used to follow. It is of a curious shade known this season as phantom red.

Home and Miss Gladys Miller, who played Brahms' "Hungarian Dance," and "March" by Gade. Paul Knutson sang "Tommy Lad" and an encore.

"My Mother's Wedding Gown" was a musical reading given by Miss Malia Doty, who actually wore the dress in which her mother was married. A quaint blue silk model, with a train, and bunches of lace at the neck and sleeves, the costume created an infant sympathy for the theme of the selection. Miss Miller, at the piano, and Mrs. Florence Lynch Miller, with her violin, were also joined in the period of their youths.

Concluding numbers were vocal solos by Mrs. A. L. Richardson, who sang, "To Be Near You" (Coot), and "Come Unto the Yellow Sands," the words of which are taken from Shakespeare's "The Tempest." The soloist responded to an encore with Mary Helen Brown's song, "A Plaine."

After the program, the members were invited to remain for sandwiches, coffee and tea. Mrs. W. H. Allstott and Mrs. C. C. Pennington presided at the urns.

Wedding Is Announced Here

Mrs. Willis Moss of this city has received word of the marriage of her sister, Mrs. Minnie Grandin to W. M. Congdon in Portland last Sunday, January 3. Mrs. Grandin made La Grande her home until about three years ago, when she moved to Portland. She has many friends in this section of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Congdon will make their home in Portland.

Art Department Will Meet Thursday

Mrs. Frank B. Appleby will open her home to the members of the Neighborhood club Thursday afternoon for the meeting of the art department, scheduled to convene at 7:15 o'clock.

The study program, with the hostess as leader, centers around a group of American artists, including Tryon, under whom Mrs. Appleby has been a pupil. The leader will continue her review of Alvah

Parsons' book on "Interior Decoration"

Auxiliary Entertains At Measuring Party

Mrs. Martha Fox became a member of the ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen last evening when they met for their regular lodge session. Mrs. John Adskim, president of the auxiliary, presided over the meeting.

Following lodge the auxiliary entertained the members of the B. of R. T. and their families at a social. The entertainment was in the form of a measuring party and prizes were awarded to Charles Stoop, the tallest man present; C. E. Happersett, the shortest man; Mrs. C. Waldorf, the shortest woman and Mrs. Orin Lowry, the tallest woman.

A short program was given consisting of a piano solo by Miss Clara Coughenover, a dance by Miss Mildred Arnett and a piano number by Miss Lela Warner. Little Miss Arnett wore a costume sent to her by her brother from Honolulu.

After the program dancing was enjoyed for an hour followed by a banquet. About 75 were present.

The B. of R. T. announced that it would give a banquet for the ladies auxiliary January 20.

Juliet Club Members Enjoy Theater Party

Eleven members of the Juliet club enjoyed a theater party last evening at the Arcade theater, where Norma Talmadge was playing in "Graustark." The club meets once every two weeks for a social meeting.

Sister Mary Says:

Breakfast—Apple sauce, cereal, top milk, broiled bacon, plain cereal, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Scalloped lamb, rice bread, currant jelly, sliced oranges, drop cookies, milk tea.

Dinner—Casserole of rabbit, mashed potatoes, creamed cauliflower, curly endive with French dressing, graham bread, pineapple jelly with whipped cream, plain sponge cake, milk, coffee.

The luncheon dish of lamb is made from the fragments of meat left from the roast of the preceding dinner.

If the bread and jelly are made into sandwiches to serve with the hot dish the meal is simplified.

Scalloped Lamb

One to two cups chopped cooked lamb, 8 cups cooked rice, 1 1/2 cups tomato sauce, buttered crumbs.

The proportions in a left-over dish always depend to a great extent on just how much is "left-over." However, as less than one cup of chopped meat would not serve four persons by any stretch of the imagination one cup of chopped meat is used as the minimum and as up to two cups of meat can be used if available with two cups of cooked rice this latitude in the amount of meat required for the dish is suggested.

Put a layer of rice in a well-buttered baking dish, add a layer of meat and continue layer for layer until all is used. Pour over tomato sauce. Bake in a moderately hot oven until browned on top.

To make the tomato sauce rub 2 cups of canned tomatoes through coarse sieve. Melt 2 tablespoons butter and 1 small onion cut in several gashes and stuck with 4 cloves. Sauté five minutes and remove onion. Stir in 1 scant tablespoon flour. Season with 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Add tomato juice and bring to the boiling point. Boil stirring constantly for two minutes.

Says Grapejuice Thirst and Not Wine Increased Prices

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan grapegrower has been a child beneficiary of prohibition, not because of a demand for grapes for wine-making, but because of the creation of a national thirst for grapejuice, said Scraphin Bruno, a well known grower of western Michigan. His views found concrete evidence from most of the growers visiting the Detroit market.

Grape prices have soared since prohibition almost entirely due to increased demand from grapejuice manufacturers, Bruno asserted. Winemakers in the old days seldom paid more than $60 a ton. The price last fall was $90 and more.

"There is some winemaking, I presume," Mr. Bruno said, "but grapegrowers know, through their experience from most of the growers visiting the Detroit market, that it is kiddy grapejuice that has done the business in the Detroit market."
