JUDGES FAVOR PROPOSED LAW

CHICAGO, (AP)—Five Cook County judges, in a state which had the second largest number of divorces, are unanimous in commending the federal divorce bill, inasmuch as it attempts to introduce uniform divorce laws throughout the nation.

The bill, introduced by Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, allows only five causes for divorce—unfaithfulness, cruelty, desertion for a year, insanity and conviction of a felony.

The Chicago jurists, who have heard approximately 15,000 divorce petitions filed in this district alone in the last five years suggest modifications and amendments to the Capper bill.

Judge Harry A. Lewis, who abandoned longtime divorce seekers some time ago by declaring he would grant no alimony to women in good health who had no children, went into some detail in proposing improvements on the Senate bill.

"The strongest proof should be required for the charges of cruelty and insanity, which are causes for divorce in the bill," he said. "Fraud is likely to creep into such cases."

Judge Joseph Salath expressed approval of an amendment which would require the prospective bride and bridegroom to give two weeks' notice before they could obtain a marriage license. This plan has worked out successfully in Europe, he said.

The other judges are John L.

Sullivan, Thomas J. Lynch and John R. Caverly. The latter presided at the Loch-Leopold murder trial.

Illinois, with 12,858 divorces in 1924, according to a compilation by the department of commerce, was exceeded only by Texas, which had a total of 15,375 divorces. Total divorces for the United States for 1924 were 176,867, an increase of 2.5 per cent over 1923.

While they are arguing rail mergers why not merge a couple of Pullman berths so a passenger can stretch his legs?

Just because the paper says it is going to be warmer that's no sign it is going to be colder.

"One husband too many" reads a headline. Yes, one often is.

American juries have demonstrated the fact that the unpardonable sin is a myth.

Coach Bill Roper of Princeton, who is also a member of the Philadelphia city council, spoke his mind the other day about General Butler's dismissal. In council meeting he said, "In the published correspondence General Butler has made the assertion that he was summarily fired because of his insistence on prosecuting rich and powerful violators of the law as well as the poor and humble who are unfortunate enough to break it. Mr. Chairman, I merely want to say that, in my opinion, the mayor is playing with dynamite. The public official who arrests and harasses the poor and lowly and cringes to the power and influence of the rich will not last long in office." From which remark we would assume that "Bill" is of the opinion that there is something crooked in Denmark, something that won't make for good homes and clean youth and star football players. He is right—and Philadelphia isn't through with its cleanup program in spite of its present mayor.

"What's de name of dis infant?" demanded the colored parson, who was officiating at the christening of Mirandy's latest offspring.

"Her name an Opium Bezzam," was the firm reply.

The parson protested: "Opium ain't no fit name for a gal!"

"Well, it fits dis gal," said Mirandy. "For dey say opium comes from wild poppy, and dis child's poppy slunk an' wild."

Jerusalem's Water Supply Comes Solely From Rainfall
 JERUSALEM, (AP)—Jerusalem must depend for its domestic and sanitary water requirements on the annual rainfall. Some winters this is inadequate for the daily consumption of between a half and one million gallons. When the supply runs short the water is rationed.

PRICES THAT ARE RIGHT

The question as to what are right prices dates back many centuries. No doubt under the shadow of the pyramids of Egypt the seller and the buyer argued often on whether the price tag told a lie. In different periods men have had different ways of arriving at what they considered right prices. It is held that previous to the latter part of the nineteenth century the moral side of this question was given more consideration than it receives today when price is regarded perhaps too much an economic question.

We should fare ill, however, if so large an element as the moral element is felt to be, were left out of consideration. The economist may look on our social order as an industrial mechanism, but he will have difficulty in persuading the vast majority of our citizens that there is not a right and wrong even in matters that pertain to price.

Popular opinion is likely to agree with that of an expert who recently defined right prices as "prices which will make goods move." The mere possession of a commodity does not always give the possessor the right to charge whatever he pleases. He may charge all the traffic will bear, but the public has of late taken a somewhat wholesome interest in seeing to it that the traffic isn't made to bear too much. As a result, modern prices are more and more reasonable and fair to both buyer and seller.

As the public becomes more and more exacting in its demands that prices shall be right, it becomes more and more the problem of the seller to convince the buyer of the reasonableness of his prices. As long as we can maintain flexible and competitive markets free from artificial control, it will be increasingly difficult for the seller to push goods at any but the right price.

When you entertain at home—and the sumptuous feast has been greeted with royal praise by the laughing, pledging friends—have a Camel!

WHEN invited guests come in for dinner. And the festive board resounds with joyous words of friendship. When the primest feast ever served is finished—then, how welcome are those words of hospitality—"Have a Camel!"

For no other cigarette was ever so fitly smoked and served to others as Camel. Camel goodness insures a fitting climax to every perfect spread, adds of its own fragrant welcome to every home's bright occasions. Camels are made of the choicest tobaccos grown in all the world. They never tire the taste, never leave a cigarette after-taste. Fragrance and mellowness have made Camel the greatest word in all the history of smoking.

So this night, as you learn anew the joys of giving happiness to others. As after-dinner laughter rings out through all the house—know then the pleasures of smoking and serving the finest. You may be doubly sure that every good feature is rolled into Camels that anyone ever searched for in a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skillful blending. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No finer cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.
