STRIKE IS MADE 806 FEET DOWN
Mr. Crews states that arrangements will be made to fit up a pump as quickly as possible in order to determine just how much water the well will produce. Hope is held that the output will be adequate as there is no way of knowing yet the hopes are without concrete backing.
Water's Temperature 50 Degrees
We have water, there is no question about that," states Mr. Crews, "but how much is a question. The present task of the city is to ascertain whether the well will produce enough from yesterday's strike to augment the regular supply to the extent necessary. The water still muddy, has a temperature of 50 degrees but whether any mineral matter exists is not known. One thing is certain, drilling activity will not begin again until tests are made. If we find that the flow is not sufficient, the casing will be sunk until we find water in the volume we need."

Arrangements for the pumping test will take some time but will be expedited as much as possible. Some time ago members of the well drilling force, experts in the work, expressed confidence that water would be struck, and the discovery yesterday bears out their contentions. At the time of their statements they were of the opinion that the site is one of the most favorable in the Grande Ronde valley. The well work is in the hands of A. A. Durland, of Walla Walla, who has supplied many municipalities in the northwest with well water in sufficient quantities to satisfy consumption needs.

an church. He was one of the founders of St. John's Lutheran church of Philadelphia. With the election of Benjamin Franklin as president of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Muhlenberg was made vice president.
As a member of the Philadelphia convention which formulated the federal constitution on September 17, 1787, and on March 4, 1789, when the first congress assembled in New York city, Muhlenberg took a leading part in the proceedings. He also was a member of the third congress and was elected again to the sixth. In 1801 he was chosen United States senator but resigned to become supervisor of internal revenue in Pennsylvania. President Jefferson appointed him collector of the port of Philadelphia in 1802, a position he held until death, October 1, 1807.
Representative Harrison of Virginia has introduced a bill in congress providing $25,000 for the erection of a monument here to Muhlenberg's memory.

WOULD SAVE RIVERS FOR FISHERMEN

"I would forever banish commercial fish plants if I could have my way," Mr. Hunter stated. "No one has the right to commercialize the fish meant for the whole population of the state."

Compagnons Club.
Mr. Hunter, before closing, complimented the club upon its past activity, especially its assistance in the propagation of game fish through the support of the hatchery movement, and the active part it has taken in procuring game legislation.
Officers Elected.
The nominating committee returned the following list, which was unanimously adopted by those present:
Oscar Porch, president.
Dr. R. P. Landis, vice president.
C. E. Kingsley, secretary and treasurer.
J. B. Smith, L. M. Hoyt, H. E. Coolidge, Judge J. W. Knowles, and E. J. Green, directors.

Officers were declared elected and the toastmaster, Mr. Coolidge, paid a high compliment to the regime of the former executives.
A report by Secretary L. B. Hannafield showed that all debts had been paid during his incumbency and that a small surplus was on hand, including the proceeds of last night's banquet, which was ably prepared and served by the M. E. Ladies. He declared that the membership had increased from 35 to nearly 200. He urged the retention and maintenance of the trapshooting grounds near Lone Tree, which, he said, have been already sources of profit and pleasure for the club and its members.

Rules and regulations governing the fish contest next June were read and a motion was moved, seconded and carried, calling for the appointment of a fish committee to consider them.
Resolution Adopted.
A resolution of protest against the advance in prices of cartridges and shells and other sporting goods was adopted. The resolution declared that, added to the 10 per cent war tax on guns and ammunition imposed by the government, the new prices are unjust.
During the meeting several prominent members of the club spoke briefly.

Mr. Walden made clear his favor for a fish hatchery in Wallawa county and called attention to the fact that less violations of the game laws occurred during 1925. "I made 15 arrests and got 14 convictions," he said.
Judge J. W. Knowles concurred with Mr. Walden in reference to the game violations. "I believe there were less violations last year than ever before," he said. "I judge I raised both Mr. Walden and Mr. Averill."

Favors Change in Seasons
Changes in two game seasons were advocated by Mr. Knowles.

Twenty-five Christians met at the Salvation Army hall under the leadership of Ensign and Mrs. J. C. Barker last evening to pray for success of the revival campaign that was commenced Saturday evening.
Tonight the meeting will be in charge of the Rev. J. A. Hall, of the South M. E. church. And on succeeding evenings, other pastors of the city will lend their assistance and influence.

The meetings carry a general invitation. They will be held each night of the coming three or four weeks except on Mondays, when prayer services will be conducted in behalf of the campaign.

The section of the grain trading act taxing pits and calls was held unconstitutional.
Senator Brookhart was asked to argue his election case by the senate elections subcommittee.

ARMY DEALS OUT DEATH TO BANDITS
night, gave the Associated Press a graphic account of the ghastly affair. He was the first survivor to reach Mexico City.
"I saw nine soldier guards dead," he said. "I believe all the guards and most of the crew were killed. The number of murdered Mexican passengers I do not know, but some of my companions estimated the dead all the way from 20 to 50."

"About dark Saturday I noticed 20 suspicious-looking men carrying rifles concealed under their cloaks, who boarded the train as passengers at a small station near Guadalajara. Presently they stationed themselves at the doors of the coaches and without warning opened fire upon the passengers in the second and third-class coaches. They continued firing without mercy, killing many of the passengers and all of the soldier guards."

Women Passengers Slain.
"I saw several dead Mexican women and children, in addition to men, how many I do not know. It was a ruthless massacre and a most terrible sight. Even now I can hardly believe that such an awful thing happened.
"I doubt if anybody will ever accurately know the number of dead and wounded. I saw wounded men die, and others died instantly. I saw one aged woman writhing in horrible agony, her body shot open. I saw a little baby shot through the heart. I saw bodies so burned as to be almost indistinguishable from the charred timbers of the coaches. Altogether it was a perfect nightmare of incredibly wanton blood-thirstiness.
"The sole and only mercy, which I cannot explain, was shown to foreigners. Not a foreigner was killed. A number of Germans in the train, together with passengers of other nationalities, escaped unhurt. We are all bustling, but thank God we got away alive."

He stated that in his opinion the grouse season opens too late and that the pleasant shooting season is too long.
Before adjournment Charles H. Ryan responded to a request by the toastmaster with a short talk, teeming with humor.
Members of the club present are of the opinion that last night's feat was one of the most successful in the history of the organization.

Obituary
HOWARD PIERSON
Howard Pierson, one of the younger ex-service men of La Grande, died at the Livermore government hospital in California yesterday, according to a message received here by members of his family.
The body is to be brought to this city for burial. Funeral arrangements are pending word from the hospital.

Mrs. Pierson, the young widow of the deceased, who during his illness, has been attending normal school at Monmouth, is on her way to La Grande with the two children, Shirley, four, and Wheeler, who will soon be three. His mother, Mrs. T. E. Pierson, of Adams, also sends word that she will come here.
Surviving brothers and sisters include Mrs. L. E. Salladay, of Twin Falls; Mrs. Frances Horlman, of Kamela; Miss Lola Pierson, who teaches at Adams; Leslie Pierson, of Panama; Ray of Portland; Kenneth, of Adams; Irwin and Gerald, of La Grande.
Howard Pierson was born at Albion, Ind., December 2, 1899. He came to this city about 12 years ago and attended La Grande schools, graduating from the high school. He enrolled at Oregon Agricultural college and was enlisted there in the Students' Army Training corps.
Even at that time he was not strong. About a year ago his condition became so grave that he was sent to the hospital at Walla Walla, and from there he was transferred in September to the Livermore hospital, where he finally succumbed to a lingering disease.
