

Dependable
Westenhaver & Gilbert
 Style Leaders -- 204 Depot Street.

Religious Services
On Program Sunday

The following religious programs will be broadcast Sunday, Jan. 17: Mountain Time Stations.

CPAC, Calgary, Can. (435.8)— 11 a. m., First Baptist church.
W.F.P., Colorado Springs, Colo. (230)— 7:30-9 p. m., First Methodist church services.
KOA, Denver, Colo. (322.4)— 11 a. m., First Congregational church; 5 p. m., organ recital; 7:30, First Congregational church.

Pacific Time Stations.
KRON, Long Beach, Cal. (232.4)— 8-9, service, First Church of Christ, Scientist.
KGO, Oakland, Cal. (361.2)— 11 a. m., First M. E. church; 7:30 p. m., First M. E. church.
KGW, Portland, Ore. (491.5)— 10:25-12 noon, service, Presbyterian; 7:30-9, religious service, Congregational.
KHJ, Los Angeles, Cal. (405.2)— 7:30-9, service, First M. E. church; 11-12:30, service, First M. E. church; 7:30-9, service.
KNS, Hollywood, Cal. (336.9)— 7-9, First Presbyterian church.
KPO, San Francisco, Cal. (428.3)— 9:45-10:45 a. m., undenominational and non-sectarian church service.
KYAH, Oakland, Cal. (240)— 9:45-10:45 a. m., Bible lecture; 7:30-9, church service; 9:30-11, after service concert.

10 Years Ago Today--

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Scriber were hosts to the Pinochle club.

- Tally Cards
- Playing Cards
- Game Counters
- Bridge Pads
- Trump Indicators
- Prizes and Favors
- At The

L. & L. Drug Co.

Winter's Rainbow
 for Foley's Honey and Tar Coughs Colds
Quick Relief For Old and Young

Release the Pressure!

A simple mechanical operation, that, and that alone will give to the imprisoned impulses free flow to the dis-eased (not ease) part of the human body and restore health to the parts. The human mechanic, the is trained by three years of intensive training to find these occluded nerves along the spinal cord, and to adjust the misaligned vertebrae back into their normal positions. This is the secret of health. If you are sick have the pressure released along the spinal column and get well and happy.

Chiropractor

F. L. TRIBE, D. C. Ph. C.

New Foley Bldg (Palmer Graduate) PHONE 126-W
 Office Hours: 9 to 5; 7 to 8

SHERRY'S
 SUNDAY And MONDAY

Norma Shearer and Lew Cody

"His Secretary"

With WILLARD LOUIS

The Romance of a Business Man and His Secretary
 Comedy—"Tame Men and Wild Women"

LAST SHOWING TONIGHT

Bob Custer

—In—

"The Texas Bearcat"

Comedy — "Maid in Morocco"

Will Observe Thrift Week In Churches

General Recognition to Be Given Movement in Sunday Services in La Grande.

Thrift week, which begins January 17, in honor of the birthday anniversary of Benjamin Franklin, the great teacher of thrift, will be given general recognition in the services of La Grande churches tomorrow. Inspiration brought home to the church of the Nazarenes by its pastor from the convention this week at Nampa, Ind., a Sunday school rally and a corporate communion service at St. Peter's Episcopal, preparations for an indoor institute of the young people at Island City Community, and a Bible reading contest at the church of God are among the features that lend interest to the day's program.

The Rev. George Albert Pollard, who is observing thrift week in his morning service, will talk to the little folk on the theme, "The Religion of Thrift." His sermon to the adult congregation will be "Our Stewardship." Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a. m., the classes assembling immediately. Closing assembly is called at 10:20.

Evening worship at 7:30 o'clock will include a sermon on "The Return Trip," the pastor announces. Church of the Nazarene.

Returning from the ministerial convention of the denomination at Nampa, Ind., the Rev. L. D. Meggers will bring his congregation a message of inspiration and encouragement. Laymen who are encouraging the meeting will also have reports to make.

The N. Y. P. S. meeting at 8:20 o'clock will be led by Miss Verla McFane. An evangelistic sermon will be preached by the pastor in the evening.

Fifteen of the 55 children who entered the Bible reading contest in November have finished the New Testament, and a number of others are nearly through. In all, 659 books have been read, or the equivalent of reading the Bible 19 times through with 29 books over.

The Bible reading contest started at the church of God only a few weeks ago, yet many of the youngsters are already almost through with the New Testament. A five-dollar gold piece is promised the one who finishes first. It is expected that some will have completed the reading by tomorrow. Each child will be awarded in some manner.

Sunday school attendance is increasing, reports the pastor, Claude C. Pratt, who adds that the general interest in all services shows a steady growth. The church school hour is 10 a. m., with the morning service following at 11 o'clock. There is a children's meeting at 8:20 p. m., and a service for adults at 7:30.

Island City Community. The young people of the Island City Community church are making preparations for the indoor institute that will begin there January 26. A fine faculty has been prepared. A part of each evening will be devoted to games and fun making. They have their regular meetings at 7 p. m., and are continuing their study of the Mexican problem as it appears in the United States. Howard Smith will lead the discussion of chapter No. 2, tomorrow.

For divine service at 11 a. m., the pastor, the Rev. Hal K. Wallis, will deliver a sermon on "Christ and Nihilism." The second of a series on the life of the Christ. Sunday school will be at 10 a. m. Girls of the Queen Esther club will assist with the service at 3 p. m.

St. Peter's Episcopal. Corporate communion of the daughters of the King and the service of the Holy Eucharist in the chapel are announced for 8 a. m., at St. Peter's Episcopal church. The church school will have a rally at 9:45 a. m., with a special sermon by the pastor, the Rev. Otto R. Hays.

His sermon at 11 a. m., the pastor will use the topic, "The Testing Christ." His evening subject will be "The Doctrine of Jesus."

Central Church of Christ. "The Need and Value of the Christian College" is the subject of the first sermon in a series to be commenced by the Rev. V. W. Dean at the morning service tomorrow for the purpose of preparing the church for a canvass for the support of the year's work. Mrs. J. J. Kitchen will sing a solo, "Did You Think to Kiss?" Men of the church will meet at the close of morning worship, the purpose of the gathering to be explained at that time.

Evening worship will be at 7:30 o'clock, with a sermon by the pastor on the subject, "The Keys of the Kingdom." He has prepared a chart for illustration. Fifteen minutes will be devoted to the singing of old hymns. A solo will be by Mrs. William Crosby. Hymns will bring a vital message. The Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a. m.

Christian Endeavor societies will meet at the usual hours of 7:30 and 6:15 p. m., inviting all young folk to join them.

The evening chorus will lead the singing for the 7:30 o'clock service, and augment the pastor's message on the prophets.

Miss Sayre Carries On God's Work

Local Girl, Despite Danger, Superintends Her School in China—Has 75 Converts.

Devotion to a God-directed purpose, though it carried her half around the world from home, separates her for years from her family and exposes her to the dangers of disease and revolution—that is the story of Geneva Sayre, who went out from La Grande in 1921 as a missionary to China.

Miss Sayre was only a little girl—15 years old, as her mother, Mrs. E. A. Sayre recalls it—when she first felt that she had been called to foreign mission work. A missionary from San Domingo was visiting at the Sayre home at the time, and to the serious minded child, she seemed to embody all the ideals of Christian service.

When she entered Monmouth Normal school after her graduation it was the determination to prepare herself for what she believed was her life work.

Leaves For China. She hadn't intended to go direct from Monmouth. Indeed, she was looking forward to a two-year course in Bible training at the Free Methodist college at Greenville, Illinois, and had even signed a contract to teach the eighth grade in a year in one of the schools near at Pendleton, when her opportunity came.

The church board needed a teacher in China immediately. Would Miss Sayre be willing to go?

She would. And in less than a month from the time she first wrote home about it, she had her wardrobe for a long sojourn in a strange land among strange people.

Of course, her parents were distressed, though they were very devoted people. (Her father had already given a number of years to the Free Methodist church as one of its ordained ministers.)

Insisted on Going. They entreated her to look upon the missionary work that needed to be done in America. She could serve God, they told her, without taking the hazardous journey—a lone girl—to a country that they felt was full of perils.

But Geneva was not to be turned from her purpose. And understanding at last that she could not conscientiously "look backward," they set to work to make her fare well visit to La Grande a happy memory.

Then came the excitement of outfitting. From the church at Portland came suites of comfortable furniture for her house, and rugs, blankets and dishes. The church board gave her money for clothes, the dozens of shoes and gowns that must last her for years at her remote destination in inland China.

The Sayre family was living in Island City then. And the neighborly women of the Community church need for days to help Geneva finish what a missionary terms her "trousseau."

Saw Mother Home. Before she sailed, Miss Sayre attended a missionary convention in California, her mother accompanying her. It was the daughter's unselfish thought that Mrs. Sayre should be seen on the train back to La Grande before Geneva's boat sailed with its hundreds of other missionaries bound for the Orient.

"I didn't see much that went on around me that day on the train," Mrs. Sayre remembers. "But Geneva's letters have been so cheery and full of contentment in her work that I have ceased to mourn and take great comfort in them."

Miss Sayre's readiness found her quick recognition among the missionaries. After attending the training school for two years, she began teaching among the children of the American missionaries now.

Although she has been in China but a little more than four years, she is superintending over a girls' boarding school, with a corps of native teachers working under her direction. She also has charge of the dormitory, where she manages the servants and superintends all work that I have ceased to mourn and take great comfort in them."

Miss Sayre's readiness found her quick recognition among the missionaries. After attending the training school for two years, she began teaching among the children of the American missionaries now.

Although she has been in China but a little more than four years, she is superintending over a girls' boarding school, with a corps of native teachers working under her direction. She also has charge of the dormitory, where she manages the servants and superintends all work that I have ceased to mourn and take great comfort in them."

Miss Sayre's readiness found her quick recognition among the missionaries. After attending the training school for two years, she began teaching among the children of the American missionaries now.

Although she has been in China but a little more than four years, she is superintending over a girls' boarding school, with a corps of native teachers working under her direction. She also has charge of the dormitory, where she manages the servants and superintends all work that I have ceased to mourn and take great comfort in them."

Miss Sayre's readiness found her quick recognition among the missionaries. After attending the training school for two years, she began teaching among the children of the American missionaries now.

Will Observe Thrift Week In Churches

General Recognition to Be Given Movement in Sunday Services in La Grande.

Thrift week, which begins January 17, in honor of the birthday anniversary of Benjamin Franklin, the great teacher of thrift, will be given general recognition in the services of La Grande churches tomorrow. Inspiration brought home to the church of the Nazarenes by its pastor from the convention this week at Nampa, Ind., a Sunday school rally and a corporate communion service at St. Peter's Episcopal, preparations for an indoor institute of the young people at Island City Community, and a Bible reading contest at the church of God are among the features that lend interest to the day's program.

The Rev. George Albert Pollard, who is observing thrift week in his morning service, will talk to the little folk on the theme, "The Religion of Thrift." His sermon to the adult congregation will be "Our Stewardship." Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a. m., the classes assembling immediately. Closing assembly is called at 10:20.

Evening worship at 7:30 o'clock will include a sermon on "The Return Trip," the pastor announces. Church of the Nazarene.

Returning from the ministerial convention of the denomination at Nampa, Ind., the Rev. L. D. Meggers will bring his congregation a message of inspiration and encouragement. Laymen who are encouraging the meeting will also have reports to make.

The N. Y. P. S. meeting at 8:20 o'clock will be led by Miss Verla McFane. An evangelistic sermon will be preached by the pastor in the evening.

Fifteen of the 55 children who entered the Bible reading contest in November have finished the New Testament, and a number of others are nearly through. In all, 659 books have been read, or the equivalent of reading the Bible 19 times through with 29 books over.

The Bible reading contest started at the church of God only a few weeks ago, yet many of the youngsters are already almost through with the New Testament. A five-dollar gold piece is promised the one who finishes first. It is expected that some will have completed the reading by tomorrow. Each child will be awarded in some manner.

Sunday school attendance is increasing, reports the pastor, Claude C. Pratt, who adds that the general interest in all services shows a steady growth. The church school hour is 10 a. m., with the morning service following at 11 o'clock. There is a children's meeting at 8:20 p. m., and a service for adults at 7:30.

Island City Community. The young people of the Island City Community church are making preparations for the indoor institute that will begin there January 26. A fine faculty has been prepared. A part of each evening will be devoted to games and fun making. They have their regular meetings at 7 p. m., and are continuing their study of the Mexican problem as it appears in the United States. Howard Smith will lead the discussion of chapter No. 2, tomorrow.

For divine service at 11 a. m., the pastor, the Rev. Hal K. Wallis, will deliver a sermon on "Christ and Nihilism." The second of a series on the life of the Christ. Sunday school will be at 10 a. m. Girls of the Queen Esther club will assist with the service at 3 p. m.

St. Peter's Episcopal. Corporate communion of the daughters of the King and the service of the Holy Eucharist in the chapel are announced for 8 a. m., at St. Peter's Episcopal church. The church school will have a rally at 9:45 a. m., with a special sermon by the pastor, the Rev. Otto R. Hays.

His sermon at 11 a. m., the pastor will use the topic, "The Testing Christ." His evening subject will be "The Doctrine of Jesus."

Central Church of Christ. "The Need and Value of the Christian College" is the subject of the first sermon in a series to be commenced by the Rev. V. W. Dean at the morning service tomorrow for the purpose of preparing the church for a canvass for the support of the year's work. Mrs. J. J. Kitchen will sing a solo, "Did You Think to Kiss?" Men of the church will meet at the close of morning worship, the purpose of the gathering to be explained at that time.

Evening worship will be at 7:30 o'clock, with a sermon by the pastor on the subject, "The Keys of the Kingdom." He has prepared a chart for illustration. Fifteen minutes will be devoted to the singing of old hymns. A solo will be by Mrs. William Crosby. Hymns will bring a vital message. The Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a. m.

Christian Endeavor societies will meet at the usual hours of 7:30 and 6:15 p. m., inviting all young folk to join them.

The evening chorus will lead the singing for the 7:30 o'clock service, and augment the pastor's message on the prophets.

Miss Sayre Carries On God's Work

Local Girl, Despite Danger, Superintends Her School in China—Has 75 Converts.

Devotion to a God-directed purpose, though it carried her half around the world from home, separates her for years from her family and exposes her to the dangers of disease and revolution—that is the story of Geneva Sayre, who went out from La Grande in 1921 as a missionary to China.

Miss Sayre was only a little girl—15 years old, as her mother, Mrs. E. A. Sayre recalls it—when she first felt that she had been called to foreign mission work. A missionary from San Domingo was visiting at the Sayre home at the time, and to the serious minded child, she seemed to embody all the ideals of Christian service.

When she entered Monmouth Normal school after her graduation it was the determination to prepare herself for what she believed was her life work.

Leaves For China. She hadn't intended to go direct from Monmouth. Indeed, she was looking forward to a two-year course in Bible training at the Free Methodist college at Greenville, Illinois, and had even signed a contract to teach the eighth grade in a year in one of the schools near at Pendleton, when her opportunity came.

The church board needed a teacher in China immediately. Would Miss Sayre be willing to go?

She would. And in less than a month from the time she first wrote home about it, she had her wardrobe for a long sojourn in a strange land among strange people.

Of course, her parents were distressed, though they were very devoted people. (Her father had already given a number of years to the Free Methodist church as one of its ordained ministers.)

Insisted on Going. They entreated her to look upon the missionary work that needed to be done in America. She could serve God, they told her, without taking the hazardous journey—a lone girl—to a country that they felt was full of perils.

But Geneva was not to be turned from her purpose. And understanding at last that she could not conscientiously "look backward," they set to work to make her fare well visit to La Grande a happy memory.

Then came the excitement of outfitting. From the church at Portland came suites of comfortable furniture for her house, and rugs, blankets and dishes. The church board gave her money for clothes, the dozens of shoes and gowns that must last her for years at her remote destination in inland China.

The Sayre family was living in Island City then. And the neighborly women of the Community church need for days to help Geneva finish what a missionary terms her "trousseau."

Saw Mother Home. Before she sailed, Miss Sayre attended a missionary convention in California, her mother accompanying her. It was the daughter's unselfish thought that Mrs. Sayre should be seen on the train back to La Grande before Geneva's boat sailed with its hundreds of other missionaries bound for the Orient.

"I didn't see much that went on around me that day on the train," Mrs. Sayre remembers. "But Geneva's letters have been so cheery and full of contentment in her work that I have ceased to mourn and take great comfort in them."

Miss Sayre's readiness found her quick recognition among the missionaries. After attending the training school for two years, she began teaching among the children of the American missionaries now.

Although she has been in China but a little more than four years, she is superintending over a girls' boarding school, with a corps of native teachers working under her direction. She also has charge of the dormitory, where she manages the servants and superintends all work that I have ceased to mourn and take great comfort in them."

Miss Sayre's readiness found her quick recognition among the missionaries. After attending the training school for two years, she began teaching among the children of the American missionaries now.

Although she has been in China but a little more than four years, she is superintending over a girls' boarding school, with a corps of native teachers working under her direction. She also has charge of the dormitory, where she manages the servants and superintends all work that I have ceased to mourn and take great comfort in them."

Miss Sayre's readiness found her quick recognition among the missionaries. After attending the training school for two years, she began teaching among the children of the American missionaries now.

Although she has been in China but a little more than four years, she is superintending over a girls' boarding school, with a corps of native teachers working under her direction. She also has charge of the dormitory, where she manages the servants and superintends all work that I have ceased to mourn and take great comfort in them."

Miss Sayre's readiness found her quick recognition among the missionaries. After attending the training school for two years, she began teaching among the children of the American missionaries now.

J. C. Penney Co.
 A NATION-WIDE INSTITUTION—
 DEPARTMENT STORES INC.
 106 Depot St., La Grande, Ore.

J. C. PENNEY CO.'S NEW BUILDING IN NEW YORK A MODERN STRUCTURE

A handsome structural testimonial to the many-sided efficacy of the chain store system of buying and selling was realized when on January second, the J. C. Penney Company moved its home offices and warehouses under the one roof of its new $1,750,000 building at 330 West 34th Street, New York.

The forward course of this chain has been minutely observed because of the fact that it is organized on a basis that is unique in the annals of mercantile pursuit. In occupying its new, modern, 18-story building in the heart of New York, it reaches an event in its history of signal and lasting importance.

The remarkable growth of the organization particularly during the last five years, has demanded larger, better and more centralized offices and warehouse. This new building fulfills those requirements.

It is fireproof throughout and equipped with the latest facilities for handling the enormous quantities of goods which will be distributed from the building to the 676 stores of the institution.

locate fields for commercial and emergency landing places. Maps and plans of these fields will be submitted to the war department for use of the army and the forest service, and also for the guidance of commercial airway companies and the mail services.

When a congressman does remember his duty to the people he can't get the others to listen.

Ask Any Of Our Customers

Who have been trading with us for years, about the kind of treatment we give them. You'll find that they are pleased with the coal we sell them—good, clean, heat-giving coal that makes the furnace hum when necessary.

And our service is as good as the coal we sell.

TRY US AND Aberdeen Coal

Sawyer-Holmes Merc. Co.
 Phone Main 17
 A good Electric Range for sale cheap.

Service That Satisfies

At the lowest possible cost.
 Cafeteria Service—select what you want.
 Everything electrically cooked under steam pressure.
 The very best at all times.

LA GRANDE'S ORIGINAL CAFETERIA FOOD SERVICE
 Bakery Dept. — Fountain Service.

Black Cat